The Canadian Farmer's Song

Let the cities proud, boast long and loud
Of their palaces fair and grand;
In the country wide, spread on every side,
Are the works of our Father's hand
Can the stifling air of the city compare
With the pure and fragrant breeze
That so merrily plays, as it stirs the leaves

Though our fate may seem to some soldiers drear
A toilsome and weary lot,
Yet peace and health are the priceless wealth
That are found in the settler's cot.
We are freemen good—not a slave ever stood
On our loved Canadian soil.
No tyrant's power can withhold for an hour
The fruits of our honest toil.

Yet calm and sweet is his rest;
Fresh he wakes from his dreams, ere the King's beams
Have shone on the blue-bird's nest.
He drinks of the rills that gush from the hills,
And the soil he tills is his own;
And as happy and free as a king is he—
Who bows but to God alone.

Though to Britain is due love, loyal and true,
Where the bones of our fathers rest

Is the land that we love the best,
 Here our sons in pride grow up side by side,
 The joy of our peaceful hours;
 And our daughters are fair as the wild flower
 That bloom in the forest bowers.

In the sugar bush blithe and free
We gather with care the life bloom rare,
That dows from the maple tree.
And we plough and sow in hope, for we know
If we waste the beautiful Spring,

When the Autumn yields the fruits of the field
A reward for our toil is given;
We thankfully take her gifts, which bespeak

When the wintry blast goes howling past,
Spreading sorrow and want on its way,
By the bright maple fire, safe from rude W
ter's ire,
We sit at the close of the day.

High ver stern Nature's strife,
As to Heaven ascends thanks for homes friends,
And the joys of a Farmer's life.

Encourage the Boys.

A lad from Iowa writes us that he thinks farmers' sons ought to have a chance to earn something for themselves by doing

FROM MONTREAL.

(By Special Telegram to the Daily Intelligencer.)

MONTREAL, July 3.

THE NORTH AMERICAN.

The following telegram to H. and A. Allan has been received from Capt. Smith, of the S. S. St. George, dated Porto au Basque, 3 p.m., 1st July. I called at South Point, Anticosti, and took on board all the passengers, books and luggage from the North American. They are all in the best of health and spirits. Her fore and main compartments and engine room are uninjured, the only damage done to her being in the after hold and keel. The divers and carpenters are sanguine of getting her off. She lies in a bed of sand, with head to the North West, having shifted somewhat from her original position. I could see no strain on her upper decks. Rocket was alongside with pumps and material to assist in getting her off.

SHERIFF OF FRONTENAC.—The Canada Gazette of Friday contains the appointment of William Ferguson as Sheriff of Frontenac.

RETRAYING CONFIDENCE.—The Hamilton Times says: "We know better than in Parliament and others who are candidates for seats in the Local Legislature, who cannot spell half a dozen consecutive words correctly."

QUEEN'S COUNSEL.—Amongst the gentlemen who have been honored with the appointment of Queen's Counsel, we observe the name of John Bell, Esq., of Belleville, a gentleman who well deserves the honor.

FOURTH OF JULY.—The steamer Zoecheer took a large number of excursionists from this port this afternoon to Oswego to witness the proceedings on the Fourth of July, which is to be celebrated on a large scale there. The Melita Cornet Band accompanied them.

PROVINCIAL GOVERNORS.—It is said that Sir N. F. Bellean has received his commission as Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec, as already surmised. The Lieutenant-Governors of the other Provinces are for the present to be senior military officers in each, that is to say, Gen. Stated in Ontario, Gen. Doyle in New Brunswick, and Gen. Williams in Nova Scotia.

ACCIDENT.—We are informed that on Saturday last, a team of horses belonging to John Egan, 3rd concession Tyndinaga, ran away, and Mr. Egan and his son about fourteen years of age were thrown from the wagon. Mr. Egan's head was badly cut and his shoulder blade fractured. The son had his right thigh broken. Dr. Lester was in attendance shortly after, and under his care they are doing well.

SUCCESS OF THE PARIS EXHIBITION.—A Paris correspondent writes: The Exhibition, thoroughly ventilated with cool air by machinery, is one of the most comfortable places in Paris, and the whole Champ de Mars is open to the western breezes. The success of the Exhibition is no longer a question. Where the Sovereigns of the world come to the people will follow. On Monday 120,000 persons paid at the gates. Add season tickets and free list, and you have the number of visitors to the Champ de Mars. There are at this moment 600,000 persons in Paris besides its ordinary population. They do not spend less than $1,000,000 a day. The wonderful influx of visitors is more likely to increase than diminish. It is said that an English company will give you another chance to come over en masse in the Great Eastern. The English are coming in great numbers during the Whitewide holidays.

ALBERT COLLEGE.—The under-graduate exhibition came off last evening in Albert College Chapel. The attendance was very good. A number of the old students are favoring the college at present with a visit. The Grand Trunk authorities, with their accustomed liberality, have privileged them to come and return at half fare. The entertainment was enhanced by the brass band of juveniles, under the leadership of Mr. Crozier, and first-rate performances on the piano, violin, &c. The declamations and essays were not as good, upon the whole as one could desire; a few very honorable exceptions might be made. One great and common fault on such occasions, is, that many of the pieces are too lengthy, which renders the exercises, as a whole too tedious, and often too much to commit to memory. However, much may reasonably be allowed for on account of the dry hot weather, it must be admitted to study and commit by art. The Board of Management may see in this a good reason to shorten the summer term, it really ought to close about the 1st of June; that is far enough to run into the hot season. Miss Lucinda Gardner, honorably graduated, as Mistress of the Liberal Arts, and received her Diploma.

The "Liberal" Convention.

If the Reform party in South Hastings does not find its landing place in the River Styx before another election contest is over, it will not be the fault of its standard-bearer, Dr. Hope. It is said that he whom the gods would destroy they first made mad, and it must be evident that if the effect follows the cause in the case of Dr. Hope's relation to the Liberal party in this County, its destruction is swift, sure and certain. One has but to look at the report of the Liberal Convention at Coleman's Hall, last Saturday to prove that he is the Jonah of the party. Of course it is not for us to find fault with this state of things. If the Reformers choose to be guided and controlled by men who exhibit such an utter lack of discretion and prudence, it is their own business. If they prefer disruption and failure under such a leader we shall certainly not interfere to prevent it. But while we may exhibit a certain amount of indifference as to the result of their dissensions, we may very properly criticise the conduct of men who stand upon public watchtowers, and who are supposed to be the moulders of public opinion.

Every one hereabouts is perfectly conversant with the history of the late "Liberal" Convention, and the relation Dr. Hope bore to that Convention. We venture to say, as the Dr. himself would say, "without fear of successful contradiction," that no public man, not even the Hon. George Brown himself, ever placed himself in such a humiliating position, or made his friends observe a more painful or degrading situation. It is not necessary here to enter into details, and show how the redoubtable Dr. humiliated himself and friends. Every one who reads the report of the Convention will be able to satisfy himself upon this point, and to those who are unwilling to accept our statements, we simply request them to carefully read, mark and inwardly digest what is there reported. Look at the skillful manner in which he got the unfortunate Liberal Conservatives into his parlor. Watch how he played and toyed with them until he saw that his game was foiled, and then how he turned like an enraged lion and abused them as he would pickpockets. Take his treatment of Mr. James Brown, a gentleman who has blocked his road to preferment time and again, and where would it find its parallel? Can any man conceive of a piece of base political treachery than the trick planned to catch Mr. Brown? How nicely was the trap laid. How well it was baited. How carefully it was watched. But like many other schemes of men and mice, it failed, and the creator of the scheme, like many other men beaten on their own ground, got into a fearful passion and became perfectly frantic. See how cavalierly he treated Mr. Diamond, the editor of the Reform organ in this Town. First made him his confidant and led him to think he was favourable to Mr. Brown, then turned against him, excommunicated him from his caucuses, and pronounced him unreliable. Well did Mr. Diamond turn the tables upon the Dr., and we are glad to see that he is so outspoken in his journal this morning as to say that "he is heartily sick of such tactics" as Dr. Hope uses. But one thing Mr. Diamond will learn, if he has not already learned it, that the very men who have used his brain and talent in gain political preferment, who never indeed would have occupied a public position had they not been placed there by himself, will be the first to kick him overboard, if he should happen to stand in their pathway. Such, unfortunately, is the gratitude which some public men bestow upon those who have given them position and power. There is much food for reflection in the proceedings of the Convention, and an analysis of them which we may give in another number, may not be uninteresting.

The Privy Council.

The following is the composition of the Privy Council.
Hon. John A. Macdonald, Premier and Minister of Justice.
Hon. T. Galt, Chancellor of Exchequer.

Hon. W. P. Howland, Minister of Internal Revenue.
Hon. S. L. Tilley, Minister of Customs.
Hon. Edward Kenney, Receiver General.
It is said that Messrs. Galt, Howland, Tilley, Kenney and Campbell are to be constituted a Treasury Board.
If you want a suit of clothes equal in make to customer work, and only about half the price, go to J. Malr & Co's. Boots and shoes in the same proportion.

Tyndinaga School Examinations.

On Friday, June 28th, the examination of pupils from the Common Schools in the Township of Tyndinaga, took place in the Church of England, under the direction of Mr. P. J. Ross, Local Superintendent of Common Schools for South Hastings. Ninety-two pupils from school sections, Nos. 1, 5, 6, 8, 9, 10, 11, 14, 15, 17, 20, 22, 23, 28, and 29, entered the list as competitors for the prizes offered. Donald Anderson, Esq., was called to the chair, and the Revs. Messrs. Lewen, Mackey, Breunna, Turnbull, and Robertson appointed Judges. These gentlemen, assisted by Messrs. Bowell, W. L. Hamilton, and Falkner, commenced the labors of the day. Mr. Ross conducted the examination, which lasted until about three o'clock, p. m., during which the church was crowded to excess, the people showing the deepest interest in the proceedings. The children acquitted themselves with much credit to themselves and to their teachers. At intervals during the day, the following pieces were sung remarkably well by the children, showing that the accomplishments of music are not forgotten in the Common schools of Tyndinaga: "God Bless the Prince of Wales," "A Native Land," and "Red, White, and Blue," by the pupils of section No. 9, Miss Roberts, Teacher.

"The School Army," "Come, Come Away," and "Cottage Welcome," by the pupils of section No. 22, Miss Mount, Teacher.

"I have no Mother now," by the pupils of section No. 5, Mr. T. W. Wannamaker, Teacher.

"I will learn my lessons," and "The Waters Blue," by the pupils of section No. 20, Mr. C. G. Adams, Teacher.

"People will Talk," and "Paved coat of Blue," by the pupils of section No. 11, Mr. Pashley, Teacher.

After the examination had closed, the audience, to the number of 400 or 500, adjourned to Doyle's Woods, where the good things of this earth were provided in abundance for all who liked to partake of them.

The chair was then taken by Mr. Frizell, who called upon the Rev. Mr. Bird, the Rev. Mr. Robertson, the Rev. Mr. Lewen, the Hon. Robert Ross, and Mr. M. Bowell, who severally addressed the people present in short speeches. The day's proceedings were closed by a few well-timed remarks by Mr. Ross, after which the prizes were distributed to the following pupils, by the Revs. Mr. Lewen and Robertson, and Mr. Bowell.

School Trustees.

The regular monthly meeting of the Belleville Board of Common School Trustees was held in the Police Office on Tuesday evening July 2nd.

Present.—Mr. M. Bowell, Chairman, and Messrs. McAnany, Shepard, Smith, Walton, Thompson and Martin.

The monthly reports from the Teachers and the quarterly report of the Superintendent were read and laid on the table.

The Report from No. 1 School, Mr. Macdonald, showed that there were 218 pupils attending that School; average attendance 168; number of pupils who study Writing, 131; Grammar, 28; Geography, 142; Arithmetic, 174; History, 37.

Mr. Jeffers, No. 2 School, reports 234 pupils attending that School, of whom 124 study Writing; 75 Grammar, 124 Geography, 174 Arithmetic, 14 History; 17 Natural Philosophy; 23 Family Science; 5 Book keeping; and all over 10 years of age attend Drill. The average attendance is 120.

The report of No. 3 School, Mr. Ashley, showed that 184 pupils were in attendance upon the School, of whom 133 study writing; 80 Grammar, 106 Geography, 138 Arithmetic, 42 History. The average attendance was 131.

Mr. McKewen, No. 4, in his report shows that the number of pupils attending was 198. Number who study Writing, 170; Grammar, 148; Geography, 137; Arithmetic, 183; History, 78. Four pupils were sent to the Grammar School, having completed 10 History. The average attendance for the month was 148.

The report of Mr. Pollock, No. 5, shows that the number attending the School was 74, of whom 38 studied Writing; 47 Grammar, 43 Arithmetic, 43 History, 10 History. The average attendance was 42.

Rough plans and estimates of the new Central School Building were laid before the Board, and after some considerable discussion on motion of Mr. McAnany, seconded by Mr. Thompson, plans and specifications in accordance with those presented were ordered to be got ready forthwith.

The Finance Committee reported, recommending the payment of several accounts which were passed. Some accounts were laid over for examination.

A motion was passed, allowing the Teachers' vacation, the same time as the Grammar School Teachers.

The Auditors' Report of the Receipts and Expenditures for the year 1866, was on motion of Mr. Shepard, seconded by Mr. McAnany, read, and ordered to be published in the usual form.

Mr. Walton moved, seconded by Mr. Martin, That Mr. Crozier be informed by the Secretary of the Board that the period for which he was employed to teach singing in the Common Schools having expired, his services will no longer be required.

Mr. Shepard moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. McAnany, That the question of dispensing with the services of the Music Teacher be deferred until the next meeting of the Board, and that a Special Committee of three be appointed with a view to ascertain whether it is desirable to continue the services of a Music Teacher, and if such Committee report at the next regular meeting of the Board.

The amendment was lost, Messrs. Shepard, McAnany and Thompson voting against it. The original motion was carried, and the Board adjourned.

FROM BRIDGEWATER.

From our Own Correspondent.

BRIDGEWATER, July 2nd.

The first celebration of "Dominion Day" has passed. It was a glorious one, with the sun shining in all its splendor; may it be emblematic of the bright future in store for the infant kingdom.

For some days past preparations have been made by the good folks here to celebrate the day in a becoming manner. Two triumphal arches were erected extending the whole width of the road, and about twenty-six feet in height at the highest point, ornamented with flags and mottoes. They were triple arches, one in the Gothic style, the other of a non-descript character, but both reflecting great credit on the taste of the designers.

Punctually at 6 o'clock in the morning the bells began to ring and the cannon roar forth announcing the birth of the new Dominion and commencement of the day's festivities. Every one, judging by their smiling looks, seemed determined that they would enjoy themselves and help others to do the same. The games were carried on with great gusto till midday, when the cannon again boomed forth accompanied by the bells. The afternoon was passed in swinging, running races, jumping, tangle-leg, barrel rolling and climbing the greasy pole, besides a number of sports arranged impromptu, but all giving general satisfaction. Indeed, it was pleasing to observe the amount of good feeling exhibited by one and all. In the afternoon the Hon. B. Flint distributed packages of raisins and filberts to the young people of both sexes from fifteen years of age downwards, giving them, at the same time, some very excellent advice. Some of the recipients seemed to be very fine girls and boys for their age, but then no one was very particular as to the advice they received as good to them as the younger ones.

In the evening one of the arches was illuminated, as was also the spacious hotel, which had, to say the least of it, a grand effect. Fireworks commenced at dusk and were very much enjoyed. After them came a procession of Physicists with torches, in which all conceivable characters on horse and foot were represented in the broadest burlesque. One party of them in a wagon, consisting of several niggers, lashed and read a travesty on the Act of Confederation, which excited much mirth; but the joke most appreciated was a figure sitting on a barrel, in his hand he held a placard with the words "I am your brother." On the barrel appeared the legend, "one hundred pounds of red hematite." The whole was placed on a wheelbarrow and propelled by an individual in the traditional costume of his satanic majesty, tail and all. On each side of the barrow were labels with "Haatings Chronicle" and "Maiden Mercury" inscribed on them; this was again preceded by a herald bearing a placard, with the words "to Ottawas." The procession went through the village and beyond, returning and causing shouts of laughter by their droll antics; it followed and three cheers for the Queen, three for the Dominion and three for the Hon. B. Flint. This was followed by a ball on a tent, which closed the proceedings.

This ended one of the most pleasurable days that have been enjoyed for some time, it ever before here. Great praise is due to the acting committee for their admirable arrangements, by which everything was made to pass off well and give general satisfaction. At a moderate calculation, there was at least fifteen hundred persons present, and during the whole time no drunkenness, disorder or quarrelling was seen, or bad language heard. In fact, there was nothing in the whole day's proceedings that the most fastidious could take exception to.

FROM MARMORA.

From our own Correspondent.

MARMORA, July 2, 1867.

On Thursday last, 27th June, the Cobourg and Marmora Railroad was formally opened for traffic and passengers. There were songs, speeches, bands of music, flags, and more than all, "dinner," in good old English style, and great excitement generally. "Blasts" were discharged, instead of cannon, a steamboat was run on the occasion, and a locomotive imparted additional dignity to the proceedings.

From two to three thousand people were upon the line, from one end to the other (9 miles from the ore-beds to the Trent navigation), who seemed greatly to enjoy the novelty of the scene.

The Company intend taking away about 200 tons per day, of iron ore, for disposal in the United States or elsewhere.

Your correspondent was so much concerned about the Railroad terminating at Cobourg, instead of at Belleville, that he was not able to be present personally, which was also the case with regard to the members for North and South Hastings.

The Church bells should have been rung, only there were none.

"The sound of the Church-gong bells—These valleys and rocks never heard."

County Court.

FANNING vs. STEWART.—Bakely hired case. Mr. A. R. Douglass for Fanning obtained a rule nisi, on the law and evidence, to set aside the verdict rendered at the last sittings of the County Court, and for a new trial.

TOMAS vs. KELLY.—A rule nisi was granted, on motion of Mr. Douglass, to set aside the verdict against the defendant, and to enter a nonsuit pursuant to leave reserved at the trial.

BAILY vs. ROW.—Rule nisi for a new trial was obtained by Mr. Richards, of Brockville. Mr. Flint, agent.

O'BRIEN vs. FAHEY.—Rule nisi was granted, on motion of Mr. R. P. Jellard, to set aside an attachment issued under the Absconding Debtors' Act.

The Dominions

Not in pride the Arm foundation
Of an Empire should we lay;
Trusting in the God of Nations
We would keep our Natal Day;
Trusting that the sacred promise
Made to all those that believe Will not now be wrested from us—
"Ask ye and ye shall receive."

Ardent souls to-day are moving Heaven with prayers from this dear land;
Men whose hearts go forth in loving
Every pebble on its strand.
From New Brunswick's sea-washed harbors Rolls the prayerful wavelet on,
Through the wilds and sunny arbors
Of the far Saskatchewan.

Hear us then, mysterious Power,
God, whom all the earth shall own,
Make this an auspicious hour,

Lift Thy hands in blessings o'er us,
Bless us, Lord, from sea to sea,
Pointing to the hopes before us,
And the future yet to be.

Could we leave the past behind us,
Party rancor, priestly strife,
So that every day would find us
Rising to a higher life?
Could we with a stern endeavor

Hand in hand begin the race,
Then among the nations ever
We might hold our lawful place.
Brothers, from whatever far land

From what clime beneath the sun,
Here, to-day, in this our Norland,
Duty cries we must be one;
One, with hopes that may not falter,
One, with hearts as true as steel.

That no time nor change can alter
Through all coming woe or weal,
One with her, the mighty Mother, of Britain, from whose loins we sprung.

True to her, to one another,
Proud of her beloved tongue;
Knowing nought but that which lures us
To one sacred common cause;
Holding fast what reassures us;

Land to which my hopes are clinging,
Proudly as our rivers' swell
Is the voice of Freedom ringing

Keep that noble spirit centred
Firmly in each loving heart;
From the souls where once it entered
Let it nevermore depart.

But with Truth and Justice banding,
Throned within our council halls,
With its godlike form commanding
Like an angel on the walls;
Terror to the outlaws

Friend to Right, and foe to Wrong,
But a sweet and gentle wooer
Where the heart is leal and strong.

Holy Love fill all our bowers,
Gentle Peace imbue the sod;
All the future may be ours,
But to-day belongs to God!
He hath laid our broad foundations,
Leaving us to build thereon.

Description of Birmingham.

THE STREETS IN MILITARY POSSESSION—SPECIMEN OF MURPHY'S RANTING.
(From the Correspondent of the Times.)

BIRMINGHAM, June 10th.
During the whole of last evening, and until a late hour at night, all the streets leading to those in which the recent riots and conflicts have taken place were crowded with people. Many of them were more spectators, no doubt peacefully enough disposed; but that there was another class lurking about ready for mischief, if the opportunity was given to them to go to work by the withdrawal, or weakening of the protecting force, was palpable enough. It was a sad and even portentous sight to witness at this time of day a force arrayed to protect the town from a desperate mob, and in such a cause. The crossing of the streets were guarded by the infantry, the Hussars were picketed in the Bull Ring and elsewhere, and the prison van was escorted by cavalry to the Borough Gaol. There were rumors that distant parts of the town were to be attacked.

Soon after midnight a detachment of more than 100 men—54th Infantry—arrived from Manchester. They were marched to the Town Hall, where the morning of the police has been augmented by the arrival of detachments from the towns in the locality.

The damage done in Park-street, the utter wreck in that locality is indescribable; in some instances the window frames have been wrenched out wholesale—not a pane of glass remains, and the mob carried away every movable article. This street was inhabited almost exclusively by the poorer class of Irish. The poor creatures had to leave their dwellings destitute in every way. The spectacle presented in that respect was truly shocking. It is said that the Irish were the great culprits on Sunday and Monday. Even if that was so, the retribution is fearful. A local report says:—

"Having sacked the houses, the 'party of order' marched up and down the street, armed with fragments of window shutters, wainscoting, chairs and tables, bedsteads, &c., and singing the 'Glorious Hallelujah' and 'John Brown's chorus.'"

In other streets partial but considerable damage was done; attempts to renew the disturbances last evening were quickly put down.

Murphy discoursed again last night; the Rev. W. Cassel, Wesleyan minister, Wallall, in the following is a sample of his harangue. He said:—

"If the Catholic priests have the power to make God Almighty out of a bit of bread, they must be the greatest impostors in the world to ask money from the people, for they have only to say 'hocus-pocus' over a piece of bread, and it will become a sovereign. (Laughter.) This would be a much easier thing than to make God Almighty out of a bit of bread. (Renewed laughter.) When all the priests were black in Ireland, why didn't the priests say the 'hocus-pocus' over them, and make them all good again?"

DESCRIPTION BY A LOCAL PAPER.

The third day (Tuesday) of Mr. Murphy's campaign in Birmingham closed upon a scene of ruin. A stroll through the High-street district, in the first gray light of morning, revealed destruction and distress as great as if the place had been bombarded by a military force, instead of having been protected by one. Houses, doorways, window-sills, and in some cases almost roofless—pavements and roadway strewn with stones, brick ends, broken glass, fragments of wearing apparel and furniture—women and children huddled into corners, crouching and crying amongst the wreckage of their homes—such were the sights and sounds to be seen and heard on every hand in Park street. Of the work of destruction of the manner in which it originated, proceeded, and ended, we shall speak at length presently. Of the results, however, but the one word—desolation—is needed to describe them. All the men had been removed—some injured, some in custody, others turned adrift penniless, often hatless and coatless, to seek shelter where they might. None but the mothers and children remained in the stone-riddled, ruined tenements which had been their homes.

But it was not to Park street alone that the rioting and the work of destruction were confined—as the long list of desolations we gave on Tuesday would of itself testify. Nor did the list we then gave exhaust the catalogue.

ANOTHER REPORT OF THE INCENDIARY LANGUAGE.

At about half-past six o'clock Mr. Murphy, accompanied by Lieut.-Col. Brockman and some of his immediate supporters, proceeded from his lodgings, at the Woolpack, in Moor-street, to the Tabernacle, in Carr-lane.

The audience began to assemble very quietly after half-past five o'clock, and was composed of a mixture of working men and many others of a higher class. There was a considerable number of women in the body of the room. The Chairman (the Rev. Wm. Gattell, Wesleyan Minister, Wallall) arrived shortly after seven, and was greeted with loud cheering when he ascended the platform. Some time before eight o'clock, Lieut.-Col. Brockman went to the front of the platform and gave out of his experiences in connection with the Protestant Electoral Union. At Lewes, in Sussex, he had seen a griffin which was kept in a prison that had stood in the market place since the time of bloody Mary. On that griffin many of the Fenian conspirators had been roasted to please the holy fathers in accordance with the Romish principles of war to the knife against all Protestant heretics—that cry which called forth the response from all Protestants of "peace be to him" (applause). He thought they wanted a griffin in every town where their Protestant principles were flagging. The Romish priests were a dark-coated, serpent race. The lady who had spoken to Mr. Whalley about the vote that had been made against Mr. Murphy's life was afraid to come forward to prove what she had asserted, but she stated solemnly that her vow had been made by seven women (cries of "shame" hoisting and groans). A case of a young woman had come under his (the speaker's) notice, who travelled up to London with a Catholic priest, and was solicited and tempted by means of money to become a nun. She was offered first a sovereign, and then £10 ("Shame" and groans). The fat old fathers were like spiders in the centre of their webs, and when they got their victims in they found it a difficult matter to get out of (cheers).

The Fenians.

END OF THE TRIALS IN IRELAND—REMARKS OF WHAT HAS BEEN DONE.

The trial of the Fenian prisoners in Ireland terminated on the 10th ult., and the Special Commission then adjourned. The following article from the Dublin Times gives an epitome showing the number of prisoners tried, and showing how many were convicted, &c.:

The termination of the trial of the Special Commission appointed for the trial of persons imprisoned for complicity with Fenianism, offered an excellent opportunity for summarizing the whole legal proceedings. The Solicitor General accordingly delivered an address which furnishes an epitome of all that has taken place under the Commission. Altogether, in Dublin and Limerick, there were one hundred and sixteen prisoners placed in the dock for trial—a very small number indeed when compared with the number of peasant and laboring classes who were erroneously supposed to sympathize with the Fenian movement. Of this total of 166 some were acquitted, some because identification was not complete, and some because they were forced to join the conspirators against their will. Fifty-two were convicted after long and patient trial, during which every point of a merciful law that could be imagined was raised for the prisoners and supported with unusual eloquence and skill. Eight were found guilty of high treason, the highest crime known to the law. It is probable that many more would have been tried for high treason had not the sentence on Burke been commuted. It was useless to arraign men for high treason when the penalties of that crime would not be carried out. The large number 110 pleaded guilty, and made the only statement in their power to offend justice by admitting their crime. Of the convicted, twenty-five have been sentenced, or had their sentences commuted to penal servitude for various terms, and fifty-two to imprisonment in the gaols for a longer or shorter period. The twenty-five sentenced to penal servitude were evidently the chief leaders of the plot. The fact that so few were tried under the Treason Felony Act in the three counties proved the Fenian has taken root in Ireland. The men convicted are either Americans or American Celts who had crossed the Atlantic to excite sedition here.

In no case among so numerous an array of trials did the jury disagree. The evidence was so clear before the jury, with no trace of that invidious investigation which is the scandal of past political trials. All through the trials, and at these Commissions the jurors manfully assembled to do duty, and the conduct of the proceedings was a model of order and decorum. Lady the Queen. It required some courage to act on a jury empaneled to try these cases of treason. A report prevailed that a mysterious tribunal existed, constituted by the special object of assassinating the witness and the jury. On one prisoner was actually found a list of jurors marked out for death. Such a Vehmgericht may have existed, but formed rather for the purpose of inspiring fear than with the intention of perpetrating murder. No jurymen was attacked or injured. They came forward to do their duty manfully and fearlessly, and sacrificed, for a time, some of their own freedom to secure the freedom of the community. We do not think that the conduct of the trials has been appreciated as highly as it deserved to be. Men, engaged in commercial and mercantile pursuits, whose absence from their business entailed a serious loss, sat from day to day, most patiently hearing complicated discussions on technical points of law, and most laboriously sitting and analyzing the evidence without fee or reward. In no one case during the whole of the trials did any juror disagree. A timid juror or juror might have endeavored to save himself and his colleagues from the personal danger then supposed to exist by disagreeing with the rest. But all gave their verdicts fearlessly in accordance with the evidence before them.

We stated, at the time of the "Rising," that every intended movement of the conspirators was known to the authorities almost as soon as it was determined on. Conspirators—some of them apparently the most zealous for the cause—flushed to the authorities to offer information. Voluntary informers swarmed, and we have it stated now by one of the Law Officers of the Crown that they have been more numerous than they required. It will be ever so. Numbers join a conspiracy only to obtain possession of its secrets, and then to betray them. There is no security in a secret confederacy. The conspirators are most active in fomenting treason generally, and serving their own base ends, and endeavoring to implicate many and they may claim a more ample reward.

The Fenian conspiracy is at an end—even the Special Commission have closed. A rising, which at one time seemed to be formidable, has been effectually put down with very little loss of life or limb. We question that there is an actual war as was ever before suppressed with so small a loss of life. The conspirators knew their utter hopelessness of their attempt, and determined not to place themselves outside the pale of pardon by committing deeds which could not be condoned.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, JULY 5.

RECEIVER GENERAL.—Hon. Mr. Kenney arrived at Ottawa on Thursday, and was sworn in Receiver General.

TARIFF REGULATIONS.—A telegram from Ottawa states that the manufactures and productions of the several Provinces in the Dominion now pass free from one Province to another.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.—The imports at the port of Belleville for the month of June, 1867, were $5,394; duty paid, $384.71. Exports for the same month, $35,070; export duty, $800.

Gas.—It will be seen by an advertisement signed by the President of the Gas Company that we are to have gas for a few nights longer. It is expected in the meantime that some arrangement will be made for continuing the supply.

FIREMEN'S Pic-Nic.—It will be seen by advertisement that the firemen will have their Annual Pic-Nic this year at Bongard's Grove, Maryborough, on the 18th July. The Bay of Quinte has been engaged for the occasion. We hope there will be a large attendance.

MILLS PORTS.—Models of the mile posts proposed to be erected by Mr. Scott between Madoc and Belleville, can be seen at the Duff House and at Graham's Hotel, Belleville, where contributions towards defraying the expense may be left. These mile posts are a great public convenience, and we are certain our business men need only have the matter mentioned in order to induce them to contribute something towards the erection of them. Would it not be well for the Municipalities benefited by them to make a small appropriation in aid of the object?

The Railway.

Long accounts of the proceedings connected with the opening of the Mammoth and Cobourg Railway appear in the Cobourg and Rochester papers. Cobourg is very naturally jolly over the completion of the work, and of the bright future which awaits her. It was expected that tickets of invitation would have been sent to the Members for North and South Hastings, who were mainly instrumental in securing them the Road, to join the Cobourgers in their rejoicings. It is a pity after taking so deep an interest in their welfare they should have been ignored.

What is the Policy?

The Graphic Advertiser, a Reform paper, thus states the issue at the polls: "The new Government has been formed, and it now remains for the electors to decide whether they will support or oppose it. Its mission is the practical carrying into effect of Confederation. The policy of the opposition is to throw every possible difficulty and obstruction in the way of the Ministry, and thus render government impossible and pave the way for annexation to the United States. The question before the electors is, are they willing to give Confederation a fair trial? If not, annexation is the only alternative." That's the issue, as plain as a pickaxe. Confederation or Annexation. Are the followers of George Brown willing to accept the alternative?

Lecture.

Last evening Dr. Potts delivered a highly interesting and instructive lecture for the "Literary Club" on the "Origin of Written Language." The lecturer first showed that written language was of human invention; then, starting from this, he showed how man would feel the necessity of having some medium of communicating his ideas to his fellow by other means than by appealing to the ear. Thus, first, material objects would be represented by rough sketches or pictures, then would naturally follow the grouping of these sketches to represent and convey the idea of several things; then would come the desire to represent abstract ideas, to which recourse would again be had to material objects, and so on through compound ideas, and contraction of the figures until fixed forms would be used.

The lecturer then reviewed the origin and traced the rise and use of the art in many ancient countries—amongst the Hebrews, Phoenicians, Chinese, &c.

The lecture was highly instructive and interesting, and well deserved a full audience, which was not accorded it.

We hope that the public will more generally avail themselves of the opportunity of listening to a further lecture on this interesting subject, which Dr. Potts promised to give on a future occasion.

A vote of thanks was unanimously passed at the close of the lecture for the able and instructive lecture just delivered.

The Dominion.

The Hamilton Spectator gives some statistics of the population and area of the Dominion, from which we gather the following interesting facts:—The Province of Ontario has an area of 131,260 square miles with a population of in round numbers, nearly 1,810,000. It contains Ottawa, the capital city of the new Dominion, and the more important cities, so far as size and wealth are concerned, of Toronto, Hamilton, Kingston, and London. The Province of Quebec has an area of 210,000 square miles, and a population of about 1,300,000. The population of Montreal, the largest city of the Province as well as of the Dominion, is estimated at 130,000. New Brunswick contains within its boundary lines 27,000 square miles, and 205,000 persons. Nova Scotia has 18,600 square miles, and a population of something over 268,000. The area of the Dominion of Canada amounting in round numbers to 376,000 square miles, the total population being variously estimated at from 3,700,000 to 3,800,000, it probably being in reality about three and three quarters millions of souls. Of course Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island are not included in this calculation, the population and area of which may be estimated as follows: Newfoundland 40,200 square miles of an area, and 135,000 persons; Prince Edward Island 2,100 square miles, and 92,000 inhabitants, which brings the total population of the British American Provinces to about four millions, with a total area of nearly 419,000 square miles.

To the above may be added the territories of the North West containing 2,750,000 square miles. Vancouver's Island, 20,000 square miles, British Columbia 200,000 square miles, making in all an amount of territory larger than that of the whole United States, all of which will undoubtedly at a very early day be included within the Confederation, the laying of the corner stone of which we this day celebrate.

The North American.

The Montreal Miner publishes a letter dated Anticosti, June 26, from a correspondent who was on board the steamer North American when she struck. He says that, fortunately, there was an ample supply of provisions for the passengers, when they were put on shore on Anticosti. They felt it very disagreeable, however, to be stranded in the sun from morning till night on an inhospitable shore. The Canadienne arrived at the scene of the wreck on the 25th, and Commander Fortin was of great service to Capt. Kerr. The Napoleon III. arrived shortly afterwards and took the mails to Gaspe Basin. The weather was very fine. There were 360 passengers altogether, and all were in good health.

POLICE COURT.

JULY 4, 1867.

DRUNK.

Joshua Brant, an Indian from Tyendinaga having imbibed an extra quantity of white brother's favorite beverage, sank beneath its soothing influence, and after some hours oblivion in the drunkard's cell, he was brought before the Police Magistrate, who permitted him to return to the hunting grounds of his ancestry, with a promise to abstain in future from the fire-water of Belleville.

ASSAULT.

About twelve months since, a herculean young fellow from Elzevir, named Philip Collins, amused himself by assaulting a volunteer on his return from Prescott, for which he was fined $10 and costs, and on a second charge $5 and costs. He managed to evade Belleville and its suburbs until Saturday night last about 12 o'clock, when he was recognized by the Police, and lovingly conveyed to the subterranean apartments provided for persons of his calibre. The lecturer first showed that written language was of human invention; then, starting from this, he showed how man would feel the necessity of having some medium of communicating his ideas to his fellow by other means than by appealing to the ear. Thus, first, material objects would be represented by rough sketches or pictures, then would naturally follow the grouping of these sketches to represent and convey the idea of several things; then would come the desire to represent abstract ideas, to which recourse would again be had to material objects, and so on through compound ideas, and contraction of the figures until fixed forms would be used.

A son of the Green Isle named Gorman was fined $10 and costs some months since for assaulting a Railway employee. He stated that "July the first" was a day set apart for freedom of arrest, but Sergt. Roche having differed from him in opinion, he was reluctantly absent from the evening picnic, and next morning, on payment of his penalty, was permitted to resume his ordinary avocations.

ANOTHER ROW.

Mrs. McDonough, Mrs. Burns, and Mrs. Gorman residing in adjoining premises on the road to Canifton, quarrelled about some drift wood floating on the Moira, and after the usual amount of delicate language and complimentary allusions to the various peculiarities of each others' ancestors, bearing upon virtue and temperance, they commenced a display of physical force, highly amusing to a crowd of juveniles, who encouraged in turn the Amazonian disputants. Mrs. McDonough ultimately fled from the field, and Mrs. Gorman, wounded, like Achilles, in the heel, remained the triumphant Juno of the Moira battle ground. The magistrate, however, lowered her victor crest by a fine of a few dollars, and she left the court with a look of supreme contempt for Magistrates, pedlars, and prosecutors, consigning all to the nether regions.

ARRESTS.

During the quarter ending 30th June last, the Police arrested twenty-seven males and nine females for various offences committed within the corporation.

Telegraphic News.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

BERLIN, July 8, evening.—The anniversary of the great battle of Bismarck, better known as Sedan, was observed to-day at Potsdam, the residence of the Royal Family, by a grand celebration. The troops were reviewed by the King, who presented a stand of colors to each of the regiments which participated in that engagement.

Editorial Summary.

—Shortly after the close of the war, there were morning papers printed in Richmond, now only four remain. The Times office was sold last week for $3,300.

—The thunder storm which passed over this Town yesterday, was very severe in Kingston. Three houses were struck by the electric fluid and considerably damaged, but fortunately no lives were lost.

—It is stated that a discovery of a rich vein of silver has been made at the foot of the hill, just below the Pater farm mile in Bobbata, at the depth of 400 fathoms, or 130 fathoms below the level of the sea.

—We wonder if the hot weather accounts for the following burst from the Washington National Intelligencer:—"A crisis is coming again. The morning that will break soon must make the nation from the horrid nightmares of the past two years, or witness her, a chained mangle, in the bedlam of political madness."

—The longest train of cars that ever passed over any railroad is said by the Eastern (Pa.) Argus to have recently passed over the Lehigh Valley Railroad. It consisted of 375 loaded cars averaging six tons weight each, making 1,650 tons in all. This train extended 3,800 feet—over two-thirds of a mile. A silly drama, entitled British Neutrality, is just now being played in New York with some success. It is admitted to be a very non-sensical piece, but it is exceedingly amusing to Great Britain, and, for that reason, is warmly welcomed. In one of the scenes the wreck of a "British Iron-clad" (which has been steered upon a rock by a treacherous Yankee sailor), is witnessed with loud outbursts of applause.

MEN WANTED.—The great want of this age is men. Men who are not for sale. Men who are honest, sound from cradle to circumference, true to the heart's core. Men who will condemn wrong in fire and fœe, in themselves as well as in others. Men who are steady as a rock, as steady as the needle to the pole. Men who will stand for the right if the heavens totter and the earth reels. Men who can tell the truth and look the truth, and look the world and the continent in the eye. Men that neither brag nor flinch. Men who can have courage without whistling for it, and joy without shouting to bring it. Men in whom the current of everlasting life runs full, and deep, and strong. Men too large for sectarian bonds. Men who do not strive, nor cry, nor cause their voice to be heard in the streets, but who will not fail nor be discouraged, till judgment be set in the earth. Men who know their place and do it. Men who know their duty and do it. Men who know their place and do it. Men who will not let men who are not too busy to work nor too proud to be poor. Men who are willing to eat what they have sown, and wear what they have paid for.

From the Montreal Gazette.

July 1st, 1897.
Ruler of all we pray
Blessings upon our way
God, keep our land.
Grant us prosperity,
Grant us true liberty,
Grant us to serve but thee;
God, bless our land.

From all intestine strife
Prying upon our life,
God, keep our land.
Break every traitor's sword;
Make use of one accord,
Strout in Thy strength, O Lord,
God, bless our land.

Keep us from foreign foes;
Help us to ward their blows;
God, keep our land.
Where'er, at duty's call,
Our sons shall nobly fall,
Bless Thine bloody pall,
God, bless our land.

Lord of all hosts' armies,
Franchise our enemies,
Protect our land.
Be Thine our bulwark still,
Gird us with Thy sword,
By Thine Almighty will,
Keep safe our land.

Yet, rather, may sweet Peace
Give us her best increase,
God, keep our land.
Grant the strong heart to dare,
The strong love to bear,
Owning Thee everywhere,
God, bless our land.

Death of Maximilian.
ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS.

MATAMORAS, Friday, June 26.
VIA NEW ORLEANS, Tuesday, July 7.
Official information of the death of Maximilian, Miramon and Mejia was received yesterday. The report of Escobedo says they were condemned on the night of the 15th, the sentence confirmed at head-quarters on the 19th, and the 16th designated as the day of execution. Their execution was, however, suspended by order of Juarez until the 19th, on which day, at 7 o'clock a.m., the three were shot. On the morning of the 15th, the President Minister made another attempt to save them, but failed.

Maximilian was shot faced to the front. His last words were, "Poor Carlotta!" Miramon and Mejia were reduced from their ranks and shot in the back.

Gen. Berriozabal immediately communicated the news to Gen. Hopedale at Brownsville. There is great rejoicing in Mexico over the event.

It is thought here that Juarez has started for the capital. Mexicans are jubilant, and foreigners are horrified.

Letters from Juarez received at headquarters here, and which our Commissioner has had the privilege of perusing, state that Maximilian, Mejia and Miramon were sentenced to be shot on the morning of June 16, the sentence being promulgated on the morning of June 14. Subsequently the execution was postponed for three days to give Maximilian time to arrange his will, and it was announced that the execution would probably take place on the morning of June 19, at eleven o'clock.

The Prussian and British ministers visited Juarez at San Luis Potosi to endeavour to arrest the doom of the unfortunate Prince; but their efforts were vain. Juarez had returned to Queretaro to take formal leave of Mexico, when the Prince was executed.

Among Maximilian's papers found in Queretaro was a will, by which, in case of his death, he appoints Theodoras Lanes, Jose Maria Lacunaea and Marquez, regents of the Empire. Notably Maximilian's service plate is on exhibition as trophies at Matamoros.

The following is the telegram of Escobedo to the Ministers of War announcing the execution of Maximilian.

SAN LUIS POTOSI, June 19, 1897.
Citizen Minister of War:

On the 14th inst., at 11 o'clock at night, the Council of War confirmed Maximilian of Hapsburg, Miguel Miramon, and Thomas Mejia to suffer the extreme penalty of the law. The sentence having been confirmed at these head-quarters, it was ordered to be carried into effect on the 16th. The execution was suspended by order of the Supreme Government until to-day. It is now seven o'clock in the morning, at which time Maximilian has just been shot.

Please communicate this to the citizen President of the Republic.

Escobedo.

Immediately upon the receipt of the news Gen. Berriozabal sent official information of it to Gen. Reynolds, commanding the Sub-district of the Rio Grande. The event is now being celebrated with great rejoicing, manifested by ringing of bells, music and other demonstrations.

The Baron Magnus, Prussian Minister, arrived at Queretaro the day before the execution, and immediately transmitted by telegraph a formal protest to Juarez, which was received at 9.30 o'clock in the evening of the same day, and in reply to which the following was transmitted:

SAN LUIS POTOSI, June 18, 10.10 p.m.
To Baron A. F. Magnus, at Queretaro:
I am sorry to say to you, in answer to your telegram which you have been pleased to send me this night, that, as I had expressed

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE principles on which this Company is founded, contain all the elements required to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and afford every facility to intending assureds. One of the advantages secured by those who insure their lives with this Company is that the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement to Ten per Cent of the Net Life Income. This most important restriction shows that the interests of participating policyholders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion of premiums expended for Management Must Largely Influence Profits and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1868, and all those who wish to participate in the profits should insure at once.

U. S. Congress.

EXECUTION OF MAXIMILIAN.

Mr. Schenck moved to suspend the rules to offer a set of resolutions in regard to Mexico, declaring that every nation has the right to quell insurrection and repel invasion, that all orders of nobility and all assumed right to rule based on birth or accident, are obnoxious to a free people; that Congress looks with anxious hope for the prosperity of all republican governments and especially that of Mexico, and receives with pleasure the information of the restoration of the power of the government to the people over the self-styled Prince and Emperor Maximilian, of the so called Royal House of Hapsburg; that the attempt to imperialize Mexico would not have been made if the United States had not been engaged in civil war, and was part of a gigantic effort to destroy the Republic in which the slave power and the European aristocracy labored in concert, the United States could not look with unconcern on the attempt to control the Government or the destinies of Mexico by Powers in antagonism with Republican Governments.

Mr. Wood expressed his regret that any member of the United States Congress should endeavor the barbarous assassination of Maximilian. He was reminded by the Speaker that the resolution was not yet before the House.

The House refused to suspend the rules, and the resolutions were not received.

The "Good Time" Come at Last.

From the following description it would appear that the "good time coming" which has been so long talked of, has come at last, at least in Australia.

Of all the happy lands, so far as peace and plenty can produce happiness, Victoria, in Australia, must be among the foremost. There we see the pleasant and very unusual combination of high wages for the laborer and low provisions for the consumer, while an abundance in crops makes the farmer's remuneration satisfactory and sufficient. The return of 1866 showed that there were one head of neat cattle, fourteen sheep, one fifth of a horse and one pig to every man, woman and child in the colony, and what is more to the purpose, that this stock was pretty evenly divided. The present year has been even more a season of plenty. Wheat goes begging at 2s. 9d. a bushel, and all the necessities of life in the way of staple provisions are equally abundant and cheap. Skilled laborers get about two dollars and a half for eight hours work and farm laborers in proportion. It would seem as though under such circumstances there was no such thing as hunger and want need be found; but even there is bad liquor and no prohibition of its use, and in the cities they have to organize charitable associations and support almshouses, just as though flour were twenty dollars a bushel and meat ten cents a pound. Nevertheless it is pleasant to read of reasonable prices for food, fair prices for labor, and an eight-hour law in operation with no riots or strikes or suffering in consequence.

The Way to Eminence.

That which other folks can do. Why, with patience, may not you? Long ago a little boy was entered at Harrow School. He was put into a class beyond his years, and where all the scholars had the advantage of previous instruction, denied to him. His master chided him for his dullness, and all his then efforts could not raise him from the lowest place on the form. But no thing daunted, he procured the grammars and other elementary books which his class fellows had gone through in previous terms. He devoted the hour of play, and not a few of the hours of sleep, to the mastering of three, till, in a few weeks, he gradually began to rise, and it was not long till he stood at the head of his class, and became not only leader of that division, but the pride of Harrow. You may see the statue of that boy, whose career began with this it of energetic application, in St. Paul's cathedral, for he lived to be the greatest orator scholar of modern Europe—it was Sir William Jones.

When young scholars see the lofty pinnacle of attainment to which that name is now reposing, they feel as if it had been created there, rather than had travelled thither. No such thing. The most illustrious of the annals of philosophy once knew no more than the most illiterate now do. And how did he arrive at his peerless dignity? By dint of diligence; by downright painstaking.

In Clinton, Ill., a young woman over two years ago, after washing windows, was replacing them, when she struck her hand through the glass, running several long pieces into her hand. After several days a physician was called, and, as was supposed, the glass all extracted. But it appears not to have been the case, as a large quantity was left in the hand, which soon made its appearance under the skin on her arm, and was cut out by her surgeon. It continued spreading until it had extended to all parts of her body. It had been extracted from her eyes, head, arms and feet, and in fact, from all parts of her body. Six months ago, it caused the lock jaw, with which she was affected for six weeks, except that she could drink beer, and her clenched teeth. At present she is a raving maniac more than half her time, and in such agony as words will not describe, and too incredible to tell. At intervals she is rational, and able to sit up and eat some of her food. Up to the 14th instant, over 1,200 pieces of glass had been cut out of her flesh.

—Adj. Gen. McDowell has drawn up a new Militia bill adapted to the altered relations of the four Provinces in the Confederation, and it will be one of the first measures laid before the new Parliament.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY, JULY 9.
FROM TORONTO.

TORONTO, July 9.

A large number of Catholic Reformers arrived here to-day for the purpose of attending the convention. At present there are rich scenes in the committee room at the St. Lawrence Hall, where tickets are being issued.

Tickets are refused to Conservative Catholics, many of whom threaten to break into the hall if not allowed to enter quietly, after having been invited by circular to attend.

The reporters of the Conservative press are excluded. It is feared it may end in a big row.

A large number of constables are at hand in attendance, and others are ready when wanted.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL GRANT.—We understand that the amount apportioned to the Grammar School, $100,000 for the first half of 1867, by the Government, is $170. No appropriation has yet been received for the Grammar School, Belleville.

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION.—There is to be a moonlight excursion to-morrow evening per the steamer Day of Quilte. The steamer will leave Tannahill's wharf at 8 o'clock. The Moira and a Quailine Band having been engaged for the occasion, a pleasant evening will no doubt be spent.

THE PENITENT CONVICTS.—It is rumored that the Government intend shortly to pardon five of the Penitents now in the Provincial Penitentiary, as an act of clemency, to mark the inauguration of the new Dominion. It is said that the Rev. J. McMahon is to be one of the number.

THE WEST RIDING.—Our readers will be glad to see that JAMES BROWN, Esq., at the urgent solicitation of a number of his friends, has consented to be a candidate for the House of Commons for the West Riding of the County of Hastings. He promises to explain his views upon the public questions of the day in an address shortly to be issued.

THE EAST RIDING.—GEO. E. HENDERSON, Esq., will be seen by an announcement in our advertising columns, is the candidate for the Local Legislature for the East Riding of the County of Hastings. He promises an address in a few days. Steps have been taken to hold a Convention in this Riding, for the purpose of selecting a candidate for the Local Legislature, which will be held at an early day.

PERSONAL.—We understand that Dr. Otway, a Fellow of the Royal Society of London, went out to the gold region in Australia, where the discovery of gold here was made known, and from his large experience and practical knowledge, was selected by the Royal Society to visit the gold regions of Canada. From the position he occupies, his observations and report will be valuable, and will be looked forward to with much interest.

CLOSING ACCOUNTS.—A circular has been issued by the Deputy Inspector General to the County Treasurers, advising them that all services in the administration of criminal justice performed on and after the first instant are to be chargeable to the Province of Ontario, and Sheriffs, Clerks of the Peace, Coroners, Constables, &c., are notified to close their accounts to the 31st ult., and transmit the same through the County Treasurers to the Inspector General's office as soon as possible.

THE WAY'S DONE.—Mr. James Cowan, M. P., a life-long Reformer, announced his intention of giving the Coalition a fair trial, whereupon he was thrown overboard by the Breton Convention, and denounced as a traitor by the Globe. That's the way it is done. Every person who won't bow the knee to Baal, must be kicked overboard. But Cowan won't be thrown overboard, and from the way the Globe Advertiser, a Reform paper, comes to his rescue, it is doubtful whether the Globe's tactics will succeed.

COAL OIL ACCIDENT.—A telegram from Kingston last night says that the evening previous six persons were burned more or less severely through the explosion of a coal oil can at the house of Mr. Edward Money. Miss Money, to make the fire burn more briskly, poured some coal oil on the wood, which immediately ignited, and the flames burst out, setting fire to the oil in her hand. The can burst, scattering its contents around the room, and her clothes caught fire and could not be removed until she was burned so badly that she died about four o'clock this morning. Her brother is seriously though not dangerously burned, the others slightly.

More from the "Mud."

We observe by a Rochester paper received this morning, that Mr. Quincy, with whom some of the mud and rock was left to be assayed, has made his report. He found that "twelve ounces of the thoroughly dried mud yielded seventy-two grains of gold, at which rate a ton of the mud would yield four hundred ounces, Troy, of gold. A pound of one specimen of the rock yielded nine ounces of gold; at which rate a ton of the rock would yield thirty-seven and a half ounces, Troy, of gold." This is but confirmation of previous assays made of the stuff which came out of this extraordinary deposit. While it is nothing new to people hereabouts, it may possibly serve to convince those abroad that there is something in the "mud" after all.

We may be permitted to say in this connection that letters have been received from Mr. Glass, who, in company with Mr. J. T. Bell, is superintending the assay of the four barrels by the Wycoff process, in New York, that also far as the assay of the mud has been made, the yield will turn out as rich as the most sanguine anticipated. The assay of the yellow ochreous matter had not been completed at the date of the letter, but it was the opinion of Mr. Wycoff that it would yield from $300 to $400 to the ton. Mr. Wycoff says the ores are altogether different from anything he had yet handled. It was expected the assay would be completed yesterday.

A Change of Sentiment.

Those who have been constant readers of the Globe must remember how it has constantly denounced the Hon. John A. McDonald as the tool and cat's paw of Mr. Cartier. Who can forget the bitter philippics that Brown has uttered against the Hon. John A. McDonald, denouncing him as a sycophant in the Cabinet, and wholly at the mercy of Mr. Cartier. Like every other subject upon which Mr. Brown has taken sides, he is at present pursuing a different course, and it is now Mr. Cartier who is nobody, and Mr. McDonald is the power in the Cabinet. Upon this point the Globe of the 6th inst. says:—

"Sir John A. McDonald is the great power in the Government in spite of the small number of votes he commands. He possesses more experience and more facility in dealing with public men than any of his colleagues, and on every question his fiat is law in the Cabinet. Mr. Cartier, were he disposed to dispute his mandate, is at the mercy of Mr. McDonald. There is something wanted for his own section he follows the McDonald lead."

What a change has come over the dreams of the Hon. Geo. Brown. A few months in the Cabinet as a colleague of Sir John A. McDonald has taught him this important lesson, that even he, the great agitator and powerful financier, was no match for Mr. McDonald, and as it now suits his purpose he admits that Mr. McDonald is the "great power in the Government." Why is this admission made? It is easily explained: Mr. Brown desires to make the Hon. John A. the great lumber in Ontario, thinking by that means the better to draw the Reform party closer together. In order that the reader may be better understand the true character of this agitator, we give the following graphic description of him, from the Toronto Telegraph, a portrait which will be readily recognized by every politician in the country:—

"He has been the bone of the Reform party, a curse to his adopted country—a mere demagogue, a like every other demagogue, a fish, long-mouthed and foul-mouthed, ill-informed out of the circle of Canadian politics and national science. Since his election he has been a puppet, as he is called for it, or he served his purposes, nation against nation, creed against creed, stirring up his own miserable passions of the people to his own miserable or party purposes. He has alternately deceived and slandered his greatest benefactors in the country, and his malice has followed many of our best men to their graves. His sycophantic support has excited the disgust of even his most servile supporters. Witness his treatment of the late Hon. Robert Baldwin, the father of the Reform party, and still more recently of the Hon. M. H. Pelee, as good-hearted and open-handed a man as there is in the country. And yet this self-appointed custos morum of Canada presumes to assume the political consistency and patriotism. He alone is the true reformer—he alone is the saviour of the country. God help the country that has George Brown for its saviour. A political mountebank, a needy adventurer, who has been by what right he presumes to dictate to us Canadians what course we should pursue—what men we should support. Is the man who trotted out Charles Roussin against the Hon. Robert Baldwin, a gentleman every link of him, and like a supple sycophant, who flatters one fit to be trusted? Is the political purveyor who supported Chalmers against White, and who flatters the Reform party in some phase one day John A. McDonald and the next exhorts his vocabulary of billingsgate upon him, the man who is lauded forth as the great apostle of reform, and progress and political consistency? Is the man who has split up the ranks of the Reform party—who drove Hincks and his followers into the arms of the Conservatives, and consigned the old shades of a ten years' opposition, one worthy of celebration or support? We can understand it, when the Globe of the 6th inst. says that he is one of the greatest traitors of the age, and that he is the greatest enemy of the Reform party."

ALBERT UNIVERSITY CONVENTION.—The Senate of this University held its first convention in the College Chapel on Wednesday the 3rd inst. At three p.m. the well-filled hall; the Rev. Dr. Smith, President of the Senate, occupying the chair, having the Rev. Dr. Richardson, his colleague on his right, and the Rev. President Carman on his left. The seats surrounding them on the dais were filled with Senators. On looking over the assembly one at once saw that it was largely made up of leading ministers of the M. E. Church, and friends of the College from abroad, though there was a fair representation of theological gentlemen from our own country. The Bachelors elect and the under-graduates wore rosettes of Prince Albert's colors. After prayer by the Rev. Dr. Richardson, the President of the College, appointed by the Bishop Chancellor for the day, called upon I. B. Aylesworth for the first of the four Baccalaureate Theses. His subject was "The Bachelor in Arts," and was dealt with as though the speaker comprehended the dignity and responsibility of his position. Freeman Lane was then called, and delivered with spirit and effect his patriotic thesis on "The prospects of the Young Canadian." Thomas McIntyre next spoke on "Know thyself and thy Home," showing firmly the part played by Asia, Europe, and America in the improvement of the family of man. The closing thesis was an able exposition of the origin, methods, and utility of "Science," by Robert B. Carman. The orators of the day showed that heavy drudges had been made on their time by examinations, &c., as the effect of excellent productions was sometimes a little marred by defects in memorizing. After the delivery of the thesis the candidates were admitted to degrees. The following gentlemen upon the call of the Registrar, Rev. Dr. Haggood, were presented in convocation by Prof. Wright, the chancellor conferring the degrees: B. A.—Aylesworth, I. B. Napane; Carman, R. B. Iroquois; Lane, F. Augusta; McIntyre, Thos. Duart. A prize in Zoology, donated by Prof. Nichol, was then presented by him to the successful candidate, J. H. Bell, of Cape Town, P. E. I. After some brief and earnest remarks by the Chancellor, convocation rose at 5 p.m. leaving the audience to be dismissed in due form by the "National Anthem and Benediction." We believe our youthful University has every reason to be satisfied with its first convocation.

SOCIETY OF FRIENDS.—The first yearly meeting of the Society of Friends in Canada was commenced on July 27th at Pickering, and closed on July 3rd. There were about 1000 members present, including delegates from ten yearly meetings in the United States, and one from Ireland. The meetings were informal, was in every respect, a most satisfactory and pleasant one. The public meetings of the Society were held on Sunday, in three churches of the town, besides the one at the yearly meeting house, and all were fully attended. The yearly meeting house recently erected at Pickering is a plain substantial brick building, capable of accommodating about 1500 persons. The yearly meetings are held each year, commencing on the last Thursday in June. Until this year the Friends in Canada have been connected with and held their annual meetings in the United States.

American Despatches.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Work on the Central Pacific Railroad is being pushed forward with energy, and it is expected to be completed over the mountains in November. Sixteen thousand workmen are engaged in grading from San Francisco to Truckee Summit, and a tunnel 1625 feet long will be finished in August. Large orders have been sent east for cars and locomotives. The earnings of the road for June were $122,000.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Mexican Minister, Senor Romero, discredits the reported shooting of Santa Anna, as the Governor of Campeche, at last accounts, had orders to keep him in prison until further orders.

Railways of the Dominion.

In addition to the unequalled water highway which we possess in our great lakes and rivers, the Dominion has no less than 2,437 miles of railway already open, the construction of which will be finished in August. Large orders have been sent east for cars and locomotives. The earnings of the road for June were $122,000.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Mexican Minister, Senor Romero, discredits the reported shooting of Santa Anna, as the Governor of Campeche, at last accounts, had orders to keep him in prison until further orders.

FIRE AND LIFE.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.
THE principles on which this Company is founded contain all the elements required to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and afford every facility to intending assurers.

One of the advantages secured by those who insure their lives with this Company is that the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement to Ten per Cent of the Net Life
Income. This most important restriction shows that the interests of participating policy holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion of premiums expended for Management
Must Largely Influence Profits
and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1868, and all those who wish to participate in the profits should insure at once.

SYNOPSIS*GOLD MINING ACT OF 1864,

27 and 28 Vic. Chap. 9. and the Gold Mining Amendment Act 1865.

29 Vic. Chap. 9.

THE Gold Mining Act of 1864 provides that Governor in Council may appoint Officers for Divisions.

Two Divisions erected in Lower Canada: "Chaudiere Gold Mining Division," Richard Pope, Esq., Gold Mining Inspector, St. Francis de la Beauce, and "St. Francis Gold Mining Division," J. B. Giguere, Esq., Gold Mining Inspector, St. Jean, 16th July, 1864, amended 30th July, 1864 and 22nd Sept., 1865.

One Division erected in Upper Canada by Proclamation, 21st March, 1867: "Queen's Gold Mining Division," constituting the Township of St. Charles, Chatham, Plymton, and North and South Canons, in the County of Frontenac, situated north of the Township of Miller and Canons, the Township in the County of Addington, situated north of the Townships of St. Lawrence and the Township in the County of Hastings, situated north of the Township of Belmont, and the Township in the County of Peterborough situated north of the Township of Belmont, Alfred Argyle Campbell, Esq., of Belleville Inspector.

No person to mine without a licence.
Two kinds of licences, one "Crown Lands Gold Lacence," $2 per month, for unimproved Crown Lands, and one "Private Lands Gold Licence," $1 per month, for private lands, the miner first obtaining consent of the proprietor.

Crown Lands Gold Licence may state out and work claim on unimproved Crown Lands as follows:

ALLUVIAL MINES.

On a river or large creek, 20 feet front by 50 from the water's edge. On small creeks, 40 by 50 from centre of stream. In gully 60 feet along same, and from hill to hill. On surface or hill side, 40 feet square. In case of hillside, officer may grant larger claim. In bed of river officer to determine size and position of claim.

QUARTZ MINES.

To each miner, 100 feet along bed by 100 on each side from the centre of the bed. For companies, 25 feet additional along bed for every additional miner, but not to exceed 500 feet altogether.

Claims to be claimed by the officer, and to be laid out in quadrilateral and rectangular shapes, horizontal, and bounded under the surface by lines vertical to the horizon.

Crown Lands licence to work continuously and renew licence at one time.

Discoverer entitled to free licence for one year in manner provided by Act.

Party waits to be left between claims on Crown Lands, parties remaining party wait to construct a new mode of access to water.

Crown Lands licencees not to cause damage to others.

General use of water reserved opposite claim on Crown Lands.

Registration of claim on Crown Lands temporarily unavailable, allowed for $1. Proviso: claim to be marked.

Penalty provided for removal of stakes on claims.

All licencees to make returns.

Quartz crushing machines to be licensed. Fee $5 per month. Books to be kept and returns furnished.
Act extends to parties mining near Gold Mining Divisions.

Sale of liquor prohibited except under licence, monthly fee, $5.

Provisions made for appointment of constables and police, and for preservation of peace.

Persons working under Gold Mining Patents to furnish returns and pay royalty, &c. (only one such patent per township, viz. for the Seigneurie of Rivard, and under the Chaudiere—one of the Divisions erected, and royalty same committed to fee under Gold Mining Act).

Governor in Council may make regulations.

THE GOLD MINING AMENDMENT ACT OF 1865.

Repeals clause in Gold Mining Act of 1864 providing that no licence fee shall be exacted for exploring for gold until the previous metal is discovered.

Objects that Tavern Licence provision in previous Act may be applied to territory covered by Mining Patents.

And that disputes between miners and holders of Mining Patents in said Mining Division may be determined by officer of division.

INFERIOR METALS AND SALE OF MINERAL

LANDS.

The following are the Regulations:—

DEPARTMENT OF CROWN LANDS.

Ottawa, 13th July, 1866.

REGULATIONS for the sale of Mineral Lands, approved by His Excellency the Governor General in Council.

INFERIOR METALS.

1. That each regular mining tract in unsurveyed territory shall consist of blocks of two hundred or four hundred acres.

2. That the dimensions of each regular mining tract of four hundred acres be forty chains in front by one hundred chains in depth, and smaller tracts except one hundred and in the same proportion. The bearings of the outline to be North and South, and East and West, and economically in the unsurveyed territories of Upper Canada and parallel to the outlines of the Township elsewhere.

3. That mining tracts bordering upon lakes and rivers shall have their frontage upon such waters, and shall be subject in all cases to the public rights in navigable or shoalable waters, and that mining tracts, so situated, shall have a narrow depth of one hundred chains, back from such river or lake, (exclusive of road allowance of one chain in width, which shall be reserved along the margin of such river or lake) in conformity with the above mentioned bearings.

4. That mining tracts in unsurveyed territory shall be surveyed by a Provincial Land Surveyor, and contained within the same point in previous surveys, so that the tract may be laid down on the office maps of the territory at the point of application, and shall be required to furnish with their application the surveyor's plan, field notes and description thereof in accordance with the foregoing regulations, and to the satisfaction of the Department, and pay the price of one dollar per acre, into the Department of Crown Lands at the time of making application.

5. That in surveyed townships, land presenting indications of minerals be sold on the above conditions, but at not less than one dollar per acre in any township, and at the same price as the other lands in the township when it is more than one dollar per acre.

6. That mining lands in surveyed townships be sold by the local agents for each, but all lands in unsurveyed territory shall be sold by the Department.

The above regulations do not apply to mines of gold and silver.

GOLD AND SILVER.

7. That in selling the lands in the gold mining divisions between purchasers for actual settlement, bona fide and settled, the Government shall be entitled to sell the land for the present price and terms (subject to an increase of $2 an acre, and the order of the Minister 1864, when actually worked for gold, and to be later for one dollar an acre, cash.

8. That in all Letters Patent for lands, the clause reserving all mines of gold and silver be omitted.

9. All previous regulations inconsistent with the above are cancelled.

Who and What is a Canadian.

NOMENCLATURE AND NATIONALITY.
The Quebec Mercury says:—"In our last we defined what a Canadian was, namely, an inhabitant of the Dominion by birth or residence, and full allegiance at law prior to July 1st, 1867. What a Canadian was it was hard to say only a very short time ago. Outside the frontiers of Sydenham's Canada, a Canadian meant anybody who lived in the country within the frontier there was a geographical limit—Upper Canadian and Lower Canadian. Again, these were locally divided.

In Upper Canada new comers were classed according to their places of nativity.—
The people of the soil called themselves
"Canadians" without any prefix, addition, qualification. Still there were certain exceptions. The few descendants of French settlers, located mostly about the St. Clair river and the few stragglers from Lower Canada and the gangs of her lumbermen and the voyageurs from the North-West, were called "French" Canadians, the prefix being scrupulously given them. The Indians, also, were not admitted to be "Canadians," and further, the "coloured element" of negro stock was omitted from the category.

In Lower Canada the word "Canadian" was used without qualification or proviso, was usually understood to comprise a French "Canadian" only; in fact, the prefix "French" was silently assumed as intended. To get over this, various composite appellations were resorted to—"Anglo-Canadian" meaning, as Bala will explain it, "an English-speaking Protestant born on the soil." But besides these were tried lots of duplicate descriptions, such as "British and Canadian," a "Lower Canadian and not the less an Englishman," and other gross contradictions in terms as palpable and absurd as these.

"The Dominion" gets rid of all these private composite expressions. It also gets rid of the folly of men calling themselves by the names of countries they never saw, calling a land they never were in and never likely to be in, "home," and relieves such persons from embarrassment about their description. Thus a man of mixed blood claiming origin from several nations, need not for the future carry a genealogy in his mouth or give a description of himself, which would consign him to a foreign prison if he put it in application for a French passport, or subject him to an indictment for perjury if he swore it in an English Court. Persons also of this kind, naturally seeking the "world's best approval," laid themselves open to the following sort of reproach: "Sir, you claim a country you never saw and a name that country would not accord you, because your great grandfather who differed in nationality from the other seven seventy in the same degree, belonged to it."
Where that country Ashantee and he a negro, would you do the same? If not how can you as a man of truth and honour assume that country's name and title?
In fact a number of our citizens are relieved from a position which strangers would regard as that of impostors, and of very service wealth-adorned impostors too.

Thus our countrymen in the great principles of candour and manhood and the extension of that great and stern virtue of patriotism which is at once the keystone and the guardian of so many others, and to which Sydenham's Act of Union, now happily dead and buried, was so fatal an antithesis.

Another change of nomenclature takes place. The "Acadians" lose their national appellation and become "Canadians."— Canada should indeed see some measure of justice, however tardy, due to that grossly ill-used people. The best of the Dominion in the same degree, belonged to it.
Where that country Ashantee and he a negro, would you do the same? If not
how can you as a man of truth and honour assume that country's name and title?
In fact a number of our citizens are relieved from a position which strangers
would regard as that of impostors, and of
very service wealth-adorned impostors too.

Thus our countrymen in the great principles of candour and manhood and the extension of that great and stern virtue of patriotism which is at once the keystone
and the guardian of so many others, and to which Sydenham's Act of Union, now happily dead and buried, was so fatal an antithesis.

Causes of Cholera.

In an interesting paper read before the New York Medical Journal Association,
Dr. Herzog lays down as one of the principal causes of the origin and spread of cholera, as an epidemic, the existence of a super-saturated soil, and the fact that the medium for air and water to a certain depth.
The soil, as the natural receptacle for human excrements, is, he believes, under the above conditions, the great chemical ferment basis for spore-breeding, so beautifully limited in Thome's laboratory, while in contact, the impermeability of the soil for water and air represents the chemical process so well known as putrefaction, or local immunity against cholera.
A number of charts, published by Pettenkofer in connection with the Bavarian Scientific Report, 1854, represent in differently coloured lines a large number of places indicated or exempted from cholera, according to the permeability or impermeability of the soil for water and air, independent of the mineralogical aggregations, but always influenced by physical compactness or porosity of the ground. Similar constant observations have been observed in many places of the world, but never understood or explained on their scientific relations.

"The greater part of this city" (New York), says the doctor, "is above the malarial influence of a pernicious soil in relation to epidemic cholera. Our privies, constantly flooded with fresh water, are self-disinfecting, furnishing preventing indications. A case infected outside may end fatally in Madison avenue, and by the very limited infectious focus of filth and clothing infect the nearest persons accessible, but the powerful ferment (specific miasma) producer—the soil—is harmless for the greater part of the city. This, my personal opinion, I expressed long before the outbreak of cholera in this city, and I see it fully confirmed from the mortality in streets and houses during the last epidemic. No allusion is made or conclusion formed in the report of 1866 on these, for many of our fellow-citizens, so important and consoling facts. I give you the analogous experience made in my own native city, Munich, 1854, to justify my deliberately expressed opinion. During the whole intense epidemic, two houses, a poorhouse and a penitentiary, situated on porous soil, surrounded by cholera, without any restricted intercourse, without any disinfectants, the germ introduced (by light and fatal cases), the cholera never took hold in the slightest degree among the hundreds of generally susceptible people of these institutions; a remarkable and surprising exception. Springs rising on the top of the hill were running in their course to the river below, beneath the soil of the two large buildings, and prevented by constant fresh water, the germs and dangerous growth of the exotic spore, the product of the specific cholera fermentations. Besides the striking analogy of these two institutions in Munich and our Croton water-washed privies, such cases teach us the moral lesson that sometimes apparent deviations in facts with exact investigations become convicting proofs of fundamental truths."

FROM OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, July 10.

The office of Frost & Wood, foundrymen, was broken into on Sunday night, the safe blown open and nine hundred dollars stolen.

FROM MONTREAL.

THE QUEBEC MINISTRY.

MONTREAL, July 10.

The Miner gives the following as the Local Ministry for Quebec:

Premier and Solicitor General—Mr. Cauchon.
Attorney General—Mr. Dunkin.
Finance Minister—Henry Starnes.
Provincial Secretary—L. Archambault.
Commissioner of Crown Lands—G. Guilmet.
Commissioner of Public Works—Mons. Beaulieu.
Speaker of Council—Mr. Irvine.

The Ontario Ministry.

A telegram from one of the members of the Privy Council informs us that the Hon. John Sandfield Macdonald has been offered and has accepted the Premiership of Ontario. It is likely he will have his Ministry formed in a few days.

THE INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY.—At the celebration at Halifax on the first July, Dr. Tupper announced that the construction of the Intercolonial Railway is to be at once proceeded with, commencing at the Nova Scotia end, and that the section from Moncton to Truro would be completed without delay.

Twelfth of July.—The twelfth of July will be celebrated in Stirling by a grand procession. Several Lodges from South Hastings, including the Belleville Lodges, will participate in the celebration. The members of the Belleville Lodges will leave at 7 o'clock in the morning, headed by the 15th Battalion Band, and proceed in carriages to Stirling. From arrangements that are being made, we anticipate that this will be one of the most imposing demonstrations ever held in North Hastings.

VOLUNTEER BATTALION.—The Kingston Wig says: "When the Volunteers from Prince Edward and Northumberland were quartered in Kingston in June, 1866, during the Fenian excitement, 50 cents a day was paid in many instances by Captains of Companies for billets for their men. Others that received 40 cents were dissatisfied, and this dissatisfaction a suit arose, and was tried yesterday in the Division Court. Mr. Thos. McKinnon was the Captain of a Company for the full 50 cents a day for board for some of his men. Judge Dwyer ruled that the plaintiff could only claim the Government allowance, 40 cents a day, which had been paid."

The Quebec Ministry.

Hon. M. Cauchon has been sent for by Lieut.-Governor Belcher to form a Ministry for the Province of Quebec. Mr. Cauchon at first declined, but Sir Narcisse Beaubien asked him to reconsider. He consented to do so, and subsequently consented to accept the task of forming a Ministry, on the condition that he should receive no salary. We believe the Ministry will be completed to-day. Several gentlemen have been spoken of as likely to be members of the local Ministry. Among others, the following names have been mentioned:—Messrs. Simard, Beaubien, Irvine, Dunkin and Archambault.

The Assay in New York.

Mr. Glass, who had the four barrels of mud and ore in charge, returned from New York last evening, and reports that the assay of the yellow ochreous substance yielded fully more than was reported in our paper of yesterday,—that it would produce at least $500 to the ton. He says they found great difficulty in obtaining the proper machinery for separating the gold, and that in fact what is called the Wyoff process would not answer at all. The machinery in use there and by miners in Colorado, California and Georgia, is not adapted for these ores, and it is the opinion that they will be compelled to use the old Chilian mill, and have the ores roasted. When Mr. Glass left the assay was not complete. Some fifty pounds of the rock had been crushed and was in amalgam, from the richness of the ore it was expected to produce a large yield. Considerable interest was manifested in the result by a large number of scientific and practical miners, who, in company with reporters of the leading New York papers and of the Associated Press, examined the ores and sand. Every one who saw it pronounced it exceedingly rich, and those who have had extensive experience in the California, Colorado, Georgia and North Carolina gold mines, said they never saw anything so rich. It was expected the assay of the four barrels would be completed to-day.

We are glad to learn that it is the intention of the Richardson Mine Company to commence operations at once. Probably work will be resumed at the mine within a week.

Messrs. Howland and Brown.

Mr. Howland having paid a visit to his constituents in the West Riding of York, was met by the Hon. George Brown at Weston, where the gladness poured upon his victim with all the ferocity of his nature. He was, however, met by Mr. Howland, and vanquished. The story about $3,000 a year for each minister, turns out to be a fiction of the central agitator's brain, and the division of the Finance departments, instead of being the work of Mr. Galt, was adopted by the Cabinet on the recommendation of Mr. Howland, the gentleman who formerly held the office of Finance Minister in the Reform Cabinet. Had this change been effected at the instigation of Mr. Brown, or an exclusively Reform Cabinet, it would have been heralded forth to the world as a great advantage to the finances of the country, and preventing in future, the extravagances of Finance Ministers. It did not emanate from him, however, and consequently it is cause for agitation and false finding. The electors in West York evidently have no relish for the agitator at the present moment, and notwithstanding one of his vehement speeches, passed resolutions sustaining Mr. Howland in the course he had taken, and the Hon. George proceeded to Toronto disgusted with the people who would not follow his lead.

The Brownite Catholic Convention.

The Hon. George Brown succeeded in gathering some two hundred Roman Catholics at the Convention yesterday in Toronto. But the result of their deliberations is that we venture to say Brown is heartily sick of the whole business before this time, and would be glad if he had not meddled with this class of Her Majesty's subjects. The people who controlled the convention were generally men without standing or influence among the Roman Catholics; the men who shone at the convention, were such characters as "Sunburst" O'Hanly, of Ottawa, and the result will be the reverse of what the originators of the scheme supposed. All the dignitaries of the church, Bishops and Priests, denounced the whole proceedings, and complained of the usurpation of ecclesiastical powers by the parties who called the convention. The principal laymen of the church, such men as James O'Reilly, of Kingston, expressed their entire disapprobation of the whole thing, and would have nothing to do with it. In fact it did not receive the countenance of any of the leading or influential members of that body, and all the resolutions they passed are like so much waste paper. It is the last and most contemptible of all the dodges of the Hon. George Brown to gain the ascendancy, but it must signify fail. It was a big bid by the Roman Catholic vote at the coming elections, but the logic of the Bishops and Priests has to the convention, show that at least they have no sympathy with the arch agitator, and that he cannot count upon their influence in the approaching contest.

The Maritime Provinces.

From our exchanges from the Maritime Provinces we obtain the following information. Respecting the composition of the new Cabinet, and how it was received in New Brunswick, the St. John's Telegraph says:—"Thus, four important offices are located to the Maritime Provinces—that of the Customs not being second in responsibility and extent of patronage, to any in the Dominion. The cast has given great satisfaction in this city; it is acknowledged on all sides that ample justice has been done to Maritime interests, especially when we find the fisheries placed under the protection of a Minister from New Brunswick famed for the able manner in which he has advocated local rights and interests. It is very gratifying to know that the Cabinet will be sustained by a majority of representatives in the Commons from Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick, and probably from Nova Scotia as well. Notwithstanding the Brown Convention in Toronto, nothing can be more confidently predicted than that the Cabinet will secure at least fifty out of the eighty-four constituencies in the Province, where there will be fusion of Conservatives and Reformers both in the Commons and the Local Legislature. It is thought the New Brunswick elections will all be over by the present month. It is not improbable that the writ has already issued."

They do a pretty big business in Salmon at St. John's, judging from the following which is taken from the News of this city:—"We learn that Mr. Hamlin will send to the American market by Steamer to-day over eleven hundred salmon, some seven hundred and fifty of which was received from the North Shore by rail yesterday, and the remainder caught in this vicinity and at Irishtown. They are packed in ice for transportation."

DOMINION DAY was celebrated with great enthusiasm both in New Brunswick and in Nova Scotia. All business was suspended, and it was observed as a day of rejoicing by the inhabitants. Some of the public men, however, made doleful lamentations after the fashion of St. Hyacinthe, and endeavored to display their hatred of the Union in a manner obnoxious to the loyal inhabitants of St. John's. How this feeling was received by the people is best indicated by the following from the St. John's News:—"As a rule the banners displayed were indications of true, honest, zealous and unyielding patriotism and loyalty. In one or two instances, however, a rather different spirit was manifested. Dr. Livingston, who has all along been a consistent enemy to Confederation, openly attacked his vexation of spirit at its accomplishment by raising his flag half mast. This display, however congenial it may have been to the Doctor's present morbid state of political feeling, was not equally so to a party of Volunteers, who observing it, volunteered their services to raise it to the top. On the Doctor indignantly refusing to accept their proffered services the volunteers went to work and elevated the flag without his permission. It was shortly afterwards taken down quietly, and we heard of another gentleman who resides in St. James Street, and who was for a series of years closely connected with the hydraulic institution of this city who displayed his flag at half mast for a short time but speedily discovered the necessity and prudence of having it removed."

The News further says:—"The factions were able, however, to do little more than either insult the flag which affords them shelter and protection, or interfere with innocent amusements of the grotesque band known as the Calthumpians. The aggressors in both cases, by their acts, weakened rather than strengthened the cause they profess to serve, and galvanized for themselves the odium which belongs to men of their class. Who they were and how they acted will be remembered by loyal subjects in our good City. The less vituperative and demonstrative of the Anti party expressed disposition to fall into line quietly, and to accept that which they were powerless to prevent. The demonstrations in the country districts, save of course in two or three of the hot-beds of Antism, were all that could be desired."

Welchpool, in the island of Campbell, has been proclaimed a Port of Entry for the Islands of Campbell and Grand Manan. The Parish of Richmond, in the County of Carleton, has also been proclaimed a Port of Entry under the name of the Port of Richmond Railway Station. A Gaspe correspondent of the Quebec Chronicle writing under date of the 11th inst. says that the weather was beautiful and the fishing so far had been better than average. Some very large fish had been taken. The cod fishery had not been very good.

Several schooners from the Magdalen Islands and the North Shore were at Gaspe for the purpose of procuring salt and provisions for the cod fishery. The fishermen from Esquimaux, North Shore, report that the seal fishery had been good there.

The P. B. Harbord says: A fishing schooner of 40 tons, called the Deatle, of Yarmouth, was a few days ago wrecked on Gannet Rock Ledge, and eight seamen drowned. The captain, who was in the water, was clinging to a piece of the wreck, was the only person saved.

Town Council.

TUESDAY, July 9, 1867.

PRESENT.—His Worship the Mayor and Messrs. Jones, Kennedy, Levesque, Sutherland, Brown, McIntosh, Waters, Holden, Robertson, Henderson, Tananahill, Foster. A petition from E. W. Scott, applying for aid to erect mile posts between Belleville and Madoc, was referred to the Finance Committee.

Some petitions for remission of taxes were referred to appropriate Committees.

A communication from the Police Magistrate, submitting a return of the fines for the quarter ending 1st July 1867, which amounted to $71 25. The Police Magistrate, in submitting the return, represented that the Treasurer informed him that $200 was paid for his quarterly salary by the Town Council, but as the accepting of that sum would be acquiescing in and continuing an arrangement which ceased when the present Municipal Act came in force, your memorialists only received from the Treasurer $150, being the lowest sum fixed by the statute referred to, and have made no return of the fees. The statute must annul the By-Law, if inconsistent with it. My unwillingness to accept a less sum than fixed by law was made known to the Council early in the year, and, if rightly informed, the Police Committee reported, or intended to report, some time since, recommending that $150 per annum be paid the Police Magistrate and the fees of the Court. Such appearing to be the view of said committee, your memorialists trusts that the course he has taken will meet the approbation of the Council. The Police Magistrate also begs to state that it would be most desirable on his part that a salary should be fixed whenever it should please the Council, in lieu of all fees in town cases.

The Harbor and Town Property Committee reported, recommending that arrangements be made with H. B. Rathbun & Son to allow them to erect a pier on the island, and that the Town Solicitor be instructed to draw up the necessary documents for the same. A lengthy discussion took place upon the question. Mr. Levesque contended that it would be an obstruction, that it would act as a dam, and cause an overflow of water on the banks, that it would increase the difficulty in the winter with the anchor ice, and that the Council had no power to lease the harbor for any such purpose.

Mr. Tananahill said the town solicitor had given the opinion that there was no legal difficulty in the way, and the town engineer had reported that it would be a great improvement to the harbor, and he knew, and every one else knew who was acquainted with the business of this firm, that if this privilege was granted them, it would be a great advantage to the business of the town. Mr. Holden, Mr. Henderson, Mr. Robertson, and Mr. Sutherland supported Mr. Tananahill. Considerable discussion took place, when the report was adopted on the following division:

YEAS.—Messrs. Tananahill, Holden, Foster, McIntosh, Henderson, Brown, Sutherland, and Robertson.

NAYS.—Messrs. Waters, Kennedy, Jones, and Levesque.

The Finance Committee's report recommending the payment of sundry accounts, was passed in committee and reported adopted.

Mr. Sutherland moved, seconded by Mr. Kennedy, that the Police Magistrate be requested not to collect the fines imposed by the collection of said fines. This resolution was not taken as a precedent on any future case. Some discussion took place upon this motion, and it being understood that in future the law should be allowed to take its course, the motion was carried.

On motion of Mr. Levesque, seconded by Mr. Kennedy, John Kerr was appointed to collect the taxes for 1864, having one month for that purpose, and he was required to make a final return of the Roll at the expiration of one month.

Mr. Levesque asked if the Chairman of the Gas Committee would move the adoption of the report.

Mr. Holden had changed his opinion with regard to this question. He had examined more thoroughly the position of the Gas Company, and he believed the Town would be no better off at the end of three years than it was now. Besides a large portion of the tax payers were opposed to the Town having anything to do with it.

Mr. Levesque then moved the adoption of the report.

Some discussion took place upon the report. The Mayor said he would like to have the Council go into Committee on the report, so that he might express his views. Council went into committee: Mr. Waters in the chair. Mr. Robertson suggested that the Council try it one year instead of three years. Several members supported this suggestion. Mr. Holden moved the following amendment to the report, seconded by Mr. Jones, that all after the word "recommended" be struck out, and the following inserted:—"That this Council in law should be allowed to take its course, the motion was carried."

The Mayor supported the amendment, and after further discussion it was adopted.—Committee rose and reported. Report adopted. Council adjourned.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, evening, July 9.—In the House of Lords, this evening, Earl Derby strongly denounced the action of the Mexican Government in putting Maximilian to death; but he made no disclosures as to what measures the Government intend to adopt in regard to Mexico.

LIVERPOOL, evening, July 9.—Two business firms in this city, Messrs. Bond & Belber, and Messrs. Miller & Southall, largely engaged in the Brazilian trade, have suspended payment.

LONDON, July 9, evening.—The Sultan of Turkey has accepted an invitation of the Emperor of Austria to visit him in Vienna. It is accordingly announced that the Sultan will return to Constantinople by way of Vienna, where he will remain for one week, the guest of Emperor Francis Joseph.

VIENNA, July 9, evening.—The Emperor Joseph has finally decided to visit Paris, and has fixed the period of his visit during the month of September.

BERLIN, July 9, evening.—Arrangements have been perfected for a Conference between the King of Prussia and the Sovereigns of the German States, which will take place at an early day.

NEW YORK, July 10.—The steamer Atlantis, from London, has arrived.

LONDON, July 10, noon.—Consols 94½; Bonds 73; Erie 44½; Ill. C. 80½.

LIVERPOOL, noon July 10.—Cotton quiet; Upends 10½d. Broadstuffs quiet. Other stuffs unaltered.

QUEENSTOWN, July 10.—The steamer Norwalk, from New York June 29, has arrived.

LONDON, July 10, 2 p.m.—Consols and 5-20's firmer since opening, and 1 to 1½ higher.—Cotton firmer, demand better, prices unchanged. Other markets without quotable alteration.

American Despatches.

BOSTON, July 10.—Samuel Gilbert died yesterday, nearly ninety years of age. He established the first public newspaper in Boston.

Last evening Professor King ascended in his new mammoth balloon "Hyperion." He was accompanied by seven other gentlemen.—Several thousand people witnessed the ascension, which was very successful.

NEW YORK, July 10.—The Herald's New Orleans telegram says: Madame Juarez, wife of the Mexican President, accompanied by Senator Romero, Mexican Minister at Washington, and her suite, arrived at New Orleans yesterday, and was to have sailed to-day for Vera Cruz in the United States revenue cutter Wilderness, which, notwithstanding the stories current to the effect that it was ready to sail with important despatches some days ago, has been detained to carry the madame to Mexico.

The Austrian soldiers in Mobile and New Orleans are to be given transportation home, or permitted to settle in this country, as they choose.

The Tribune's Washington telegram says Mr. Romero asserts that the trial of Maximilian has taken place with the strictest regard to law, that the unfortunate Prince had eminent counsel employed in his defence, and that the proceedings of the trial, now in course of publication in Mexico, will afford ample evidence to that fact.

It has come to light, within the last few days, that our Government is now negotiating for the purchase of the Sandwich Islands. This negotiation began several months ago, and it is said will soon be consummated. Several prominent men from the Pacific States are very anxious for the acquisition of the islands by our Government. It has been hinted in public institutions on many occasions that in case Queen Emma, the present ruler of the islands, should die, that the Americans residing on the islands would raise the United States flag, and call on our Government to take possession. The sympathies of the inhabitants of the islands are said to be in favor of our Government.

The Times special says: Pertinent to the impeachment question, it may be said that Chief Justice Chase has been very candid and positively that the impeachment movement was one of great folly. He expresses no opinion as to the facts developed, but simply as to the policy of the movement.

A heavy tornado visited America, Duchess County, on the 8th. The buildings at the railroad depot were blown down and trees uprooted.

RECONSTRUCTION.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The House passed Stevens' Reconstruction bill this afternoon.

EXECUTION OF MAXIMILIAN.

NEW ORLEANS, July 9.—The Times of this city has a special despatch from Rome, saying, giving a detailed account of the execution of Maximilian, Marmon and Mejia. None of the prisoners were blind or blindfolded, nor was any indignity offered to them. Maximilian, before being shot, recapitulated the causes that brought him to Mexico, denied the authority of the court that tried and sentenced him, and hoped that his death would stop further effusion of blood in Mexico. Just before he was led out for execution, he called to the sergeant of the guard and gave him a handful of gold, and requested as a favor that the soldiers would shoot him at his heart. His last words were "poor Carlotta." Five balls entered his breast, but those did not hit him immediately, so two other soldiers were ordered to shoot him in the side, and in this manner he was dispatched.—Much dissatisfaction was expressed at the scene. Miramon read from a paper which he had written, that the only regret he felt in dying was that the Liberals should remain in power, and that they should have power to point out to children as children of a traitor. Mejia made no address.

The adventures of a spiritual medium, according to a Chicago paper, consists in being twice married, abandoning both wives and eloping with the female deceivers, who had abandoned her husband and three infants.

Napoleon and the Sultan are reported to be distant cousins. The Emperor's mother was a daughter of Josephine, by her first husband, while the Sultan's grandmother was a cousin of Josephine, having been captured by an Algerine corsair and sent to the Seraglio at Constantinople.

The Halifax Chronicle, the organ of the anti-unionists, whom the Toronto Globe says has accepted the situation, went into deep mourning on Confederation day. The same issue says that the unionists are prosecuting their campaign on principles worthy of a worse cause, if any such exist.

The Ottawa Times says: "We know not a single constituency in this region of the country where a Brouillette has the ghost of a chance. The palaver of the Globe about 'Reformers' electing 60 out of the 82 representatives of Ontario is mere bombast—by 'Reformers' it means Brouillette's."

The trial of Surratt at present is going on in Washington having been productive of testimony to the effect that Surratt was concealed in a religious house in Lower Canada. La Minerve intimates that Surratt secured the assistance of priests in Canada by telling them that he was only cognizant of the plan to abduct Lincoln, and that he was gravely compromised by the imprudence of Booth in substituting assassination for abduction.

Election Meeting.

THERE will be a meeting of the friends and supporters of the nominees of the Liberal Convention—Dr. Holden and Mr. Lalor—at COLEMAN'S HALL, To-morrow, Thursday Evening, at 7 o'clock.
Belleville, July 10, 1867. D2t

OF THE
WEST RIDING
COUNTY OF HASTINGS.

AFTER repeated and urgent solicitations of a large and influential number of electors of all shades of politics, I announce myself a candidate for the representation of the West Riding of the County of Hastings in the Commons of Canada.
I shall, at an early day, issue an address, setting forth my views upon the questions before the country.
Your obedient servant,
JAMES BROWN
Belleville, July 9th, 1867. 57b

TENDERS, TENDERS.

THE CORPORATION of the Town of Belleville will receive Tenders up to the TWENTY-THIRD DAY OF AUGUST next, for Seventy-five thousand feet of two inch plank and about Ten Thousand feet of Scantling (4x4 inches) for the purpose of building a wharfe, to be delivered where the Street Surveyor may direct, within the limits of the Corporation. Tenders to be addressed to the Chairman of the Street Committee.
Belleville, July 9th, 1867. 58d

To the Electors of the Eastern Division of the County of Hastings.

GENTLEMEN.—Having been repeatedly requested by a large number of electors in your Division to allow myself to become a candidate for the Commons of Canada at the ensuing election, I have consented to comply with their wishes.

To most of you I am personally known, but will take the first opportunity of seeing as many of the electors as my time will permit. My acts during the time I have been in Parliament, I believe that it would have been more in accordance with the principles of our Government to have first submitted the proposition to the people for their approval, and so voted, but the motion for such reference having been defeated, I voted for the Union Act, and shall steadily use my exertions to carry it into effect, in order that this great Dominion may take that position in the world to which its extent and population entitle it.

Under the new order of things about to be established, new responsibilities will arise which I shall endeavor to discharge with the most scrupulous consistency with efficiency, and shall only rest satisfied when the Dominion of Canada extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific.
In the adjustment of the tariff I shall endeavor to remove the burdens as much as possible from the producer, especially the Agricultural portion, flattering myself that my long business intercourse with the West will enable me to arrive at such a conclusion as will be conducive to their interests.
I have the honor to be

Pretty is that Pretty Does

The spider wears a plain brown dress,
And she is a steady spinner;
To be very quiet as a mouse,
Going about her silver house,
You would never, never, never guess
The way she gets her dinner.

She looks as if no thought of ill
In all her life had stirred her,
But while she moves with careful tread,
And while she spins her silken thread,
She is planning, planning, planning still
The way to do some murder!

My child, who reads this simple lay
With eyes down drooped and tender,
Remember the old proverb says
That pretty is which pretty does,
And that worth does not go nor stay
For poverty nor splendor.

'Tis not the house, and not the dress
That makes the saint or sinner,
To see the spider sit and spin,
Shut with her webs of silver in.

INTERESTING TRIAL OF AN AMERICAN INVENTION—RESULTS OF THE REDUCTION OF CANADIAN GOLD ORE.

From the Brooklyn (N. Y.) Union.

The readers of the Union are generally familiar with the accounts and reports which have been from time to time, during the past two years, printed relative to the discovery of gold in Canada, more especially in what is known as the Madoc region, Canada West.

For the first time since its discovery, a considerable quantity of the ore or gold has been brought to this part of the country, and we are enabled, through the courtesy of its owners and of Professor John Wyckoff, of this city, to lay before our readers some account of an interesting test made yesterday of its merits and value.

In the early part of 1866 Messrs. Lombard, President of the Fourth National Bank of Chicago, and Seth J. Hardin, a prominent banker of the same city, both being originally Massachusetts Yankees—came into possession, by purchase, of what is known as Madoc at the Richardson farm, containing a number of acres of land, situated upon which is a rising of ground, of undoubted volcanic nature. The mound shows beyond question that it was at some time or other the crater of an internal (if not an external) volcano, for it contains large holes, known to geologists as "chimneys," or blowholes, into which heated lava or internal flames have sought escape, as all the rock shows that, at some date unknown to the present generation, it has been subjected to the fusing action of a singular character, being composed of what is known to geologists and mineralogists as dolomite, and is just such rock as in California and Australia, as well as in Colorado, Idaho, Montana, is found by the practical miners of those auriferous regions. This dolomite is, to the surprise and disgust of mineralogists, literally full of gold, not only in small nuggets or pebbles, but it is diffused throughout its whole formation in the most thorough manner, in small scaly deposits and in a finely powdered state. Of course this makes an exceedingly rich ore, its yield bordering almost on the fabulous. This heat, the marks of having been forced up through the earth by some great convulsion of heat, and the gold forced into the fissures and opened veins of the rocks while in a state of fusion, and of course, when cooled, remaining there in the state in which it is now found. If this quartz is rich, however, the earth and small pieces of rock and lignites found in the crevices are far in excess of its value, as the gold can be seen in it by even taking it up in one's hands, without the aid of glasses.

Soon after the purchase of the Richardson farm by Messrs. Lombard and Hardin, the latter gentlemen commenced its working on a small scale, designing to test its capabilities as to ease of working, etc. It appears, however, that the Canadian company preferred a claim to some portion of the property, and procured an injunction upon further mining operations. Mr. Hardin had secured four barrels of the ore, just as he took it out of one of the chimneys, and sent them to Rochester in this state, where they lay in the hands of officials to await the result of the suit. Some twenty tons of the ore, which had been mined by Mr. Hardin, were thrown back into the mine, and the hole filled up with cord wood, brush, etc., in which condition it now is.

The suit has been settled, to the satisfaction of all parties, and the decree of the Court issued granting the right to work it, a provision being made in the decree, however, that, in order for the better understanding of the value of the property by all the parties interested, the four barrels of ore, then lying at Rochester, should be taken to the works of Prof. John Wyckoff, at Greenpoint, Long Island, U. S. A., and there submitted to the Wyckoff process of reducing and separating the gold. This has been done. The barrels, accompanied by Messrs. Lombard and Hardin, and by Prof. Bell, of Belleville, C. W., and by United States Consul Carman, resident at Belleville, C. W., the latter representing the other parties in the suit, arrived here the latter part of last week, and were placed in charge of Prof. Wyckoff at his works.

Yesterday, in presence of a numerous company of gentlemen practically interested in mining as well as several geologists and mineralogists, Mr. Auske, one of the proprietors and Superintendent of the mine, opened the barrels. The ore, as at first seen, is of a reddish-brown, not a great deal unlike that of the Melville mine of Virginia, is a little darker, but bears a closer resemblance to the Gold Hill or Uncle Tom's Mines of Montana, belonging to the Brooklyn Golden Ore Company. It was decided to make the first test of the smallest quantity, and one of the barrels, which evidently had been tampered with by some speculative gentlemen in the Rochester Ontario House, was opened, and the two hundred pounds of ore, including in this weight some forty pounds of water, contained in it, was put through the Wyckoff process. It was first crushed finely, and then put into the cylinders and subjected to the boiling and steaming peculiar to this process, so fully described in the Union some two weeks since.

Prior to placing it in the cylinders, several parcels of it were "panned out" as old Californians and present miners now do—that is, washed out in iron pans until they get what is called the "color." There was no more than the "color" in that dirt; it was full of it—literally it was said—and it, washed out in the presence of gold, containing about a pound of earth, showed over ten dollars' worth of as pretty specimens of the gold as made the best old miner glad. The gold is exceedingly rich, being of 23 to 23½ carats in fineness.

Quite a number of specimens of what is known as "lignite," in which never before found any gold deposits, were found actually full of gold! This is deemed extraordinary, and most effectively explodes the former teachings of geologists and mineralogists that where there is a ligniteous formation no auriferous metals will be found. The lignite looks very much like half-consumed bituminous coal, and in some places bears a very close resemblance to coke. It is filled with scales and small pockets and powder of gold, the precious metal looking all the prettier by its being set in such a black formation.

The lignite crumbles very easily, is very light of itself, so light, indeed, that, with the gold extracted, it will float on the surface of water. The writer crumbled a piece to atoms between his fingers, and the gold particles were easily separated. The quartz or dolomite is also very easily worked, although it has a pretty "hard" look, and yields readily to the stamp battery and other crushers.

While the ore was being put through the cylinders the party discussed a generous lunch provided by the firm of Wyckoff & Co., who have charge of the works at Greenpoint. Many of them inspected the stamp machine of Mr. Hughes, others took a look at the well-known "coffee mill" which is in so general use in the mines, and which is alternately cursed and adopted for lack of something better. Some stout munched sandwiches and intently watched the exhibitions going on in the steadily-rotating cylinders; some visited the library up stairs and paid their respects to Professor Mill Barber, who is probably one of the best in his line, the most modest and retiring of men, and a geologist or geologist as well as chemistry, that this country can boast of. Professor Wyckoff, the party with some of his mining experiences in Virginia and North Carolina, while Professors Scott and Tylor, who are about engaging in the erection of a mill at Madoc, with a combination patent of the Wyckoff process and an improved stamp, also favored the party with anecdotes illustrative of adventures to be met with in the last stages of life of a mining engineer. Metropolitan journalists were present, and keenly watched every movement, evidently much better pleased with their duties of the day than if attending a scammy case, so frequently falling to their lot in their wicked city across the East River. Young Wyckoff and Manager Barber, of the works, seemed to be present everywhere, without regard to the damaging effect the spatters of muddy ore might have upon clothing.

After the ore had boiled nearly two hours the cylinders were cleaned up, the mercury and amalgam taken out; the tailings carefully saved, as they gave evidence of holding valuable sulphurets; the mercury strained through ticking in precisely the same manner in which it does in the mines, and the result was as follows:

One hundred and sixty pounds of ore yielded, by the Wyckoff process, eighteen ounces of gold, valued at twenty dollars per ounce. This proves the ore to yield at the rate of four thousand five hundred dollars to the ton.

There are four hundred pounds in addition to the above, which is being submitted to the Wyckoff process to-day, which is of the same nature.

Some three hundred pounds of surface matter, not considered of any great value in Canada, taken from the surface of the Richardson farm, scoured up, and known as a sort of ochreous matter, has been put through the Wyckoff process, and is found to contain three hundred dollars to the ton!

Certain portions of the best croppings of the Richardson mine have yielded sums almost too fabulous for belief, ranging up to and beyond the sum of one hundred thousand dollars.

The facts are thus developed that one of the most productive gold mines on this continent is within two days' travel of New York city, and that an American, a citizen of Brooklyn, has proved his invention to be the greatest in obtaining the largest results from the most refractory as well as the easiest ores mined.

A Striking Contrast.

A laboring man—occupied in the trade of flax spinning—and who had accumulated a small sum of money, anxious to start business on his own account, invested his "little all" in a small concern in the trade at which he had been working. In order to provide for his family in the event of his early death, he resolved to insure his life, and accordingly one February day he proposed to a friend of his, who was acting as a Life Assurance Agent, to get his life insured for $500. He was accepted by the office, and paid the usual comparatively small premium. In the following May, his business having so far succeeded, and not being satisfied with the first sum of $500, he resolved to propose another $500 which was also accepted by the office and the premium paid as before. Next month—the second policy only having been in effect three weeks—he met with a severe accident from his own machinery, which would have been totally fatal, having the comfort of the assurance that by his own prudence he had left his family a comfortable provision, of which he died a few days later. His widow would have been totally destitute. The widow was thus enabled to purchase a well-established business which she could manage herself, and with the income so derived, send a good education to her two sons, who now occupy distinguished positions in society.

A small tradesman in Devonshire decided on securing life and his wife's life for £200 each, and requested an Agent with whom he was acquainted to fill up a couple of proposals. The Agent readily complied with his request, and the papers had been filled in, the proposer suddenly bequeathed himself that his life was only three months off, and that if he deferred signing the proposals for a couple of months that he would still have to pay the same premium to the Insurance Office. The Agent reminded him of the uncertainty of life, and recommended him to "signing" the proposals, and his wife now enjoyed good health, two months hence disease might have attacked them, and rendered them unassurable lives. What was the fact? Ah! how true is it—that, as the poet says—

"All men think all men mortal but themselves."

He could not see the possibility of both himself and his wife being laid in the grave before his birthed son. What was the fact? Typhus fever visited the district, both he and his wife were in their graves six weeks after the proposals had been filled up! Their two sons were orphaned, one four years old and the other six! They were committed to the tender mercies of the parish authorities, and with a parish education entered upon life as a couple of day laborers.

Reader! profit by this narrative of two facts and see to it that in the event of your sudden death your family is provided for, and not left to the cold, icy charity of friends.

The Bonus to the Life Policyholders averages 46 per cent. of the premium paid, in some cases rising to 65, 70, and even 75 per cent. Substantial benefits have, therefore, been conferred on those who have Assured on the Profitable Life, and the investigation into the Life Liabilities is always conducted on the soundest principles—no element of future profit being anticipated, and every reason to expect corresponding advantage in the future.

It is expressly provided in the Deed of Settlement, that the proceeds for General Management of this company, chargeable to the Life Fund, shall not exceed 10 per cent. of the Net Life Income. This proves that the Directors study most carefully the interests of the Participating Policyholders; and such a provision must tend largely to increase future Bonuses.

Equitable conditions of Policies—Moderate Premiums (with the option of paying them according to a variety of convenient methods)—Liberal provision for the non-forfeiture or surrender of Policies—The investigation into the Life Liabilities is always conducted on the soundest principles—no element of future profit being anticipated, and every reason to expect corresponding advantage in the future.

NEWFOUNDLAND FISHERIES.—Letters received from Newfoundland state the cod-fishing been out a fortnight, and information had come from a large portion of the boats engaged, that the catch was so far a good average one, and the prospects encouraging. Nothing definite had been heard from the Labrador coast.

THE TWELFTH.—The Orangemen have had a beautiful day for their celebration at Stirling, and from all we could learn, the demonstration promised to be one of the most imposing ever held in this County. The Brethren from Belleville and vicinity left their Lodge-room this morning in carriages for Stirling, to the number of about two hundred. They were accompanied by the Band of the 18th Battalion.

THE CHOPS.—The bountiful rains of the past few days have had a very favorable effect on the growing crops, and placed spring grain beyond the possibility of failure. From all parts of the country the accounts received are of the most gratifying character, and we think we may safely predict an average crop of grain, while of hay there will be one of the heaviest crops ever harvested.

THE QUEBEC MINISTRY.—Reports from Quebec are to the effect that the Hon. Mr. Cauchon has not yet been unable to form a local Cabinet, and that he will probably have to abandon the task. A good many rumors are afloat as to the cause of the difficulty. The principal one is that Mr. Dunkin, before accepting office demanded that Mr. Cauchon should give a written pledge to introduce an education bill into the legislature as a government measure, similar to that of Hon. Mr. Langevin. In last session, which Mr. Cauchon so violently opposed, he refused to do, thereby causing a split in the arrangement. It is also stated that Messrs. Irvine and Starnes' consent to join the ministry is yet unobtained.

STATISTICS.—Have calculated that if the population of the world amounts to between 1200 and 1300 millions of persons, the number of deaths in a year would be about 92 millions. Assuming the correctness of this calculation, the deaths each day would be nearly 85,000; 3,600 per hour, 60 per minute, and thus every second would carry into eternity one human life from one part of the world or another. But reproduction asserts its superior power; for, on calculating the probable annual births on the globe, the result is that whereas 90 persons die per minute, 70 children are born, and thus the increase of the population is kept up.

Rich Beyond Description.

In another column will be found a lengthy article from the Brooklyn (N. Y.) Union, giving an account of the assay of a portion of the four barrels of quartz and mud, which were taken from Rochester to New York. It will be seen from that report that the predictions of the value of the ore and sand in the Richardson Mine have been fulfilled even beyond the expectations of the most sanguine. The yellow ochreous matter, in which gold was not visible to the naked eye, has been shown to be worth three hundred dollars to the ton. This is a very important fact, as the same substance, mixed with specks of gold, has been found in the Barry mine, in the Cariboo mine, and in fact in a number of shafts which have been sunk in different parts of the gold region. If it turns out that the quality of the yellow ochreous matter is the same in these mines as in the Richardson mine, the fortunes of their owners are made. There is another fact no less important, and that is the result of the assay of the ore. The quartz rock has produced four thousand five hundred dollars to the ton—a yield certainly far beyond the anticipations of the most confident, and the black sand has been shown to be worth one hundred thousand dollars per ton.

These facts are of the highest importance, and it is not surprising that old Cariboo, California and Australian miners were filled with wonder and amazement at the extraordinary richness of the ore and "mud."

Looking at the result of this assay, we can scarcely form a conception of the value of the Richardson mine, and indeed of the riches in that vicinity. For we think it will be found that the Moore farm, a portion of which is owned by the Royal Mining Company of Toronto, will turn out as rich, as the formation is in most respects similar.

The immediate effect of this assay will be to give the public confidence in the gold regions of Hastings. The Richardson mine has been proved to be rich beyond description, and as some of the old miners in New York said, was worth millions of dollars. That this is the only deposit of that description and value in the gold region is not reasonable to suppose. The history of gold countries, the experience of practical miners, the opinions of geologists, and the developments already made throughout the Hastings gold region, all go to show that we may reasonably expect to find more deposits similar in richness and extent to that of the Richardson mine.

NEWS FROM MADOC.

MADOC, July 11th.

Election matters are assuming an interesting shape here just now, and while there is much uncertainty as to who will be the candidates, there is a general feeling that they will be the same for the House of Commons as ran for a seat in the Canadian Parliament at the last election. The meeting that the Rev. A. F. Wood, Esq., has called at Eldorado, will tell who the delegates will be from this township, and the committee will tell who the candidates are, and I believe—why the members will be I think it is still doubtful whether T. C. W. will run or not. He simply is feeling his way, and as he is well acquainted with the state of feeling in the Riding as he might be, he will not run, for there is but one opinion among those who are acquainted with the sentiments of the electors of this Riding, and that is that the man who betrayed or neglected the interests of his constituents, so that they lost the Railroad and seriously injured our chances of having one at all, is not fit to be a representative, nor will he be elected. I am not a prophet, nor the son of one, but there is no risk in predicting that Cam. Wallbridge will never misrepresent North Hastings again. Fancy the position we stand in—taunted to our faces by the Wallbridge family with the assertion that they "can buy their way in," no matter who opposes them. Well, let them try it. They will find that North Hastings in 1867 is a different constituency from North Hastings in 1863—that neither the land, nor the money, nor the assumption of the whole Wallbridge family combined, will answer this time. We want some one that can be trusted, and who will command the respect of his peers.

As to candidates for the Local Legislature, there are a number spoken of. T. S. Agar, Dr. Boulter, A. F. Wood, Geo. Neilson, James Archibald, and W. H. Tumulty. Other names have been put forward by the Wallbridges, not for the purpose of seeing them elected, but with the design of catching them, thinking there is danger, and of course resorting to any dodge. This is too transparent, however, to deceive any one except those whose vanity is injured by their judgment.

A very respectable farmer residing near Queensborough was overheard a few days since laughingly relating about being called upon by T. C. W. and brother, and urged to offer himself as a candidate for the Local Legislature, as he was just the man. "They were not aware," said he, "that I knew that they had already told the same story to a party near the village of Madoc, and also to another in Allan's settlement, and I have no doubt to twenty others—can't catch old birds with chaff."

I am not very fond of Conventions, but I think this one has a good purpose in uniting men who really have nothing to divide them, and who have the best interests of the country at heart.

Yours truly,

AN ELECTOR.

The principles on which this Company is founded contain all the elements required to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and afford every facility to intending assured. One of the advantages secured by those who insure their lives with this Company is that the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement to Ten per Cent. of the Net Life Income. This most important restriction shows that the interests of participating policy holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion of premiums expended for Management must largely influence Profits and Bonuses.

The Bore of the Sanctum.

BY JOHN G. SAGE

Again I hear the creaking step!
He's wrapping at the door!
Too well I know the boding sound
That utters in a bore.
I do not tremble when I meet
The stoutest of my foes;
But Heaven defend me from the friend
Who comes but never goes!
He drops into my easy chair,
And asks about the news;
He peeps into my manuscript,
And gives his candid views;
He tells me, though he knows I hate
The tale he tells, that I am late.

And where he's forced to grieve;
He takes the strangest liberties—
But never takes his leave.
He reads my daily paper through Before I've seen a word;
He scans the lyric [that I wrote],
And thinks it quite absurd;
He calmly smokes my last cigar,
And coolly asks for more;
He opens everything he sees—
Except the entry door.
He talks about his fragile health,
And tells me of the pains
He suffers from a score of ills.

And how he struggled once with earth
 To keep the flood at bay;
 On themes like these away he goes,
 But never goes away;
 He tells me of the carping words
 Some shallow critic wrote,

Familiarly can quote.
He thinks the writer did me wrong,
He'd like to run him through!
He says a thousand pleasant things—
But never says "adien!"
Whenever he comes, that dreadful man,
Disguise it as I may;

He'll last throughout the day.
In vain I speak of urgent tasks,
In vain I scowl and pout;
A frown is no extinguisher,
It does not put him out!

Put crape upon the door;
Or hint to John that I am gone
To stay a month or more.
I do not tremble when I meet
The stoutest of my foes;

Thy Kingdom Come

Thy kingdom come.
 I heard a Seer cry: "The wilderness,
 The solitary place,
 Shall yet be glad for Him, and He shall bless (Thy kingdom come) with His revealed face
 The forlorn; they shall drop their precious gum,
 And shed for him their balm; and He shall yield
 The grandeur of His speech, and the

"Then all the soothed winds shall drop to listen (Thy kingdom come,
Comforted waters waxen calm shall glisten
With bashful tremblement beneath His smile

Shall take, and in her awful joy repeat,
The laughter of His lips—(Thy kingdom come
And hills that sit apart shall be no longer dumb
No, they shall shout and shout,
Raining their lovely loyalty along the dewy plain

"And all the well-contented land made sweet
With flowers she opened at His feet,
Shall answer; shout and make the welkin ring
And tell it to the stars above."

Her cup being full to the brim,
Her poverty made rich with Him.

Her yearning satisfied to the utmost eum—
Lift up thy voice, O Earth, prepare thy song

Lift up, O Earth, for he shall come again, Thy Lord; and He shall reign, and He shall reign—

Best Time to Cut Grass.

In making hay it is important to consid that grasses and other hay-herbage consi

many of which produce their seeds and then die out, but not being allowed to seed, the root stalks will be perennial. It is, then, a great consequence that grass never be followed to ripen, or indeed nearly ripen, before being cut for hay, because by doing the aftermath is much injured on the one hand, while the resulting hay crop will be very inferior on the other.

We know it is thought that over-we consider that as the seeds ripen the lower leaves wither and decay, it is certain the increase is, if not altogether doubtful, yet much less than is generally supposed.

Our own experience confirms us in the view that hay made when the rye grass are in full flower is the best in quality, and gives quite as great a yield as that cut s we have adopted the following guide. When the grass torn away at a node gives full evidence of the formation of saccharine matter in the young white base of the te before this it will be rather bitter than otherwise, and a short time afterwards will consist of unflavored woody fibre. Should there be any doubt on this point we should urge our readers to repeat experiment which we have repeatedly performed, viz., that of testing the specific gravity of an infusion of a given weight in the same manner as a brewer tests the amount of "extract" from malt, and whether we are testing single grasses or their compounds in the rick, we shall find that higher the specific gravity of the sample, the greater the amount of feeding matter "proof"—and the more valuable the produce. To what end still taller?

be much wet it will injure the sample which will lose its extractive matter; but in timely cut, well made hay, the extractive will be in proportion to its quality.

Set to Music by S. Holt, B. M., 17th Regt.
Men of Norland, draw the sword;
Set your households all in order.
See, there comes a rabble horde—
A storm-cloud darkens on our border.
Come, man your guns, true Norland sons
Officers urged in battle ranks

Strike home, strike home; a time has come
To fight for freedom and for glory.
CHORUS.
True Norland men, we're staunch and steady
Hurrah! Hurrah! for Norland!

From Lake St. Clair to Newfoundland,
Hark! the bugle sounds "Assemble."

Up, defend your native land;
 Be not you the men to tremble.
 Recall the fight on Queenston height;
 Remember the Sixdancers foreland;
 The glorious fray at Chateaugay,
 In the bloody, brave old days of Norland.

True Norland men, we're, &c.
On Erie and Ontario's shore,
Midst Niagara's resolute thunder

Where broad St. Lawrence rapids roar,
Meet greeting gave these birds of plunder
Meet them beside the St. Croix tide,
By bosky bank of Ouagondy,
Acadia's strand, in Rupert's land,

True Norland men, we're &c.
With sword, and gun, and shot, and shell.

Then come on, godless, reckless ruder,
We'll let our children's children tell
How met the Norland man th' invader.
No bandits vile shall ere defile
The freedom's sacred soil of our land,
Then, foemen, hear, by all that's dear,

CHORUS.
True Norland men, we're staunch and steady
Hurrah! hurrah! for Norland!
Let forer men come; the'll find us ready.

Charles Dickens Sees a Vision

Mr. Dickens relates in All the Year Round the story of a strange coincidence having almost a supernatural character which recently occurred to himself. In contained in a note which he appends an article by a contributor, who advances some new theories with regard to spectral appearances, and tells the famous stories

Lord Lyttleton (with some additions hitherto published), and of Lord Tyrone and Lady Beresford. Remarking on the latter, Mr. Dickens thinks that natural explanations are sufficient; and in illus-

tion of "the broad margin of allowance that must always be left for coincidence in these cases," tells the following singular story: "We dreamed that we were in large assembly, and saw a lady in a bright red wrapper, whom we thought we knew. Her back being towards us, we touched her. On looking round, she disclosed a face that was unknown to us, and, on our apology, ing, said, pleasantly: "I am Miss N mentioning a name, not the name of a friend or acquaintance we had, although well known name. The dream was un-ally vivified, and we awoke. On the next evening we recognised (with a strange feeling), coming in at the open door of a room, the lady of the dream, in the bright red wrapper. More extraordinary still, lady was presented by the friend who accompanied her, as Miss N——, the name in the dream. No circumstance, near or remote, that we could ever trace in least accounted for this. The lady called on the real, common-place visit, in pursuance of an appointment quite unexpected, made with the lady who introduced her only on the night of the dream. From like a romance; and certainly it seems romance, the whole affair. We almost think, in drinking in line after line of vivid pictures, as if the nineteenth century were masquerading the thirteenth. It is indeed, a very wonderful age we live in, a sort of condensation of the history of the world, for there is no period in that history from rudest savagery to the most refined civilization that has not its characteristic chapter in it. Think of the descendant the Queen of Sheba and Solomon the w and the Polish, sung in vain for the use of a proud daughter of one of the Isles of the Gentiles ; and more wonderful still, think of the brother of this new-crowned King, not suing, but silently waiting for the boon of life, at the hands of a savage chieftain, his victor, on the very day of coronation. Think of eleven days between the crowning amid pomp and panoply, the one — and the lonely felon-death of other. Of this we thought as we read through the "Arabian tale" of Dr. Resse. Louder than the boom of Hungarian cannon came on the ears of imagination the shot that was the knell for Mexico's ruler. Clearer than the "Elgen" (vival)

the Magyar came the dying whisper
"poor Carlotta's" name. Poor fellow noble scion of a proud race, it was a

THE principles on which this Company is founded contain all the elements required
to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and afford every facility to intending assured.

One of the advantages secured by those who insure their lives with this Company is that the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement to Ten per Cent. of the Net Life
Income. This most important restriction
shows that the interests of participating policy holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion of premiums expended for Management
Most Largely Influence Profits
and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1873, and all those who wish to participate in
the profits should insure at once.

Another Coalition Cabinet.

The people of Nova Scotia appear anxious to have coalition governments as do in Canada and we have to record one formed on the basis for that Province. The Halifax Journal, of the 8th, says:

"We congratulate Mr. Blanchard upon the success of his mission to the United States. We think it cannot fail to give very general satisfaction. It is formed upon the coalition basis, and embraces a fair representation of both sides of politics. It is a thoroughgoing union cabinet. We have no doubt Mr. Blanchard will make a very successful leader. The office of attorney general could not have fallen into better hands. He occupies a very honorable position in his profession, and the appointment will meet with the approval of a large majority of his professional brethren. The anti-unionists must be permitted to find fault. The most unexceptionable cabinet under the sun would not satisfy them, unless they participated in all and fishes. The position of parties in all the Provinces, and the desire on the part of the friends of union to give the measure a fair trial, and to sink all sectional party differences for the common good, render a coalition government necessary at the present juncture. Because, by adopting such a course, we shall secure to the general as well as local governments the constitutional support of a large body of people who in the first instance, opposed the measure upon principle. But who, after it became law, when their opposition was no longer necessary, have frankly expressed their determination to unite with the unionists in making the union as beneficial as possible."

WHAT ENGLISH SAILORS DIE OF.—The London Times publishes a return of the deaths of seamen reported by the Board of Trade as having died in the British merchant service in the year 1896. The number was 4,886, but in 358 instances the cause of death was not reported. The most remarkable thing in the return is the large proportion of the deaths occasioned by the seamen's calling off the mortality for the year was by drowning. 1,319 men and boys were drowned by accident and 1,171 by wreck. 131 died through falling from aloft; 17 through falling down the hold; 13 by sunstroke, and one by lightning stroke; 5 were frozen to death, and 13 died from exposure to cold; 9 were murdered and 3 shot. 35 deaths are attributed to scurvy, 146 to yellow fever, 483 to cholera, 41 to diarrhoea, 355 to dysentery, 162 to consumption, 19 to the breath of the sea, and 1 to the breath of the sea. The number of deaths is a hundred ways of exit from life are distinguished in the return, and the rating and the age of the men who died are recorded.

THE NAMES OF FOWLS.—The Cochins, which would better be called Shanghai fowls, have no earthly connection with Ceylon. China. The Brahmins cannot trace back their origin to the glowing East, or the waters of the Brahmaputra. It is traceable to New York and to the famous Yankee fowl-breeder whose name was Burnham, but ought to have been Barnum. This worthy wrote a book to blazon the success of his idea that a present of a few of his birds to the Queen of England would not be a bad advertisement for him. He was rewarded by her Majesty's portrait, and his fowls were housed in the Windsor aviary. The Hamburg, again, have nothing German about them; the silver-pencilled cock from the East, the spangled from Yorkshire and Lancashire. The "Polands" or "Polish" have no manner of connection with Poland. Alrobandus, an Italian, who wrote in the sixteenth century, trace them to Padua; but Dr. Hopper's theory that their name Polish or Polish arises from the fact that they were first being bred by their round "pol" or skull cap, surmounted with a crest or topknot, is so probable as to command acceptance.

SANITARY.—The warm weather of the past few days is strongly suggestive of cholera, fevers, and infectious diseases generally, that we are reminded to call the attention of citizens to the urgent necessity of keeping backyards and outhouses in a perfectly clean condition, adopting those means of purification that have been usual in such cases. It is gratifying to note that the Board of Health took the matter in hand in good season, and by detailing a policeman to make a thorough inspection they have brought the city to as clean a state as it has ever been. Household should not relax in their attention to these matters, as the health of a community in a great measure depends upon its cleanliness.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, JULY 17.

FIREMAN'S EXCURSION.—Don't forget the Fireman's excursion to-morrow, per the steamer Day of Quilts, which promises to be one of the best of the season. See Advertisement.

A HORSE STOLEN.—A valuable iron grey mare, the property of Mr. Philip Collins, of Elzbyr, was stolen from the streets of Belleville last night. Any information connected therewith to be furnished to the Chief of Police.

REV. JOSEPH WILD.—We understand that at the recent meeting of the Senate of Genesee College, N. Y., the honorary degree of Master of Arts was conferred on the Rev. Joseph Wild, the respected Pastor of the M. E. Church of this town—a dignity well deserved.

ARREST.—In consequence of a telegram received by Capt. James, that officer attended at the Railway Station yesterday, and arrested a young man named George H. Pringle, who states he came from New York and was proceeding to Marmora. He had on his person when arrested a six-barreled revolver, a murderous looking bowie knife, a bullet molder, a powder flask, and a box of percussion caps.

INDIA AND CHINA TEA COMPANY.—This company has established an agency at the Apothecaries Hall, Belleville, where their black and green teas can be obtained in packages at the rate of 75c. to $1 per lb. This company claims to have secured the entire produce of some of the best plantations in Assam and on the slopes of the Himalayas, and by a judicious blending of these mountain teas with the best varieties of China produce, they are enabled to offer to the public a tea of quality and flavor hitherto unknown to the general consumer. We have tested the $1 tea and can pronounce it really a superior article, much better than teas usually sold at that price.

COMPLIMENTARY.—We have been requested to copy the following complimentary resolutions among others, adopted at Oswego, by the Fourth of July committee:

Moved, that the thanks of this committee be tendered to J. B. Dewey, Esq., of the steamer Rochester for his courtesy in offering to this committee the services of the Belleville Band on the Fourth of July last.

Moved, that this committee express to the members of the Belleville Band, through Mr. Dewey, their appreciation of the sweet music discoursed by them during the celebration.

Moved, that copies of these resolutions be handed to the gentlemen concerned, and that they be published in both the city papers. Carried unanimously.

RIOT AT WOODSTOCK.—A riot occurred at Woodstock yesterday, which grew out of two liquor detectives bringing some dealers to trial. The trial commenced Monday and had to be postponed to Tuesday on account of the mob. Yesterday the trial was resumed, when the mob was more furious than ever. Twenty special constables were sworn in, and the volunteers called out with fixed bayonets. The hotel at which they put up, was besieged by the mob. The riot act was read by the Mayor, and the whole town was in a fever of excitement. One detective having committed himself in evidence was sent up for perjury. The other had to be accompanied to the station by the Mayor, a number of magistrates, a military escort, and 3,000 inhabitants. The volunteers found it necessary to accompany him to the next station.

EXCURSION OF THE SEASON.—It will be seen by advertisement that the St. Andrew's Society of Belleville intend having a grand excursion to Ottawa, on the 30th inst. They go by boat to Prescott, and from thence to the Capital of the New Dominion by rail. By this route excursionists have a pleasant ride by water, can feast their eyes on the beautiful scenery along the way of Quilts, and pass through the unexplored scenery of the far-famed Thousand Islands. They have a day and night at the Capital, which will give ample time for viewing the Parliament buildings and the City, and all this for $3 for the round trip. It is not often an excursion affords so many attractions, and at so cheap a rate, is it not, and we are sure the public will feel indebted to the officers of St. Andrew's Society for giving them such a chance to enjoy themselves.

FIRE AT KINGSTON.—A great fire occurred at Kingston, yesterday afternoon, which destroyed property to the amount of about $50,000. It broke out in the hardware store of Messrs Gibert & Yarker, on Broad street, and spread to the adjoining stores of W. G. Perry, T. Moore and the grocery of W. R. McRae & Co. The fire was caused by a lighted match being accidentally thrown into a partly filled can of benzine by a man in the store after lighting his cigar. The fluid immediately took fire and communicated with the barrel from which it was being drawn, and spread with fearful rapidity. The total loss will amount to about $50,000 and the total insurance to $44,000.

FIRE AT BRIDGEWATER.—A telegram from Bridgewater informs us that a fire occurred about one o'clock this morning in that village, which destroyed the Cabinet Shop of the Hon. Bills Flint. At eleven o'clock last night, the building was perfectly safe, and it is suspected that the fire was the work of an incendiary. The building was owned by Hon. B. Flint, and occupied by O. C. and F. Frost, as a cabinet manufacturer. Mr. Flint's loss is about $1,000; that of the Messrs. Frost about $500. We are not aware whether there is any insurance upon the property.

NOT TRUE.—"A Catholic" in the Hastings Chronicle of to-day states what is not true when he says his communication was refused insertion in this Intelligencer. The facts are: "A Catholic" came into this office and requested the publication of a communication of which the one in the Chronicle is a synopsis. The writer hereof, after looking it over, said it was too lengthy, but if "A Catholic" would leave it, he would publish it in a condensed form. "A Catholic," preferring, we suppose, to reduce it himself, said he would take it home and shorten it and bring it back. The writer said if "A Catholic" would do so it would be published with pleasure. "A Catholic" then left the office, and that's the last we heard of it. It's a deliberate attempt to say the communication was refused insertion. The allusion to the press or a catholic vote is intended, we presume, to affect Mr. Bowell. As that gentleman never saw the communication, and consequently had nothing to do with its alleged rejection or acceptance, it can produce no other effect than to show the animus of the double-dealing scribbler who signs himself "A Catholic."

The Ontario Ministry.

Three members of the Ontario Cabinet were sworn into office last evening. They are as follows:

ATTORNEY GENERAL.—Hon. John Sandfield Macdonald.

COMMISSIONER OF CROWN LANDS.—Hon. Stephen Richardson.

COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE AND PUBLIC WORKS.—Hon. John Carling.

It is not yet made public who the other two members of the Cabinet are, but it will be observed that it has been determined to construct the Cabinet on the same principles as that of the Dominion of Canada, and it is to be presumed there will be three Reformers to two Conservatives. Brown has been ignored altogether by John Sandfield, and as a consequence he is in a perfectly frantic condition. Sandfield don't mind it much, however, and will pursue the policy he has marked out, as if there was no Gladstone in existence.

Fenianism.

The Fenians are to have a grand pow-wow near Buffalo to-morrow, at which several of the leading spirits of the movement are to be present. Gens. Spear and O'Neil, and Senator Morrison, with several other notables are to be present, and we observe by the Toronto correspondent of a Western paper, that the Fenian Society are going to the fall to-morrow to see Moike Murphy. The correspondent says: "Sunburst O'Hanly, Larry O'Loon, and other leaders of the movement on foot are expected to attend." There will be dancing, an' singin' and lashing of an' an' shrinkin' and wild divarshun galore. Michael will be to the fore with a lot of foine boys from Buffalo an' make a whalin' speech agin the bloody Saxon. Everything will be done neat an' clane, barrin' mishaps, and there will be a fine time toime entirely, without doubt."

The Ball Rolls.

The Chief Organizer has not got everything his own way in the West. The Fenians, St. Catharines and other Brownite strongholds. Conventions of Reformers have been held which have denounced his policy, and come out flat-footed for Coalition. In Central Canada Geo. Brown can't scare up a corporal's guard, and it will soon be the same in the West if the ball rolls a little longer.

Interference with Mexico.

Mr. Seward has received an official reply from the Mexican Government of Juarez, in which he is informed that any interference on his part will not be permitted in Mexican affairs. It says: "The United States must have a good idea of Mexican dignity to influence over our internal politics? Our Government must be just. Its energy in the late struggle is a sufficient guarantee of the energy it will display in this hour of victory. Educated and free nations, notwithstanding the assurance of Mr. Campbell, salute our triumph with enthusiasm." The energy here spoken of has been displayed in the slaughter of upwards of 2,000 prisoners since the capture of Queretaro.

—The London Canadian News of the 27th ult., says: "We believe we are correct in stating that the British Government has notified the Governor of the colony of British Columbia that one of the first measures which will be brought before the Canadian Parliament on its meeting in October next, will be the extension of the Confederation to all the British North American territories."

The Election Law.

The new Municipal Act makes some changes affecting the elections with which it is well the public should become familiar. Those who are entitled to vote at Parliamentary elections are those who are entered on the last revised assessment roll as the owner or occupant of real property, of the actual value—in cities of six hundred dollars; in towns of four hundred dollars; in incorporated villages of three hundred dollars; and in townships of two hundred dollars.

The voters' list to be used is the last list of voters which shall have been at least one month before the date of the writ to hold such election, according to law, compiled and delivered by the Clerk of the Municipality, to the Clerk of the Peace, for the County or Union of Counties within which the Municipality lies.

Provision is made for each Local Municipality to divide each municipality, ward or other electoral division into sub-divisions, proportioned to the number of qualified electors appearing on the voters lists as follows:—Over 500, and less than 1,000 electors, two sub-divisions. Over 1,000, and less than 1,400 electors, three sub-divisions. Over 1,400, and less than 1,800 electors, four sub-divisions. And so on, adding one sub-division for every 400 additional electors found on such voters' lists.

In case of failure on the part of any Municipal Council to divide any city, town or other local municipality into electoral sub-divisions, proportioned to the numbers above described, the Returning Officer is to make the requisite sub-division of each ward or municipality so as to provide the number of polling places required by the Act. Show of hands at the nomination is abolished. It is not required that there shall be any public and open proclamations of the candidate or candidates elected.

In cities and towns, electors are to vote according to the alphabetical order of their names—that is, those whose surnames begin with the same letter of the alphabet, are—consistently with the rule as to numbers—to record their votes at the polling place appointed by the Returning Officer. But in townships the electoral sub-divisions are to be designated by concession and side lines; and electors are to vote at the polling place of the sub-division within which the property on which they vote is situated.

The law requires the polls to be open for two days. Mr. Dorion's bill provided that the elections should be held and completed in one day. But Mr. Dorion's bill was withdrawn, and one proposed by Attorney-General Macdonald was passed. The election then continues two days.

The Paris Exhibition.

We are permitted to copy the following extract from a private letter received by the last steamer, referring to Paris and the Exhibition:—

Paris, June 25th, 1887.

At nine o'clock on Friday, 21st, we were on our way to Canada by steamer. Having reached Calais, we proceeded by train to Paris, where we arrived at six o'clock P. M. At Paris Station we were all shown into a large room, where we had to wait till the Custom House Officer performed his duties. Having secured a good room in one of the hotels, we had a good wash and splendid dinner, which revived our "flagging" spirits. And now I know you all ask, "What do you think of Paris?" This question, I can assure you, is much easier asked than answered. Coming here from London, you are at once struck with the dissimilarity between the two places; everything is entirely different, except the multitude which throngs the streets. London is a grand, rich old place, the buildings dark, and most of the streets narrow. The buildings of Paris are light colored stone, the streets very wide, and the climate dry and invigorating; and as for the people, you could not conceive of the difference in so short a journey. Every body in London move about so severely proper, dressed with kids, cane, umbrella and beaver, and with an expression of solemn concern on their face, as much as to say, "Hush off; I am not to be trifled with or my rights to be infringed," and even recognizing their most intimate friends with the dignity of one of Madame Tressau's figures. I wish I could give you a good idea of the cordiality, politeness, easy familiarity of the Parisian. They say that they live out of doors would be true; but not as the English do. They rush about just as if they had no idea they were in a public street, with or without hats or bonnets, gloves or jackets, all just as happy and free as children at their hour of recess. Every one goes just where he likes and as he likes; there are chairs all around the doors, and little tables; some sit down to rest, others to chat, and if they like, take dinner, tea, or fruit and wine on the table.

Saturday, 23d.—After a good night's rest and splendid breakfast we set out for what the French call "Grand Exposition." We were somewhat delayed by our want of knowledge respecting the cab arrangements, but about noon we crossed the great bridge. After purchasing tickets we were allowed to go in what they call the grande entré, a most splendid gateway.

The avenue from the gate to the Palace is covered overhead with blue cloth curtains, and with gold butt-ribs embroidered all over; these curtains rest on gold cord stretched across from side to side, and fastened to pillars a few feet apart; these pillars are decorated with any quantity of flags and Napoleon's crest. The Crystal Palace is not so imposing at first sight as you might imagine it would be, owing to its being only one story high, but you would be surprised at its magnitude. It is round, or rather oblong, and as you enter, at the right, is the English Park. The first object that strikes the eye is the British and Foreign Bible Society building, and to every one that passes it, presented a portion of the Holy Scriptures, I ready they have distributed the large number of 500,000 copies. Close by is the Hebrew house, an attractive building, where may be seen many old Hebrew relics. I was greatly interested in a model, on quite a large scale, of the Tabernacle in the desert, complete, and approved by Jewish headquarters. Then there is the Tract Society building, with tracts for all people and nations; then the Mission House, where can be seen the gods and other curiosities gathered from the Pagans.

Telegraphic News.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Paris, July 16, evening.—In response to the appeal of His Holiness the Pope for assistance in repelling the anticipated attack upon the Holy City by the Garibaldian party, the Emperor Napoleon has notified the leaders of the Garibaldian movement against Rome that the defenses of that city will be composed of the restored batteries of France, not of Rome.

LONDON, July 16.—The United States Minister, Charles Francis Adams, together with other members of the Diplomatic Corps in London, waited upon His Majesty the Sultan of Turkey to-day. A delegation of the principal Americans now in this city also had an audience this morning with the Sultan.

The Reform Bill has finally passed the House of Commons, and has gone to the House of Lords.

FLORENCE, July 16.—Reports received here from Rome represent that the Papal Government is much alarmed by the menacing attitude of the party acting under the leadership of Garibaldi. Many of the batteries around Rome are being restored and put into an effective condition, and it is stated that the Pope has made an appeal to the Emperor of France for the protection of the Holy See.

CORRECTION.

To EDITORS.—After the last cable dispatch, dated Paris, July 16th, evening, read as follows: In response to the appeal of the Pope for assistance in repelling the anticipated attack upon the city of Rome, the Emperor Napoleon has notified the King of Italy of the threatened movement of Garibaldi. The batteries formerly erected by the French around Rome, and not the old Roman defenses, are to be rebuilt and strengthened for defensive operations.

LONDON, July 17, noon.—Consols 94½; Bank 78½; 10 76½; extra Div. Erie 46½; A and G W 34½.

LONDON, July 17, 2 p.m.—Consols declined. Bonds advanced. 10 76½.

LIVERPOOL, July 17, 2 p.m.—Cotton firmer.

American Despatches.

FROM CHINA.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—The ship Chacao, from Hong Kong, has arrived, with dates to May 24th.

The steamer Afer, from Liverpool, arrived at Hong Kong on the 24th and brought additional particulars of the dreadful pestilence at Mauritius. It was at first confined to natives, and is supposed to have originated in unwelcome food. When the Afer left the people were dying at the rate of 300 per day. The state of the island was dreadful, and people were dying in the streets. Huts were occupied as temporary hospitals, into which the sick went to die. Quinine was sold at 75¢ per ounce. There was a complete panic among the people.

NEW ORLEANS, July 16.—The steamship Herdian, from Tampico, arrived here yesterday. Her officers say that Gomez had issued a proclamation declaring Tampaulpas a Sovereign State.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Early this morning a fire broke out at North Fifth, Jersey City. The following are the owners: The Dodge & Co., box manufacturers; Field & Son, machine works; the Hudson River Cement Works; Derby, Snow & Prentiss, lumber yard; the Franklin boiler works; and other buildings and property damaged to the amount of $80,000. Insurance companies of that amount. At 10 o'clock this morning the fire was still raging.

—For Stalls, Burns, Bruises, and Sprains, use Perry Davis' Pain Killer, it gives immediate relief.—See Ad.

J. & W. Sutherland.

As the expenses of the Government will necessarily be increased under the new system, it will require the most rigid economy consistent with the public interests at stake, to keep the expenditure within the proper limits.

The construction of a canal connecting the waters of Lake Ontario with the head waters of the Bay of Quinte would, in my opinion, not only be of vast local benefit commercially, but in a military point of view it would be of the greatest convenience; and as public lands were granted by Government many years ago for the completion of that important enterprise, I deem it my duty to see that the monies arising from the sale thereof be properly applied.

The Agricultural and manufacturing interests, which lie at the base of every country's greatness and prosperity, shall receive at my hands that consideration which their importance demands.

I am, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

JAMES BROWN.

QUEEN*INSURANCE COMPANY

CAPITAL, $10,000,000.

FIRE and LIFE.*LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE principles on which this Company is founded contain all the elements required
to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and
afford every facility to intending assurers—
One of the advantages secured by those who insure their lives with this Company is that the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement to Ten per Cent of the Net Life
Income. This most important restriction
shows that the interests of participating policy holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion of premiums expended for Management
Must Largely Influence Profits
and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1898, and all those who wish to participate in
the profits should insure at once.

British Columbia

The Hamilton Spectator says: We have received late files of British Columbian journals, and we are more than ever con-

It is of great importance that the administration should have a strong support, if only that it may be enabled to introduce some measure looking to the admission of British Columbia and Vancouver's Island, and if the measure be a wise one that

The people of those colonies, notwithstanding the disadvantages under which they have laboured, and the efforts which have been made by Mr. Seward and his agents, are still loyal to the British Crown and desire to see their connexion with Britain rendered more secure by admission

"Let nothing be left undone, no stone unturned, that will tend to hasten the admission of British Columbia into the Confederacy." The British Colonist says:

No one at all familiar with the geographical position of this colony, and possessing anything like a fair apprehension of its absolute indispensability to the completenof the new Dominion, leaving altogether out of the calculation its intrinsic value can be for a moment contemplate the possibility of such a contingency. The fact is as we have said over and over again this colony must be to the Dominion of Canada what the key-stone is to the arch. It may be the last, the finishing touch; but without it the structure is incomplete—cannot stand. Although having a common interest with our fellow-colonists on the other side, we shall be in a position, and will be our duty, to gain admission upon terms which shall fully recognize the val-

and importance of this territory to the Dominion, and which shall secure to us every fair and legitimate advantage, we must not 'throw ourselves away' while smarting under the effects of a temporary

And another journal, published in Victoria, says:—"Annexation is impossible while Confederation is within our reach."

Mr. Brown and Mr. Cowan.
Mr. Brown has been up into Waterbury to hound down his old supporter, Mr.

Cowan, because that gentleman has thought fit to prefer to give the existing administration a fair trial in place of condemning it untried and unheard, as the Convention and the Globe endeavour to dictate.

Mr. Brown spoke one of his long speeches over three hours—but was replied to in strikingly successful manner by Mr. Th. White of the Spectator. From a report the proceedings, it is evident that Brown found his match in that rising young politician, Mr. Cowan, for whose special benefit the meeting had been called. He said that "he was not yet before the people as a candidate for their suffrages, but after the abuse he had received from some parties, he was determined that if there were enough of votes to send him to Parliament he would be their member. He had received ed such assurances of support from men of all shades of political feeling, that he has no doubt he would carry the Riding with a sweeping majority." Mr. James Young of Galt, one of the convention orators, has been brought out to oppose Mr. Cowan, but as we learn, with small share of success. Reformers throughout the country are beginning to stiffen up against metropolitdictation, and are prepared to act with me like Mr. Cowan, who, having no personal interest in politics, and whose record is the best certificate, feel it their duty to give the Union Government a fair and generous opportunity of laying the foundation of the "new nationality" firmly and strong.

able to select good flour lacks little of being an accomplishment. Housekeepers who appreciate the above fact will thank you for the following directions taken from a book on flour.

quality, though of fancy brand, high price and white as the virgin snow drift. It has been either too low ground or made from damaged wheat, or, perhaps, having an unusual per cent of gluten, murdered with dull bars, and will never make good, light wholesome bread. But if the flour rubs rough in the palm, feeling like fine sand, and has an orange tint, purchase confidently. Such flour, whatever may be its brand,

A gentleman being asked by a clergyman

"What! have you no servants?" "Yes," he replied, "we have two servants who keep the house and board us, but we are allowed few privileges."

European Items.

If the Hyde-park review, which was postponed on account of Maximilian's execution had been carried out, it would have been graced with the presence of the Princess of Wales. Every one will be delighted to learn that her health has been so far restored that she can contemplate such an exertion.

"Placem" a well known writer in the London Star says:—Last week's number of the Amman has a very remarkable cartoon. It represents the Prince of Wales, as Hamlet, struggling with John Bull, who, as Hamlet, is holding him back pursuing the ghost of George IV., to whom the Prince is saying, "I will follow thee." The reference is obvious.

The London Globe has a curious suggestion for the reform of the House of Lords. It would postpone a peer's majority as far as his seat is concerned to thirty-one, leaving him ten years in which to strive like any other citizen in public life.

Major Palliser is to receive an immediate instalment of £15,000, and £5000 next year, to encourage the continuance of his service in connection with the chills-shoot system.

The Army and Navy Gazette says:—The order in council containing the new regulations affecting the position of the naval and military officers, the royal navy was signed in the early part of the week by Her Majesty. As anticipated by us the name of master will be abolished, and lieutenants will be the designation applied to the junior grades. The rank of staff commander will, we believe, be retained. All the officers now holding the rank of master will be promoted to the rank of staff captain, and all those who may succeed them hereafter will receive the same step. There is to be a slight increase of pay, and the maximum rate of half pay is to be 17s. 6d. per diem. There is to be a compulsory retirement at 60, and a voluntary one with the sanction of the Admiralty at 55 years of age. The navigating officers in all cases to be subordinate to executive officers doing duty as commanding officers on board ship. Masters in command are not to be in future to wait upon lieutenants in command at any port where the lieutenant may be acting as senior officer, if the date of the master's commission is prior to that held by the lieutenant.

Our Irish Chief Secretary being the owner of a fine ostrich which some days ago was safely delivered of an egg, received the following telegram from his steward:—"My lord, as your lordship is out in the country, I have procured the biggest goose I could get on the ostrich's egg."—Excerpt from the Globe.

The Snider Rifle.

200,000 ENFIELD ALREADY CONVERTED.—CHANGE IN THE SHAPE OF THE BULLET.

The Pall Mall Gazette says:—A sufficient number of Enfield rifles have now been converted on the Snider system to admit of the whole of the infantry at home, a large number of the troops on foreign service, and the Royal Marines being armed with them. Of the naval rifle, good as it is, thousands have been converted and issued, and the conversion of the Lancaster rifles for the Royal Engineers is being proceeded with. The conversion of artillery carbines on the same system for issue to the Royal Artillery has now commenced, and when this is completed the cavalry carbines will be taken in hand. In round numbers the arms of all sorts converted on the Snider system up to the present time amount to little short of 500,000. The total number set down for conversion in the present financial year is 100,000. We believe that the idea of converting the store of rifles in India has been abandoned on account of the unsatisfactory condition of the arms, which are not considered worth conversion. Arrangements are to be made, however, for the supply of machinery to each Presidency for the manufacture of the Boxer cartridge, and arms will be supplied from England.—The rifles leaving for India this autumn will be armed with the Snider rifle. A slight change has been made in the construction of the cartridge, with a view to cheapening the manufacture. The quantity of brass in the coiled case has been reduced by nearly one-half, a stout brown paper is substituted for the thin white paper hitherto employed, the cup at the base is made of thinner copper, and the disc at the base is made of iron, instead of brass. A material reduction has thus been effected in the cost of the cartridges, while their efficiency has been rather increased than diminished. A slight alteration has been made in the bullet, which will have four cannelures instead of three, and will continue to weigh 480 grains. The object of this change has been to provide a bullet suited equally to the short naval rifle with its quick pitch and the slow twist Enfield, the present bullet being less well adapted for the naval rifle than the original 530 grain bullet. The ammunition embodying these improvements will be designated Pattern V.; but its introduction in no way involves the suppression of preceding patterns, every round of which (except a few of Pattern I., with the Poter base) is perfectly serviceable and trustworthy. The reports from regiments as to the working and shooting of the arms continue to be in the highest degree satisfactory.

—The London Convent Journal says:—"An English duchess has gone over to the Roman Catholic Church within a few days," and adds the quiet observation:—"It is a short and easy journey now."

—A Portland paper says: Two wrecking vessels are still engaged at the scene of the Belmoran disaster, and valuables are frequently brought to the surface, as well as iron, &c. A large roll of silk was secured the other day, which was almost as good as new, it having been protected by a huge piece of iron.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, JULY 19.

EAST TORONTO.—Mr. Beatty, proprietor of The Leader, announces himself as a candidate for the House of Commons. He says that he is warmly in favor of the Union, and consequently a supporter of both the Confederate and Local Governments.

ACCIDENT.—A young man named T. Harrison, employed as assistant watchman at the G. T. R. Depot, Belleville, whilst putting on a brake last night fell from the top of the car on which he was standing. One of the wheels of the car passed over his right leg, severely fracturing it. Dr. Caniff was sent for, and was promptly on the spot. He succeeded in compressing the fractured limb, and expressed hopes that it would not be necessary to amputate it.

THE FIREMEN'S EXCURSION.—The Firemen's Excursion and Pic-Nic yesterday was the most successful the gallant red-coats ever had. Between four and five hundred left Belleville, and the number was increased to about seven hundred by additions at Northport, Mill Point, Picton and other ports. The weather was delightful, the pic-nic ground in a pleasant condition, and the arrangements were such that everything passed off in a most agreeable manner.

EXCURSION FROM NAPANE.—Our streets were enlivened this afternoon by an excursion party which came from Napane, per Steamer Waterloo. The party consisted of the Napane Battery of the Garrison Artillery, and a large number of the inhabitants of that thriving town. They were accompanied by the Band of the Royal Canadian Rifles, Kingston, consisting of twenty performers. The excursionists had their Pic-Nic on Massena Point, after which they came to Belleville, arriving here about half-past two, and having about three hours to view the town and its sights. The party numbered about three hundred, and appeared to be having a pleasant time.

THE STRIKE AT QUEBEC.—It will be seen by what the Quebec Chronicle says with regard to the strike among the ship laborers, that capital has again carried the day. It says:—"We understand that the strike at the docks is virtually at an end, and the most of the men resumed work yesterday morning. The merchants were willing, as they always have been, to meet the men fairly on the question of wages, but they naturally objected to be coerced, and to be harassed by vexatious rates, as was proposed by the Society. They have therefore made it an absolute condition that none but the union men shall be employed, and we believe the Society no longer exists. We congratulate the men on their returning good sense."

Mr. Brown Consents.

Mr. Brown has consented to step into the breach, and by being a candidate for South Ontario, save the country. It is in a bad way now, but it would be an infinitely worse state were he to seek repose at this "critical juncture" in our history. What with the combination in the Federal Government, and the combination in the Ontario Government, the desertion of Howland, McDougall and Blair, the rattling of the leading Reform papers in Western Canada, the independent tone taken by the Western Reform members of Parliament, the Brownie ship is amongst the breakers, and who so fit to take command in this, the stormiest hour of its existence, as the great champion himself. He consents reluctantly, and insists the flag of South Ontario at the mast-head, "resolved to do or die." It is the general opinion that if he "does" he will "die" most effectually. Mr. Gibbs, his opponent, is a strong man, and it will take a stronger man than the Hon. George Brown to defeat him.

Brown's Missionaries.

So soon as Hon. Mr. Macdougall was known to be in his constituency, the Chief Organizer dispatched two of his Missionaries, Kenneth McKenzie and Alexander McKenzie, to preach to the benighted inhabitants of North Lanark, the true Brownie gospel. They had not gone far on their journey, however, before they were glad to "get out of the wilderness." They found the Brownie gospel lily adapted to the wants of the enlightened and independent yeomanry of that county, and with all their sophistry and cunning, they failed to effect a single conversion. One of the missionaries, the valiant Kenneth, was not even solicited to say a word for his master, and the consequence was he went away in a great rage, leaving his namesake to fight the battle alone. Poor Alexander also met with a sad mishap. A local paper says that Alexander McKenzie thinking that Mr. Macdougall was about to return to Ottawa, he arranged for a couple of meetings in other parts of the Riding, where he thought he could have it all his own way, but the Minister of Public Works, getting notice in time of this party attempt to steal a march upon him, attended both the meetings, and so well was McKenzie used up that he ran away from the second meeting at the close of his own speech, not having courage to endure a repetition of the castigation he received the day previous. There are at least two McKenzies who will probably remember their visit to North Lanark.

The Maritime Provinces.

The quantity of breadstuffs entered at the port of Charlottetown, for the month ending June 30th, 1867, was 3,571 barrels of flour, and 1,812 barrels of meal, as compared with 9,487 barrels of flour and 878 barrels of meal for the corresponding period last year. Of these two articles the imports at this port, up to July 1st, were as follows:

|           | Flour.       | Meal.       |
|-----------|--------------|-------------|
| 1866..... | 13,700 bbls. | 1,275 bbls. |
| 1867..... | 5,928 "      | 2,575 "     |

Prince Edward Island is looking up in Ireland, if we may judge from what the Charlottetown Patriot says:—"In a recent number of the Liverpool Corn Market Report, forwarded to Wm. White, Esq., of this city, we observe that Prince Edward Island black oats are quoted at $3.50 and $3.85, sterling, per 45 pounds, being from 1854 to 20 over that of Canada. The Corn papers have also, this year, according to Island oats a separate heading in their commercial columns. This, we believe, is the first time that this honor has been done to one of our staple exports in the British market. Formerly everything was sold under the head of Canada or North America."

Yarmouth is evidently an enlightened region. Its Press understands what is meant by the "punishment" of Union men, and it is not much wonder that they find Yarmouth too hot for them. The Yarmouth Tribune says: "Dr. Tupper was burned in effigy here on Monday night. We are only sorry that it was not in person." That Editor must be a genuine Yarmouth "blaster."

Coal in large quantities is said to have been discovered in Prince Edward Island.

The Bank of Montreal has opened an agency in Halifax, and has appointed Mr. A. McNider to act as its representative.

St. John's papers say that from every section of New Brunswick, come most cheering accounts of the condition of the crops—hay, grain, roots, &c., promising an abundant yield.

Lieutenant Governor Dundas inspected the Volunteers of Prince Edward Island on Coronation Day, 24th June, and afterwards addressed the officers and men, alluding to the course of his remarks to "the steady onward march and approaching culmination of the confederation of Prince Edward Island with the Dominion of Canada." Governor Dundas has since arrived in Fredericton on a visit to Gen. Doyle.

The Halifax Express of the 10th inst., in its Commercial Review, says: We have no change to report in business since our last Review. The imports of flour have been exceedingly large, and prices have materially declined. We hope we have seen the last of high rates for breadstuffs. There will be no change in the price of the specialties both in Canada and the United States, who have so long gambled in the necessities of life, if they are now heavy sufferers by the decline. The account of the growing crops both in the New Dominion and the neighboring Republic, are most cheering, and promise an abundant harvest, if not checked by wet weather. The fisheries along our coast so far, are not all we could wish, but in some ports they are very successful, especially the salmon fishery. On the whole, the prospects of the fall trade are favorable.

—Adam Henry Meyers, of Trenton, has announced himself as a candidate for the House of Commons for East Northumberland.

—The blacks are going to start one of their number for the Vice-Presidency of the United States, as they control a large vote.

—A mournful song in Kansas just now begins with——The revenue returns in Great Britain are very satisfactory; the increase on the last quarter is $218,000, and on the year $2,010,000.

The Paris Exhibition.

The following additional extracts from the private letter from Paris, alluded to the other day, will be read with interest:

Where there are so many objects of interest it is impossible to describe everything, and will select a few of the most interesting. In my last I was speaking of my visit to the Tract Society House. For a little more than a franc I purchased a tract in every known language. I was much interested in a model of all the parts of Jerusalem, which have any particular interest to Christians. The great Mosque and Christ's Church, (Dr. Giberts English,) every house, nursery and place, with the streets are perfectly represented. The table in which our Lord was born is said to be brought here; his sepulchre is shown. A young Jew who took great pains to explain everything, remarked, the Rabbits believe these things, but you need not. This model has been got up at great expense; the measurement of it is on a scale of one eighth of an inch to the foot. The Mission House is a perfect Museum of Pagan Gods and all kinds of work and curiosities. Near this is the chapel, built by the Evangelical Alliance Society, a nice plain, neat building. It was opened by the good Lord Salisbury. All round the Palace it is like a little village, with its own fountains, flowers, and all kinds of statuary. Next is the Turkish establishment, where you can be served with everything you wish to buy, every description of ornaments, fans, and the like, all of which are for sale. Every Turk who visits you might choose to fancy, you can obtain fresh from the hands of a native cook. All around the place, up stairs, is a most gorgeously furnished veranda; in the centre is a splendid fountain, and most beautiful flower garden. The veranda is in this place is divided by magnificent curtains, and are furnished with splendid sofas or lounges and large pillows. I cannot give you an adequate description of this lovely place, inside of it and outside. It is just as beautiful as you can imagine anything to be.

The Chinese and Japan departments are also very lovely places. In one of these were three ladies in full dress, covered with the richest embroidery, their heads put up in the most fantastic manner, and altogether they were quite pretty; we bought some of their "cartes." The Chinese house is a most fantastic place, really most beautiful. There we had tea made and served in their own manner, they have tiny cups in which they put a little dry tea and then pour over it hot water; the cup is then covered with the saucer and placed on a sort of metal ring, which you take hold of and raise to your mouth and sip the tea as it runs, with a small spoon. We were greatly amused, the waiter had to show us the proper way to manage the tea. They gave us some cakes too as wafers, and very sweet, to eat with our tea. The waiter brought some tea in a tiny little stool, and put it under one of our feet—suppose to him they must have appeared tremendously like elephant's feet. They have hosts of merchandise for sale—some most elegant curiosities, but very costly.

At the Mexican, Italian, and Egyptian departments, there were men and women busy at work in their departments. We there saw Dramadaries with their native riders, sea-sawing along a most peculiar gait.—There is a splendid Egyptian Temple, which I have not time to describe. We then went through the British Army, thence to the Swiss Canal, and through the outside of the British and American machine departments, and home thoroughly tired.

Sunday the 23rd ult., we all went up to the Crystal Palace to hear the Rev. Newman Hall preach in the chapel. The Evangelical Alliance supply ministers for each Sabbath. We were in Sunday in London that he was to preach here, his text was "the hem of His garment." I told you in my last how much I liked him in London. He was just like himself in this sermon, so earnest and zealous. He evidently preaches that which he knows, and feels, and all from a warm heart that fears not to declare the whole counsel of God. His religion is a living fact, a real believing and rejoicing feeling, which if one has, he cannot but feel and know and act. I believe God has raised him up for these times of formalism, ritualism, and half dead and alive good-natured let me alone, and I'll let you alone. I shall not soon forget his sermon.

And now what do you think a Sunday is like in Paris. I hope and pray that our dear country may never have such Sabbaths as they have here. It was really shocking to see everything going on just precisely the same as on a week day; all the shops open, masons busy building houses, carters with heavy loads drawn by six horses, one before the other, and at the exhibition not any different from yesterday. I tried to see if in some things there was no respect for the day, either in the morning or afternoon, but could discover none. We came home a little after five, and had a good dinner in our rooms the rest of the day, glad to be shut in from the wickedness of the world, and were truly thankful to remember that we belonged to good old Christian England, and her virtuous Queen.

FROM BRIDGEWATER.

From our own Correspondent.

BRIDGEWATER, July 17, 1867.

Some excitement was created here on Friday and Saturday by the repeated shows of gold which were obtained by Mr. Walton, from the Carlton mine. He washed several samples during those days, and each time obtained large shows; it being well known that there are large quantities of similar earth in and about this vicinity, great expectations have been raised.

One lot of earth—about a quart—obtained from a mine about two miles from here, was washed also, and the result was such a show that, if it is all like that, it will yield a large profit to the workers. Many sceptics who either doubted the existence of the precious metal here, or disbelieved it altogether, are now converted and getting the gold fever fast.

Mr. Strong, of the Barry mine, started for Belleville yesterday with two boxes of quartz, for the purpose of having it tested scientifically. One loose piece he showed just before starting was considered by the knowing ones here that, if it were all like that, it would pay well for working, and yield a handsome profit.

Between twelve and one this morning, a fire broke out in the Cabinet Manufactory of Messrs. Frost Bros. Much consternation was caused, as it was almost adjoining Mr. Garratt's Iron Foundry on one side, and a dwelling-house on the other. The building, which was the property of the Hon. Bill Plint, and situated on the west side of the main street, was a frame one about sixty feet by thirty, and two stories high, with most of its contents was entirely destroyed, and the boiler house in the rear a stone building, completely gutted. Two much prize cannot be given the villagers and every one present for the very great exertions they used to subdue the fire and save the adjoining buildings, which ignited twice. Fortunately there was not the least stirring, had there been, the consequences would have been fearful, nothing could have saved the surrounding buildings, which were in progress at Agricultural Hall. The fire was not under control until about one o'clock before the fire was not under control. Messrs. Frost Bros. estimate their loss at about one thousand dollars, on which they have no insurance, and the workmen have lost all their tools. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

Telegraphic News.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, July 18, evening.—A grand banquet was given at the Guild Hall this evening in honor of the Sultan of Turkey. The Prince of Wales, Ismail Pasha the Viceroy of Egypt, and all the principal members of the Government were present. Nearly three thousand guests sat down at the table. The greater number of those present were men, the most eminent in the nation for rank or reputation. The Hall and tables were gorgeously decorated, and the display of plate was excessively rich and dazzling.

To-night a grand ball given to the Belgian Volunteers, who are here on a visit to this country, is in progress at Agricultural Hall. Over fifteen thousand people are there. It is expected that the Sultan, the Prince of Wales, and others of the royal and distinguished party at Guild Hall will visit Agricultural Hall before the close of the festivities.

DUBLIN, July 18.—Six persons who took an active part in the Waterford riots, and were arrested by the police, have been tried, convicted, and sentenced to various terms of imprisonment.

LONDON, July 18.—Efforts are being made to obtain the release of Gen. Nagle, one of the party of Fenians who landed at Dungarven, and were subsequently captured by the Irish Guards. The American Government has been invoked by the friends of General Nagle to use its influence with the British authorities to procure his discharge from custody.

COPENHAGEN, July 18.—The Danish Parliament has adjourned.

LIVERPOOL, July 19, noon.—Cotton firm at 10½c for Uplands; 10½c for Orleans. Stocks in port 738,000 shares, including 88,000 American. Other articles unchanged.

LONDON, July 19, noon.—Consols 94½; Erie 46½; Bonds 75½; Ill C 77; Ex Div G 22; others unchanged.

QUEENSTOWN, July 19, 3 p.m.—The steamships Russia and Denmark from New York have arrived.

LONDON, 2 p.m.—Consols 94½.

LIVERPOOL, 2 p.m.—Cottons firm but unchanged. Corn, 36s 3d; White Cal, Wheat, 13s 4d. Cheese declined to 50s; Lard advanced to 49s.

American Despatches.

St. Louis, July 18th.—Four hundred Mormons left Omaha last night for Salt Lake. They came from Liverpool, and will reach their destination in the latter part of September.

MEXICAN AFFAIRS.

NEW YORK, July 19.—The Herald's Washington telegram says: Mr. Abbott, brother of the historian, has proached a proposition to the leading members of Congress for the annexation of Mexico, which, he intimates, meets the approval of Juárez and the chiefs of the Mexican Republican party. The latter fear another foreign intervention on account of Maximilian's execution, or a continuation of the intestine civil war engendered by bad blood between the leading military chiefs, and are satisfied with annexation, provided they themselves can be secured in some good Government berth, and peace secured to the country. Mr. Abbott's propositions were received with some hesitation by Sumner and Banks, but with much favor by Howard, Chandler, and others.

The Herald's special advice from Mexico, via New Orleans, states that Juárez was expected at Mexico City of the 10th inst. It is stated that several more important prisoners had been condemned at Queretaro. Two transports had been sent bound for Vera Cruz with the French flag at their peaks. The death of Santa Anna is said to be confirmed. Several of the Libera-

FROM CARIBBOO.
The following is a condensed summary of Caribboo news, taken from the Sentinel of the 13th inst.—The winter takings of gold by two branch banks on Williams' Creek amounted to $335,516.32 being nearly $100,000 in excess of the previous winter. Williams' Creek, the Borealis Co. washed up yesterday (12th inst.) 200 ozs., making for the week 2304 ozs. The Davis Co. took out "big bag." Break-o-day Co. were finding prospects of 50c. to the pan.—Sugar Creek, The O'Hara Co. ran a tunnel into the hill and at 100 feet struck pay, yielding 12 ozs. to two sets of timber. The gold is coarse, some pieces weighing $5 to $8. Great excitement has been felt within the last few days over the supposed discovery of the lost Heron lead is a claim called the Blind Channel Cr., located about 1200ft. below the Heron on the same side of the creek. The consequence has been that the claims about to be abandoned have now risen in public estimation and are commanding high prices.

Treatment of the Abyssinian Captives.
The following is taken from some letters lately received from the captives, and shows the inhumanity with which they are treated:—
"On the burning of Gondar, the capital of the country, he drove scores of women into a house and set fire to it. He is flogging the old women and torturing the children to make them confess where grain and money are hid; he is sending his troops to plunder the villages, and setting fire to the houses of the inhabitants. After chaining the five poor men who intended to make their escape because he insisted upon their marrying Abyssinian women, he stripped them naked, and left them to the burning heat of the day and excessive dews of the cold nights for several days without food, and then imprisoned them in a dungeon in Debra Tabor, where he has just taken up his residence with a seraglio of seventy ladies. He sends scarcely any supplies to the captives, and what he does send is of the coarsest kind, so that they stand a chance of being starved to death, should their supplies fail. He is known to have taken charge of the captives. The Abyssinians are leaving him daily through his ferocious temper. The wives of the missionaries, who are separated from them, are in continual fear."

STE. ROCHER.—The steamer Rochester leaves Flint's Wharf on Monday at two o'clock, for Oswego, touching at Mill Point and Pictou.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, JULY 20.

FROM MADOC.

(By Special Telegram to the Daily Intelligencer.)

The following special telegram giving further gold news, was received just before going to press.

MADOC, July 20.

Mr Wyckoff has just finished another assay of quartz from the Borland mine, Moore's farm, and found gold in paying quantities. Mr. Wood has a certificate of an assay of quartz from the Moore mine, that yielded 279 dolts to the ton.

The Richardson mine was opened today. There were between four and five hundred people present. Gold territory is going up.

FROM TORONTO.

THE ONTARIO MINISTRY.

TORONTO, July 20.

The two vacant seats in the Ontario Government have been filled.

M. C. Cameron was sworn in as Secretary-Registrar, and E. B. Wood, M. P. P. Brantford, as Treasurer.

The Ontario Ministry is now complete.

FROM PORT HOPE.

(By Special Telegram to the Daily Intelligencer.)

PORT HOPE, July 20.

A fire broke out here this morning about 1 o'clock, by which C. Brent's drug store and a number of other stores were destroyed. Loss about $30,000, mostly covered by insurance.

CHANCERY ACTION.—The Court of Chancery will hold its Autumn sittings in Belleville on Tuesday the 1st of October.

MILE POSTS.—By noon today the whole of the mile posts will be erected from Madoc to Belleville. Opposite the Court House and one mile out the posts can be seen, neatly erected and firmly placed. Mr. Second expects to make an arrangement with a gentleman well known to the people of Belleville, who will call upon them for subscriptions. We hope to be able to record a success to his deserving enterprise.

FLAX CROP IN ILLINOIS.—The Chicago Republic says:—"We understand that the new crop of flax is now being cut along the line of the Illinois Central Railroad, and it will not be long before the new seed will be in the market. The crop this season is a heavy one, and there is every prospect that it will be secured in good order. We do not hear of any prices named for new seed; old crop sold today, on 'Change, at $2.25 per bush."

OUR COUNTRY FIRST AND PARTY AFTERWARDS.—The Brampton Times thus discourses:—"The sacred duty which devolves on the electors at this crisis of our country's history is, to support no candidate that will not give the government a fair trial,—it is a government of confidence, framed to unite conflicting interests into one solid phalanx, in order to perfect and develop the Union. To vote for a representative pledged to condemn it unheard-to oppose it if its policy is declared, by a vote of non-confidence, would be un-Canadian, as well as un-British—it would be tamely yielding the destinies of the 'Dominion' to the spirit of faction."

A LITTLE STRANGER AT MILL POINT.—A correspondent furnishes us the following:—"On Thursday last, 18th inst., at about three o'clock a.m., a loud knock was heard at the door of Mr. Adams Kinsley at Mill Point. Mrs. K. got up and looking out of the window, observed a man driving off, dressed in black, with plug hat, a buggy with a grey horse. On going to the door she found a market basket; she then called Mr. K. who brought it in, when lo and behold it contained a new-born female babe, (undressed,) wrapped up in a flannel sheet, with two dresses and two petticoats for the child. Mrs. K. is fulfilling the text, 'I was a stranger and ye took me in,' and seems very much pleased with the babe who appears to feel quite good natured and at home. No blue has yet been obtained to the parents of the child."

Cheering Gold News.

The following special telegram from Madoc, received today, is of the most encouraging character:

MADOC, July 20, 1867.
Messrs. Mitchell and Sparling of the El Dorado Mine on Moore's farm, submitted six pounds of quartz rock to Mr. Wyckoff to assay. The result was, gold 74 grains; silver 59 grains; value of rock per ton $124.

Affidavits of the above facts have been made before A. F. Wood, Esq., Reeve of this village. Messrs. Mitchell and Sparling were induced to have the assay made through the advice of Dr. Otway, F.R.S., Practical and Scientific mineralogist who is examining this country for scientific purposes. Lots of the same class of ore lies at the mouth of the mine and in this part of the country.

By this afternoon's stage we received the following communication and affidavits confirmatory of the above:—

MADOC, July 19, 1867.

"On Tuesday last, being at Eldorado, I was asked to visit the Eldorado mine by Messrs. Sparling and Mitchell, the owners, and though not a judge of gold-bearing quartz, was informed by the mine that the quartz rock thrown from the mine, Mr. Mitchell estimated that Dr. Otway, F.R.S., had been there a few days before, and gave it as his opinion that the rock contained both gold and silver, and that the whole country around was rich in the same class of minerals. Mr. Mitchell pointed to a pile of quartz rock near the mine, and said so soon as Mr. Wyckoff had his assaying apparatus ready, he intended to have it tested."

"To-day Mr. Sparling brought in six pounds of the rock to Mr. Wyckoff, and this afternoon has exhibited to me the result of the assay, being two nuggets, one of gold and the other of silver, about the size of small peas. Knowing how suspiciously all statements of this kind are looked upon by the public, I asked Mr. Sparling if he was willing to make an affidavit with reference to the locality where the quartz was found. He at once consented, I enclose it to you for publication, that the public may see that there is no mistake in the reports that there is gold elsewhere than at the Richardson mine. Previous to this they are found in the crevices of the rock 'small shows of gold,' but this has been so often stated and no practical result followed, that they were not inclined to say anything about it."

"This mine with the Moore mine and several other shafts in this locality, are about forty to fifty rods from the Richardson mine. I think this unmistakably settles the question of gold and silver being found in the quartz elsewhere than at the Richardson mine."

Yours truly,

A. F. Wood,

Reeve of Madoc.

AFFIDAVITS.

This is to certify that the six pounds of quartz rock referred to in the attached certificate from George D. Wyckoff, assayer of this place, was taken by me from the El Dorado mine, situated on the 'Moore' farm, and that there is to be found the same kind of rock near the mouth of said mine—thrown out by the miners—and further, that from a quartz rock from the mine, from which the above was taken, running through the El Dorado mine, six feet in width.

Sworn before me at Madoc, this nineteenth day of July, in the year of our Lord, 1867.

A. F. Wood, J. P.

This is to certify that the six pounds of quartz rock, of ore, said to have come from the El Dorado mine, and found it to contain gold 74 grains; silver 59 grains. Silver 55 grains; $50 per ton.

(Signed) GEO. D. WYCKOFF, Assayer.

The Richardson Mine.

The Directors of the Richardson Mine Company had a meeting on Thursday last, and decided upon the immediate opening of the mine. Mr. Hardin, of Chicago, was appointed to superintend operations. He went out yesterday, and will put a gang of men to work at once.

GOODY'S LADY BOOK for August is a superb number. Rich in illustration, replete with choice reading, and a text book for fashion, it fully sustains its reputation as the best Lady's Magazine in America. Published by L. A. Godey, Philadelphia, at $3 a year.

MR. HOG IN THE CARS.—Under the head of "Mr. Hog in the Cars," the New York Post vigorously assails those members of the travelling public who are in the habit of monopolizing a whole seat, and if possible, another, so that to stretch their legs regardless of the convenience of the fellow-passengers. Every passenger train on any railroad in the country contains a number of these nuisances who ought to go as freight upon a hog train.

PENITENTIARY IN IRELAND.—An Irish paper gives prominence to the following statement:—"Strange rumors have been floating about during the week, relative to the action of the Fenian party in Ireland, and letters from London speak of unusual activity among the heads of the army and navy, the secret of which is to be sought for in the information reaching the Government from Ireland. It appears that a landing on our southern coast and a renewal of the insurrection are deemed not improbable contingencies."

The great tabernacle at Salt Lake City is completed and comfortably seats 10,000 people. Captain Caldwell, 103rd Regiment, has met his death whilst tiger-shooting in India.

The bricklayers and masons of Baltimore have struck for $5 a day and nine hours' work. Cholera has appeared in the North-Western Provinces of the Punjab, and sixty men of the 42nd Highlanders have fallen victims to it at Ferozwar.

The "Situation."

The election contest in the County of Hastings has now fairly commenced, and it may be well to take a brief glance, as our Yankee friends would say, at the "situation."

Commencing with the West Riding we have four candidates in the field, Dr. Holden and Mr. Thos. Farley, the nominees of the "Liberal" Convention, and Mr. Jas. Brown and Mr. K. Graham, who have been urged to come out by a large number of the most influential electors of the Riding. Both parties have commenced an active canvass, and so far as we can learn it has been conducted with less of that acrimony and bitterness which usually characterizes election contests. Whether this happy state of things will continue depends altogether upon the parties who are canvassing. Let us hope that the good sense of all interested will induce them to avoid as much as possible the introduction of purely personal and private matters.

The addresses of the candidates are before the public, and ere this every one who has read them will have formed his opinion as to their merits. One thing must be apparent to all, that Messrs. Holden and Farley have contrived to say considerable without much meaning, and that one very important matter they have ignored altogether. The question of giving a fair trial to the present Federal Government is just now paramount to all others, and upon this question they do not tell us what are their opinions. If we take the views of the leaders of the party who brought them out as their views,—and unless they express themselves to the contrary, we are justified in doing so,—we must assume that they are opposed to the Coalition, that they are not willing to give the gentlemen who have been instrumental in establishing the system of Confederation, a fair opportunity of putting the system to a test. If this be their position, we predict for this small minority of the votes of the West Riding electors, for we believe that four-fifths of the voters of this Riding are willing to give the new Government a fair trial. Upon this question Messrs. Brown and Graham give no uncertain sound.—They come out flat-footed for the Coalition Government, and the effect of their manly declaration has been to secure for them the support of a large number who otherwise might have given their votes for the other candidates. We do not think there is any doubt about the election of Messrs. Brown and Graham, if their friends go to work with a hearty good will.

It will be seen, by the proceedings of a Convention at Madoc, that Messrs. Brown and Dr. Boulter have been nominated candidates for the North Riding, and that they have accepted the nomination. Mr. T. C. Wallbridge is in the field for the House of Commons in opposition to Mr. Brown, but we have not the slightest conception, in the face of the record which Mr. Wallbridge has made for the past four years, that the electors will give him another chance to betray their interests. We have assurances from all parts of the Riding that Mr. Brown's election is certain. Of course earnest work has to be done, and we have no doubt those who brought him into the field will secure his return by a triumphant majority. There is no candidate for the Local Legislature except Dr. Boulter, and we do not apprehend, with the support promised to the Dr., that any other candidate would have the slightest chance of success.

In the East Riding the Hon. Robert Read is the only candidate for the House of Commons, and we believe he will be the only candidate. The assurances of support which Mr. Read has had from all parts of the Riding, and from all classes and creeds, are such that no one will have the temerity to enter the lists against him.—For the Local Legislature there are two candidates in the field, Messrs. Henry Corby and Geo. E. Henderson. It will be seen by the proceedings of a Convention which took place at Melrose on Thursday, that efforts were made to select a candidate, but there not being a proper representation from Thurlow and Hungerford, no decisive action was taken. Preliminary steps have been taken to hold another convention of delegates from the three townships, which is presumed will select a candidate. Mr. Corby has been handed a requisition signed by about four hundred electors, and as will be seen by reference to our advertising columns, has accepted thereof. If the content is to be between Mr. Corby and Mr. Henderson there can be no doubt as to the result. Mr. Corby would beat his opponent three to one.

There is now building in Paris an experimental house eleven stories high. It has no staircase, but the tenants are to ascend on a hydraulic elevator, which goes up and down once a minute. The sky-parlors are the aristocratic rooms.

North Hastings Convention.

The Convention of Delegates for the various Townships in the North Riding met at Madoc on the 18th inst., for the purpose of selecting candidates for the House of Commons and the Local Legislature. A correspondent furnishes us the following report of the proceedings:

The following is a list of the delegates:

STIRLING.—Peter Chard, John S. Black, E. D. Allen, J. W. Wellington.

MADOC.—John N. Moore, J. T. Ketcheson, J. H. Dunn, A. B. Ross, Jas. Blair, R. T. Ferguson, Henry Cooke.

MARMORA.—Sol. Johns, Jas. Hamilton, Geo. Wiggins, Hugh Jones, Adam Ashart.

ELZEY.—D. Thompson, Thos. Wiggins, Robt. Nelson, Alex. McNair, Jos. W. Turner.

HUNTINGDON.—Jas. Haggerty, Thos. Eno, Simon Ashley, Noah Reed, John B. Fox, Sylvester Holden, J. McKee.

RAWDON.—Alex. Sills, C. Baragar, S. Bailey, F. Sine, H. Livingston, W. McQuigg, J. McCulloch.

There were no delegates from Tador, nor was any reason assigned for their non-appearance.

The meeting was called to order by the appointment of Mr. John R. Ketcheson as Chairman and Mr. Thomas Eno as Secretary.

Mr. F. Sine wished to get an expression of the meeting with reference to the exclusion of outside candidates, but there was an unmistakable feeling that the matter had better be left to the votes of the Convention, as given for the Candidates.

The Chairman then called for nominations for the House of Commons.

Mr. Daniel Thompson moved, seconded by Mr. McQuigg, that Mr. M. Brown be the candidate.

Mr. Solomon Johns moved, seconded by Mr. John Black, that Dr. Boulter be the candidate.

Mr. T. C. Wallbridge was then nominated by Mr. S. Holden, seconded by Mr. J. B. Fox.

Before proceeding to vote, it was moved by Mr. F. Sine, seconded by Mr. A. B. Ross, that the voting be by ballot.

Moved in amendment by Mr. Black, seconded by Mr. Haggerty, that it be an open vote, which was carried.

The vote was then taken, which resulted as follows: Brown, 17; Boulter, 9; Wallbridge, 5. Two of the delegates being absent, but who afterwards stated that they would support Mr. Brown (Messrs. Moore and Ashley), would have made Mr. Brown's vote 19.

Mr. Brown was then declared the nominee of the Convention for the House of Commons.

Moved by Mr. R. T. Ferguson, seconded by Mr. H. Dunn, that A. F. Wood, Esq., be the candidate for the Local Legislature.

Dr. Boulter was nominated by Mr. Turner, seconded by Mr. Chard.

Mr. W. H. Tumley, nominated by Mr. F. Sine, seconded by Mr. Dunn.

Mr. Geo. Nelson, nominated by Mr. Cooke, seconded by Mr. Moore.

The vote was then taken, resulting as follows: Boulter, 24; Wood, 6; Nelson, 2; Tumley, 1.

Dr. Boulter was then declared the nominee of the Convention for the Legislature of Ontario.

The gentlemen who had been nominated were then sent for, and addressed the meeting.

Mr. BOWELL thanked the Convention for the confidence they evidently reposed in him, and assured them that, if elected, he would endeavor to faithfully discharge the duties of the office. He said that after it was understood that his name would be brought before the Convention as a candidate for nomination, he had had some grave doubts as to whether he would be advisable for him to accept the nomination, if it should be offered him, for there must be a material change from the last election, or he could not expect to be elected. The purpose of satisfying his mind on this matter he had taken a tour through the Riding, and he must say that promises of support were sufficiently flattering to warrant his acceptance of the nomination. In the townships of Huntingdon men of the stamp of Owen Ketcheson, Richard Newton and the Mulletts and Ashleys, who had given a warm support to Mr. Wallbridge at the last election, had assured him that he (Mr. Brown) could rely upon their active support at this election, and from all over the Riding he had received assurances of the same character, and he had no doubt that his friends gave him the hearty support they promised, that his election was sure. He then referred to the various questions that were agitating the public mind, giving his views upon each, and closed by again thanking the Convention for the nomination.

His remarks were well received, and his friends felt sanguine of success.

Dr. BOULTER said the views expressed by Mr. Brown with reference to the Coalition Government, the administration of the Crown Lands Department, &c., were the same as he would have given had he spoken first. He would, if elected, give a fair support to the Sandfield McDonald Government, reserving to himself the right to vote a want of confidence whenever he should consider their acts were not for the good of the country. After referring to some necessary amendments to the administration of the Crown Lands Department, he concluded by thanking the Convention for the nomination, which he accepted.

Mr. A. F. WOOD was then called on, who said that he was in the pleasant position of not being compelled to say "I elected," for, as he had stated at the meeting at Luke's, and elsewhere, that he would be governed by the action of this Convention, he intended fully to redeem his promise. As his friends well knew, he had stated from the commencement of the agitation today he had expressed his decided that he had no wish to be a candidate, that his business required his attention. And in reply to repeated applications from friends in the different townships, he had invariably declined taking any steps to get a nomination. That neither directly nor indirectly had he sought it, and since this Convention had been assembled today he had expressed his decided wish to his friends among the delegates not to be a candidate. He expressed his gratification at the nomination that had been made, that he had not the slightest feeling of envy in connection with it, and while he should give the candidates named his support, he should carefully watch their acts, if they were elected, and govern himself at any future election by it. He thanked those who had brought his name before the Convention. It was kindly met, he knew, but it was not his wish to be a candidate.

Mr. TUMLEY thanked those who had nominated him. He did not expect it, and had no further remarks to make.

Mr. NELSON was called upon, but was absent.

A vote of thanks was given to the Chairman and Secretary, three cheers for the Queen and three for the candidates, and the Convention adjourned sine die.

Tyendinaga Convention.

A meeting comprised of about 160 of the leading electors of the Township of Tyendinaga, and several electors from Thurlow assembled at the Town Hall, Melrose, Thursday 18th inst., at two o'clock, in accordance with a notice given by the Reeve, to select candidates for the representation of the Eastern Division in the Legislature of Ontario.

In consequence of the absence of Mr. Appleby, through illness, Mr. Frizzell, Deputy Reeve, acted as Chairman.

Having called the meeting to order, the chairman proceeded to state the object for which they had met together; that there seemed a difficulty in the way as to holding a regular convention of delegates from each Township, and it was considered that by a public meeting of representatives from the Township they might determine upon a candidate. Should this course not be pursued they might yet select delegates to confer with the other Townships. He was now prepared to receive nominations.

It was moved by Jno. R. Huffman, seconded by Chas. Hudson, that Dr. Wilson be a candidate for the Local Legislature.

Moved by A. L. Roberts, seconded by Jno. Keller, that Henry Corby, Esq., be a candidate.

Moved by Wm. H. McCulloch, seconded by Donald Anderson, that Alex. Robertson, Esq., be a candidate.

Moved by Jno. Eaton, seconded by Wm. Youx, that J. J. Farley, Esq., be a candidate.

Moved by S. S. Lazier, seconded by B. Pashley, that A. L. Roberts, Esq., be a candidate.

The chairman then asked for nominations for the House of Commons.

The Hon. Robert Read, nominated by Donald Anderson, Esq.

The Hon. L. Wallbridge, nominated by Alex. McLaren, Esq.

H. Holden, Esq., nominated by John Eaton, Esq.

It was stated that the last two gentlemen had declined being candidates, and there was therefore no opposition to Mr. Read.

The nominees were then requested to address the meeting.

Mr. A. L. Roberts declined being a candidate.

Mr. Farley said the meeting was not a proper representation from each Township and he could not accept the nomination.

Dr. Wilson came forward and said that he did not expect a nomination, and would not address them at any length. He expected that Mr. Appleby would be the nominee, and came to support him. Since he declined running, it changed the position of matters, and he could not therefore say whether he would go to the polls or not.

Mr. Conby said he was a candidate. He had been called upon by a numerous signed requisition from each Township and elsewhere, to come forward, and he felt it his duty to do so. It had been said by parties present that he was a distiller, and resident of Belleville, but would say that his interests were centred in this Division, and he furnished a market for certain coarse grains, and could not understand why he would be condemned for earning an honest living more than another. He had lived many years among them, and from his acquaintance with them he expected their support. He then gave his views upon the present political parties of the country, and supported Confederation and the Government.

Mr. ROBERTSON was then called upon.—He considered it an honor on a young man to receive a nomination among others from such a large and influential meeting, representing as it did so much of the wealth and intelligence of the Dominion. He was sorry that Mr. Appleby was not present, and particularly that he was not to be a candidate, as he believed he was the proper man to represent them. There was a disposition to bring out an agriculturist, and he believed there were young men among them capable of representing them; we had a new constitution, and should infuse new blood and vitality into it. He had been requested by several influential gentlemen to come forward as a candidate, but did not wish to be in the way of any gentleman who might be selected as the candidate of the people, and would give his vote and influence to secure the election of the nominee. He dwelt at some length upon the advantages of Confederation; that by the abolition of the Reciprocity Treaty we required a new market for our products, which was supplied by the addition of the Maritime Provinces. We had a proper representation in the number of members, &c. He concluded that the present government should have an opportunity to perfect the scheme which had only been commenced, and trusted they would get a fair trial. He trusted they would select a reliable man as their representative.

Fault-Finding.

Children are more hurt by indiscriminate, thoughtless fault-finding, than by any one thing. Often a child has all the sensitive and all the susceptibility of a grown-up. Nothing about him is right yet, he is immature and faulty at all points, and everybody from right to left, above and below, till he takes refuge in callous hardness, or irritable nervousness.

A bright noisy boy rushes in from school eager to tell his mother something he has on his heart, and Number One says to him, "You've left the door open! I do wish you wouldn't always leave the door open! And do look at the mud on your shoes! How many times must I tell you to wipe your feet!" "Now there, you have thrown your cap on the sofa again. When will you learn to hang it up?" "Don't put your state there, that isn't the place for it." "How did your hands are? What have you been doing?" "Don't sit on that chair, you'll break the springs, bounding!" "Marry, how your hair looks! Do go and wash and comb it!" "There! if you haven't torn the brand of your coat! Dear me, what a boy!" "Don't speak so loud, your voice goes through my head!" "I want to know, Jim, if it was you that broke up that barrel? I have been saving for Brown's Boat!" "I believe it was you Jim, that lacked the side of my razor." "Jim's been writing at my desk, and has blotted three sheets of the best of paper."

Now, the question is—if any of the grown people of the family had to run the gauntlet of a string of criticisms on themselves, equally true as those that salute the unlucky child, would they be any better natured about it than he is? No, but there are grown-up people, they have rights that others are bound to respect. Everybody cannot tell these things, but they think about everything they do. If every one did, would there not be terrible revelations?—Mrs. Stetson.

Getting Married.
Every young girl, now-a-days, expects to get a rich husband. Rich men ought to be abundant. In the country, girls are brought up with the idea of work, and with a suspicion that such may chance to wed a student, industrious young man, who will be compelled to earn the subsistence of himself and family. Such girls as these learn how to become worthy helpmates. But now, it is different. From the highest to the lowest class in life, the prevailing idea is, that marriage is to tilt them, at once, above all necessity for exertion, and even the serious girl dresses and reasons as if she entertained a romantic dream in her Underalls like destiny of marrying a prince, or, at any rate, of being fallen in love with some wealthy gentleman if not a prince noble in the guise. This is why so many young men fear to marry. Let us sober down a little. Let every young girl be taught ideas of life and expectation, and let her know her own condition, and she will not be so frequently disappointed. Should she be fortunate and wed above that condition, she may readily learn the duties of a noble noble in the guise. This is why so many young men fear to marry. Let us sober down a little. Let every young girl be taught ideas of life and expectation, and let her know her own condition, and she will not be so frequently disappointed. WILL EXHIBIT AT BELLEVILLE.
MONDAY, July 29th.

Grand Mammoth Show!

David Guerian, Proprietor; Geo. W. DeHaven, Manager; J. B. Oliver, Treasurer; Oliver Bell, Assistant Director; H. F. Nichols, Master of Circle; C. McOmber, General Agent.

A GRAND FREE EXHIBITION.

THE FAIRY ASCENSIONIST.

MISS ANNIE WORLAND!

Before the opening of the doors of the Circus, Miss ANNIE will perform the difficult and perilous feat of walking from the ground to the top of the enormous pavilion on a SINGLE WIRE. This is one of the most difficult feats ever attempted by any person in the profession. This beautiful scene will be followed by music from Capt. J. Ollershaw's Metropolitan Opera Band, composed of first-class Musicians, of whom each is a No. 1 in his respective line.

A Grand and Attractive Combination of Merit, Novelty, Excellence, Amusement and Instruction. A stupendous congregation of the most intelligent and attractive features ever offered to the public, combining more to interest, amuse and gratify than any traveling Exhibition in America. The public will remember that for the entire season, only a single admission fee is charged.

The Company has been selected with the most scrupulous care from the very elite of the Profession of Equestrianism and Gymnastics, and contains the names of the most exalted of the many claims to athletic distinction.

Among the hosts of Artists connected with this Colonial Enterprise, the following names are prominent: Mr. L. RIVERS, the great Sicilian Rider, Gymnast and Leaper, (late of Paris) is unequalled in his daring and astonishing leaps, and the general novelty of his performance.

Geo. W. DeHAVEN, the most thorough, practical, efficient and humane Horse-Tamer on the Continent. Mr. DeHaven will at each exhibition introduce his celebrated Trained and Trick Horse "PHOTO". Mr. DeHaven challenges the world to produce a better trained and Trick Horse than the one above named.

MADAME WORLAND, the daring and accomplished Equitienne, in her superb and Graceful Acts, introducing her favorite steed, "Gipsy Queen".

Mr. WILLIAM DUTTON, whose Great Equitrian feats on his Flying Bare-backed Steed, have called for him the classic title of "Winged Mercury". As a Batton Leaper Mr. Dutton has no equal, and in his Grand Leap for Life from the spring-board, holds the competition.

MR. OLIVER BELL in his great specialty of throwing a Souverain through a hoop, whose inner circumference is encircled with sharp pointed daggers. Mr. Bell's marvellous and intricate feats beggar description.

THE MILSON BROTHERS, (the champion gymnasts), the most accomplished Acrobats and Athletes in the profession, will at each exhibition present a varied olio of Gymnastic, Acrobatic and muscular achievements. In their peculiar specialties the Milson Brothers acknowledge no equals, and their marvellous performances are the most thrilling and exciting that can be witnessed in any exhibition.

MISS ANNIE WORLAND, the most accomplished and graceful artist in the profession, will introduce at each exhibition some of her principal specialties of artistic equestrianism, including Difficult Poses, Promises, Leaping Banners, and other objects, she is equally delicious.

MR. T. H. SEAMON, our American Clown, Jester, and Comic Vocalist, whose grace, dash, and spirit have won for him the title of the "Spirit of the Ring". Mr. Seamon, after his success in the ring and humor, has been termed the "Burton of the Ring".

MR. HORACE E. NICHOLS, the very efficient, shrewd and courteous Manager of the Circus, will lend his efforts towards perfecting and insuring the success of the entertainment.

MARIE HANEY, the beautiful Prodigy, in his wonderful exploit on the Horizontal Bar.

LA FONTAINE BROTHERS, (Henry and Alfred) these wonderful Gymnasts and Acrobats have been engaged at an enormous salary for the present season, in order that the patrons of the Imperial Circus may have an opportunity of witnessing their agility and skill.

LA PETITE ANNIE, in her daring and difficult feat on the Corda Prodigy, will show the world.

MR. W. DUTTON AND WILLIE MILLER will appear in their wonderful Double Somersault, and also turning twice in the air before alighting.

In addition to the above, will be found the names of Messrs. Bart, Carpenter, Handfield, Lorraine, and a host of others.

CAPITAL . . . $10,000,000.

FIRE and LIFE.

LIFE DEPARTMENT

THE principles on which this Company is founded contain all the elements required to develop the benefits of Life Insurance, and assure every facility to intending assureds.

One of the advantages secured by those who insure their lives with this Company is that the outside expenditures for Management is absolutely restricted by the Dead Weight of the company. This most important restriction shows that the interests of participating policy holders are closely watched, and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point as the proportion of premiums expended for Management

Must Largely Influence Profits and Bonuses.

The London Correspondent of the Chicago Tribune writes: "I was one of a congregation of 25,000 people in the Crystal Palace one day."

teacher being Mr. Spurgeon. I recall Friday—the night the pulpit which had been unoccupied near me was Mrs. Spurgeon and "destains in the pulpit." This preacher went up the stairs in the morning, and the dense mass of people with perfect composure and his wife grew nervous and frightened, and at times, fast in the excitement of the time. This time, when Mr. Spurgeon who beckoned one of his boys to his and sent an entreaty to his wife that would sit a little closer under, so that he could not express a feeling which he could do nothing to do and the lady could see her husband, she soon regained her composure. On the morning everybody was speaking apparently the highest excitement and in a room, Mr. Spurgeon sent his out rounded and complete, not one falling short of the entire space. A little while after the Protestant Jewish preacher in the name of Westminster, and the audience an admirer of that learned and excellent man
I was in pain the whole of the sermon, for I thought he would really break a blood-vessel, and strain his voice in the general endeavor to reach every one.
But Spurgeon's voice is of that voice which is independent of physical effort. At the close of the service he gave the Doxology, and it had been sung, he got up,
and in his hand he held a book, and said in the easiest way imaginable, "No, no; that won't do at all. Not half of it."
Sung that time, Mr. Organist, let's have that again, please, and this time let everybody sing. And he sang it again, and from end. He looked like a bird, or a mouse. But he turned around on his stool, put his hand behind his ear, and when Mr.
Spurgeon had finished his song, wheeled around to look and point to the organist again. The time appeared to speed, and the effect was wonderful. It was as though a huge block of sound had come from somewhere. Get Mr. Spurgeon to visit America, and see him. He likes to visit a new school; but it is a remarkable man, thoroughly honest, and schising a singular amount of good.

—Very rich gold discoveries have been made by the Mormons on Green river. Brigham Young is fitting out parties for the mines.

—A clergyman was one day talking with his landlord, a Universalist, on the personality of the devil. A little incredulous, the gentleman remarked, "I should like to see the devil." "Can't you wait?" was the quiet reply.

THE SCOTCH IN CANADA.—The Scottish American Journal, in analysing the list of the newly appointed senators for life, appointed by the Queen for Canada, finds that "a fourth of the whole number" belong to the Caledonian race, while "the proportion of Scots to the rest of the population" is "only about one in twelve." The Journal naturally holds this to be "a matter of congratulation," and thinks this political success of its fellow-countrymen only the result of steady, persevering habits, of frugality, temperance, and self-respect.

CANADA SHIPPING.—The Dominion of Canada has made a good Merchant Shipping list to show. At the end of the year 1886, there stood on the registers of the ports of what then constituted Canada, and of Nova Scotia and Newfoundland, 5,236 vessels, of which 1,755 were of 755,502 tons. Of vessels of not more than 50 tons there were 2,341 sailing vessels, of 65,888 tons, and 57 steam vessels of 1,493 tons; and 2,061 vessels above 50 tons there were; 2,026 sailing vessels of 661,884 tons, steam vessels of 26,387 tons. In the year 1886 the new vessels built at these ports, and registered as British ships, comprised 740 sailing vessels of 157,213 tons, and one steam vessel of 42 tons.—Shipping Gazette.

will regret to observe that there are more "weak-kneed Reformers" in the West than in the East. That not only Sandfield Macdonald, Macdougall, Blair, Howland, Cowan, Stuart, Scobie, &c., demand that a spirit of fair-play should mark the present times, but that the redoubtable champion of Crittism in West Middlesex—Messrs. Buchanan and Campbell—have been compelled by the force of public opinion to declare that they will give the Coalition Government a generous support! The ball moves onward, and ten Gloves and forty George Browns would not be able to arrest its legitimate progress.—London Free Press.

VITAL STATISTICS.—The London Times notes that statisticians have calculated that if the population of the world amounts to between twelve hundred and thirteen hundred millions of persons, the number of deaths in a year would be about thirty-two millions, assuming the correctness of calculation, the deaths each day would be nearly 68,000, 3,600 per hour, 60 per minute; and thus every second would carry into eternity one human life from one person on the world or another. But Professor Huxley asserts its superior power; for, upon calculating the probable annual loss of life, the globe would lose 100,000,000 persons, or 100 millions in every minute, 70 are born, and thus the increase of the population is kept up.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, JULY 24.

Hops.—One train of thirty-seven cars of Hops for Montreal, passed Belleville today on the Grand Trunk Railway. Some hog there.

To be Given Up.—A report comes from Vera Cruz that the body of Maximilian will be delivered to the Austrian Legation. The remains of the ex-Emperor are said to be now on the way to Vera Cruz. He is to be put on board the Austrian steam frigate Elisabeth, which is due there about the first of August.

THE INDIAN WAR.—The Indian War in the West costs the United States Government $1,000,000 a week, and General Sherman estimates that a permanent peace, which, we presume, means the extermination of the Red Man from his hunting grounds, will not cost less than $100,000,000! The Indian has a melancholy fate: he is first robbed by the white man; and when he retaliates, the dogs of war are let loose upon him.

DEATH OF JUDITH HARRISON.—Hon. S. B. Harrison, Judge of the County Court of York, died at Toronto on Tuesday, the 23rd instant, aged 65 years. Mr. Harrison was a prominent politician in Lord Sydenham's time. He represented the City of Kingston in the first Parliament from the 1st July, 1841, to the 3d October 1844. In the second Parliament he was member for Kent, from the 15th November, 1844, to the 3d January, 1845. Mr. Harrison was for many years County and Surrogate Judge, and was universally respected.

Gold News.

Mr. R. L. Walton, who has been working at the Aze Factory Mine near Bridgewater, and making explorations at other points in that vicinity, is satisfied that gold will be found in paying quantities—that it is now found in paying quantities at all these openings. He says—and having had extensive experience as a miner in Australia, his opinion is valuable—that the oreous matter which has been thrown from these shafts will pay to work, that he is satisfied if this stuff was subjected to what he calls the "Long Tom" process, miners would wash from two to four ounces per day. If this yield could be obtained per day he might well say gold can now be found in paying quantities in Elzevir. Mr. Walton intends making arrangements to carry on mining operations in that township in a thorough and scientific manner.

The following communication from the Reeve of Madoc, accompanied by affidavits, received this morning, contains some additional gold news, which is of the most cheering character:

MADOC, July 22.
Since I wrote you last the following affidavits and certificates, in the memorandum, have been placed in my possession to forward for publication.

I am glad to have an opportunity to give the public, through your paper, facts with reference to this mineral region. Mr. Wyckoff has informed me that he is very busily employed, and that he is fully satisfied by the tests made that this will be an immensely rich territory in gold and silver.

The Borland & Wilcox mine is situated west of the Eldorado mine some fifteen or twenty rods, and about sixty rods from the Richardson mine. Moore's mine is south of a few rods from the Borland & Wilcox—all on the Moore farm, and on the ridge southwest of the Richardson.

The Guntus mine, that the memorandum refers to, is situated on the east side of lot 17 in the 6th concession, a few rods from the Buck Lake mine, located on the Hazard lot, and distant from Richardson's not less than half a mile.

This last gives strong grounds to expect that gold and silver in the quartz are not confined to the locality of Richardson's and Moore's farms, but are disseminated throughout this whole back country.

Yours truly,
A. F. Wood,
Reeve of Madoc.

GREENPONT, July 10, 1867.
B. LOMBARD, Esq.: Sir—A fine assay of your silver sulphate ore (near the Richardson mine, Canada West) gives 1,000 grains of gold, and 2½ would be at the rate of $12.50 per ton, and 2½ grains of silver to the ton, which would be at the rate of $200.00 per ton, or $20.00 per ton of 2,000 lbs.

Yours respectfully,
(Signed) WYCKOFF & Co.
I hereby certify that the silver sulphate ore within mentioned was taken by me from the

Moore mine, on the north-east quarter of lot 17 in the 6th concession of Madoc, and handed to Messrs. Wyckoff & Co. at New York, that I was personally present and saw the same assayed by them.
(Signed) BEN. LOMBARD.
Madoc, 18th July, 1867.

This is to certify that I have this day assayed 100 lbs. of four pounds of ore from Madoc, belonging to Mr. Wilcox, and found it to contain:
Gold 1 grain. Value per ton..... 10
Silver 7 grains. Value per ton..... 10

Total..... $20
(Signed) G. D. WYCKOFF, Assayer.
Madoc, July 20th, 1867.

Sworn to before me at Madoc this 20th day of July, 1867. (Signed) A. F. WOOD, J. P.

This is to certify that the 4 lbs. of quartz assayed by Geo. D. Wyckoff, July 20th, was taken by me from the mine known as the Borland & Wilcox mine, situated on the Moore farm, about 60 rods from the Richardson mine, and that the said quartz was taken from a lead 4½ feet wide and 9 feet from the surface, and that there is ten tons of the same quality at the mouth of the mine. (Signed) SAM. WILCOX.
Sworn to before me at Madoc this 20th day of July, 1867. (Signed) A. F. WOOD, J. P.

Men received from Mr. Wyckoff for reference to assay of quartz taken from the Guntus mine, situated on lot 17, 6th con. Madoc:
Assayed 35 lbs rock—
Yield of gold per ton..... $25.40
Yield of silver per ton..... 3.00

Fenian Movements.

A correspondent of the Hamilton Times gives an account of the Fenian meeting held at Buffalo on Saturday last, to endeavor to obtain the release of the Fenians in foreign countries. The speakers were perfectly wild and gave expression to a tirade of abuse of everything British. A long rigmorale of resolutions was adopted, calling on the American Government to demand the immediate release of all American citizens confined in foreign prisons. The last resolve was, "that the citizens of Buffalo call upon the representative of Erie County to particularly take this in hand, and present it, in all its phases of enormity, in all its real hideousness, to the authorities in Washington, and tell them we say those things should not be—that they shall not be."

The correspondent says:—"Gen. Spear and Senator Morrison visited Niagara and Suspension Bridge, Canada, and took plans of both places."

The Kingston Whig of Tuesday says:—"Ominous hints issue from the headquarters of the Roberts' Fenians, of a movement in some direction ere long. An important communication is said to have been received from President Roberts, and as General Spear is now at Buffalo, within striking distance of the Dominion, and as there are a goodly number of uniforms, breech leaders, rifles, swords, &c., at the headquarters, the indications point to our Northern neighbor as the objective point—so we learn from our New York contemporaries. Apropos of the same, we hear that the Fenian civic and military Portland organization met on business of importance on Thursday."

The Elections.

For the Daily Intelligencer.
NORTH HASTINGS, July 23.

How is it that Mr. T. C. Wallbridge is telling one class of the electors that he is in favour of Union and the present Government, and another that he will oppose it? Will he come out with an address and tell us fair and square what he does intend to do, so that reports may not be the only ground on which we have to go? It may be that Mr. T. C. thinks that the name of Wallbridge is sufficient—perhaps it is—but not to elect him. We would like to know what has been the case of the zeal that was known to us two ago for a railroad, when a charter "must" and should be had, and so soon as "trained nine days should not elapse before" "half-dozen capitalists would be found to "build it." Has the zeal—like a dream—vanished before the "light of other days" that followed, in which the grand discovery of conspiracy and fraud of the "promoters" was made? And is this the reason why that the "saw" T. C. W. is telling the electors of this Riding, in a quiet way, that only for him the people would have been taxed for building the road, and that it is only by keeping him in that we may hope to ward off the consequences of an attempt to get a grant of public lands for the "aforesaid" road. "He told me," says one, that he "is in favor of temperance." "Doubtful," says another, "for he told me that he would oppose a prohibitory liquor law." "I will give the present Government a fair support," is said by one elector as told to him. "I will support no government in which the Hon. Alex. Campbell is a member," is told to another. How are we to arrive at the result? How are we to make up our minds as to what he does intend to do? Perhaps he will favor us with an address in the usual way, and perhaps it would be as well to remind him that we want the following subjects particularly dwelt on—Union—Confederation—The present Government—Railway from Marquette to Belleville—Interest in how about gold in Madoc, and the discoveries at the Red Hematite mine last fall, &c., &c., with no reservations that "is not to be judged by what he says, for only another step and he will ask us not to judge him by what he does. Yours &c., AN ELECTOR.

WALLBRIDGE MEETING AT STIRLING.

(From a Correspondent.)
STIRLING, July 23rd, 1867.

A meeting of the electors of this village, at which a few farmers were present, was held in Chard's Hall, last evening. It had been called by Mr. Wallbridge, and between fifty and sixty persons were present. No chairman was appointed, and Mr. Wallbridge commenced addressing the meeting at about eight o'clock and continued until eleven. He commenced by reading portions of the Union Act, and giving his peculiar interpretation to several clauses, stating that he "wanted no new nationality," objected to Local Parliament, as did "the most eminent men" he had rubbed against. Geo. Brown had gone into the coalition wrongly, because that coalition ignored the Liberal party of Lower Canada, and the Globe was now raising a howl, and a cry. He said he would support the Ministry with the exception of the Hon. Alex. Campbell, whom he accused of a variety of things, such as appointing his brother to an office, making sundry other appointments without consulting him, and that he was deprived of his seat, "a nice little thing," which he "ought to have had for his friends," that he had "taken good care" to "dispose of a good part of the public property, but what had been done with the money he did not know." He boasted of having voted against the Confederation scheme, and did not believe that Rep. by Pop. had been obtained, but that "pay by Pop. was the effect of the change. He then declared that he did not vote for the cause, protecting the rights of Protestants in Lower Canada, and Catholics in Upper Canada—Lower Canada was opposed to Western extension, and read a paragraph from a French paper, to the no small amusement of his hearers, who did not understand it, but which, however, was just about as intelligible as most of his speech, if such I may call it, which was made in English. Next we had the railway question, the old explanations were explained, but as intelligible as the relevant as the old ones. He boasted of being more largely interested in mineral lands than any man in the County, that he owned 5,000 acres of land, and that his "Red Hematite" did not build a road we should never have one. This boast was repeated half a dozen times, until people began to think that the whole northern part of the County belonged to "Mr. Fanning" and "Mr. and my Brother" were the Simon pures, and they were the only great and wealthy people in the County, and at last declared that the present scheme was "Taxation" or "Taxation," that if they voted for him they voted no taxation, and if they voted for those who sustained Mr. Flint, in connection with the Railway Bill, voted for taxation, and that if they would take $1,500,000 to build the road, and that if we were taxed for it, the farm that pays $40 taxes would have to pay $340 a year. Then followed the old story of Mr. McMillan's letters, the story of the bill in committee, the injury that would have followed had it become law, and lastly, that the Bill now stands in the way of a road being built. The politicians, however, he complained of was in not abiding by the choice of the Convention. Mr. Diamond, however, cleverly turned the tables upon the Dr. by asking him if Mr. Brown had been the choice of the Convention would he have supported him, whereupon the Dr. replied, "certainly not." The great absence of all mention of political issues was the noticeable feature in the Doctor's speech. The Convention squabble was the all-absorbing theme.

Then followed Dr. Holden, whose remarks were listened to with great attention. After going over the Convention squabble, in which he said he had taken no part, he proceeded to announce his policy, and, if elected, he intended carrying it out. You, he said, Mr. Elliott, will be as much as he is, and he intended carrying it out. He then declared that he intended, if elected, to support the present Government of Canada. You should have seen his few supporters here—not a corporal's guard, by any means—strongly in coming and look at each other as if their Convention had had, somehow or other, been manipulated by Sir John A. Macdonald. Dr. Hope looked dazed, but kept his seat, and the world moved on. He fairly outbid Mr. Brown in support of the Government, the new Dominion, &c., the Murray Canal would also receive the Doctor's best attention, and he concluded his remarks by thanking the meeting for their great patience.

Mr. Diamond followed. Having taken off his mittens at the Belleville meeting, he vows he will not put them on again till the Convention Doctors in West Hastings are politically exterminated. He justified his course in the present contest, and did not consider himself bound by the action of the Convention at the meeting at hearing the Dr. declared that he intended, if elected, to support the present Government of Canada. He fairly outbid Mr. Brown in support of the Government, the new Dominion, &c., the Murray Canal would also receive the Doctor's best attention, and he concluded his remarks by thanking the meeting for their great patience.

Mr. Diamond followed. Having taken off his mittens at the Belleville meeting, he vows he will not put them on again till the Convention Doctors in West Hastings are politically exterminated. He justified his course in the present contest, and did not consider himself bound by the action of the Convention at the meeting at hearing the Dr. declared that he intended, if elected, to support the present Government of Canada. You should have seen his few supporters here—not a corporal's guard, by any means—strongly in coming and look at each other as if their Convention had had, somehow or other, been manipulated by Sir John A. Macdonald. Dr. Hope looked dazed, but kept his seat, and the world moved on. He fairly outbid Mr. Brown in support of the Government, the new Dominion, &c., the Murray Canal would also receive the Doctor's best attention, and he concluded his remarks by thanking the meeting for their great patience.

question, over advocated municipal taxation to build the road. In answer to the challenge to show that in any one instance he had uttered a word or given a vote not in the interest of his County, he said, "I have voted for the County having voted to give the wealthy city of Toronto $18,000 to aid in building it, while this County received but $600, and charged the City with inconsistency in advocating immigration here, and in the House of Assembly declaring that old countrymen did not make good pioneers in this country. This Mr. Wallbridge positively denied, declaring that he had never said the words upon which Mr. B. produced the Globe containing the report of the debate in the House of Assembly. Mr. Wallbridge made the declaration, thus showing the recklessness of the man in denying what he knew to be true, hoping that no evidence could be produced to controvert his declarations. Mr. B. also deprecated the course pursued by Mr. W. in asserting that "plenty of any man. It was a question which should not be the subject of the ankers and jibes of those who had respect for religion. At 12 o'clock Mr. B. resumed his seat amid the applause of the audience.

Mr. Wallbridge then rose, to "sift," as he said, "the chaff from the wheat," but the audience were not in the humor to listen further, and after a little sparring between Messrs. B. and W., the meeting broke up about 1 o'clock. This meeting shows the necessity of having some one present when Mr. Wallbridge addresses a meeting, in order to controvert his wild and untrue statements. His case is becoming desperate, and requires falsehood and misrepresentation to carry it. He does not hesitate to use both. North is his character safe from the vilest aspersions, when no one is present to watch him, and thus put a bridge upon his tongue.

Meeting at Trenton.

For the Daily Intelligencer.

On the 18th inst., Dr. Holden held a meeting of the electors in the Town Hall, Trenton. A large number of the electors honored the Doctor with their presence, and everything went off harmoniously.

Mr. Cummings, although a supporter of Mr. Brown, was called to the chair, and Mr. Young, Editor of the Courier, appointed Secretary.

On the platform were Dr. Hope and Thos. Holden, also James Brown, the people's candidate, and Mr. Diamond, all of Belleville.

It was proposed by Mr. Murphy, of Trenton, that the candidates be first heard and the speakers in the interest of each candidate be heard alternately.

This was at once agreed to, and all things being ready, Dr. Holden stepped forward and asked that Dr. Hope be requested to speak first.

The great manipulator of Conventions then stepped to the front. His first effort was to convince the Trenton delegates who attended his Convention at Belleville that they had nothing to complain of in the rejection of Mr. Austin, that the Belleville delegates had not played false with them. Be this as it may, certain it is that Mr. Austin and Dr. Day in their remarks did not agree with him. The learned Doctor then took off his mittens and proceeded to dissect Mr. Diamond, accusing him of misrepresentation, political infidelity and being a bull. The politicians, however, he complained of was in not abiding by the choice of the Convention. Mr. Diamond, however, cleverly turned the tables upon the Dr. by asking him if Mr. Brown had been the choice of the Convention would he have supported him, whereupon the Dr. replied, "certainly not." The great absence of all mention of political issues was the noticeable feature in the Doctor's speech. The Convention squabble was the all-absorbing theme.

Then followed Dr. Holden, whose remarks were listened to with great attention. After going over the Convention squabble, in which he said he had taken no part, he proceeded to announce his policy, and, if elected, he intended carrying it out. You, he said, Mr. Elliott, will be as much as he is, and he intended carrying it out. He then declared that he intended, if elected, to support the present Government of Canada. You should have seen his few supporters here—not a corporal's guard, by any means—strongly in coming and look at each other as if their Convention had had, somehow or other, been manipulated by Sir John A. Macdonald. Dr. Hope looked dazed, but kept his seat, and the world moved on. He fairly outbid Mr. Brown in support of the Government, the new Dominion, &c., the Murray Canal would also receive the Doctor's best attention, and he concluded his remarks by thanking the meeting for their great patience.

and to the Reform party alone was due the present state of things. He then gave it as his opinion that the Murray Canal question belonged to the House of Commons, and not to the House of Commons, an opinion, however, not considered quite correct, as the Canal, if constructed will be as much a commercial as a commercial, and consequently for the general good.

Mr. Ketchum Graham, a candidate for the Local Legislature, then took the stand and explained his position, also his connection with the Hopedale Convention. He is a fluent speaker, a supporter of the present Government, taking the same grounds as Mr. Brown and Dr. Holden in that respect, and after making a favorable impression he retired.

Then came Mr. Austin. He was glad to see the Belleville gentlemen at Trenton, as he did not often see them here except about election times.

Then followed Dr. Day, who pitched into the Belleville gentlemen, much to the astonishment of Dr. Hope, who thought his Secretary rather refractory.

Then came Mr. Murphy, whose remarks were well received. He wished to clear up a matter that there appeared to be some misunderstanding about. He certainly understood Dr. Holden to say that he supported the present Government, but Mr. Diamond had not drawn the same conclusion from his remarks. Mr. Murphy, turning around, addressed himself to the Dr., and said he would now ask the Doctor to set him right if he misunderstood him.—Am I to understand, that you intend to support the present Government until they introduce measures distasteful to you, when you shall feel at liberty to oppose them?

The Dr. rose from his seat and said: "Certainly, Mr. Murphy, that is what I said and what I intend doing."

Mr. Murphy then said he was very much astonished when the Doctor first said it, but there was no longer any doubt as to the Doctor's course upon that point, and said that it demonstrated to him that it was now reduced to a mere matter of personal choice, as both candidates avowed support to the Government.

Mr. Gordon was called, but did not come forward. The chair was then vacated, a vote of thanks given to the Chairman, and the meeting broke up.

Grand Mammoth Show!

David Guerin, Proprietor; Geo. W. DeHaven, Manager; J. H. Oliver, Treasurer; Oliver Bell, Equine Director; H. F. Nichols, Master of Circle; C. McManis, General Agent.

A GRAND FREE EXHIBITION.

THE FAIRY ASCENSIONIST.

Miss ANNIE WORLAND!

Before the opening of the doors of the Circus, Miss ANNIE will perform the difficult and perilous feat of walking from the ground to the top of the enormous pavilion on a SINGLE WIRE. This is one of the most difficult feats ever attempted by any person in the profession. This beautiful scene will be enlivened by music from Capt. J. O'Brien's Metropolitan Opera Band, composed of first-class Musicians, whom each is an A. No. 1 in his respective line.

A Grand and Attractive Combination of Merit, Novelty, Excellence, Amusement and Instruction: A stupendous congregation of the most entertaining and attractive features ever offered to the public, combining more to interest, amuse and gratify than any travelling exhibition in America. The public will remember that for the entire season, only a single admission fee is charged.

The Company has been selected with the most scrupulous care from the very elite of the Profession of Equestrianism and Gymnastics, and contains the names of the most exalted of the many claimants to a noble distinction.

Among the hosts of Artists connected with this Colossal Enterprise, the following names are prominent: Mr. J. RIVERS, the great Scenic Rider, Gymnast and Leaper, (late of Paris), is unequalled in his daring and astonishing leaps, and the general novelty of his performance.

Geo. W. DeHAVEN, the most thorough, practical, efficient and humane Horse-Tamer on the Continent. Mr. DeHaven will at each exhibition introduce his celebrated Trained and Trick Horse PILOT. Mr. DeHaven challenges the world to produce a better trained and Trick Horse than the one above named.

MADAME WORLAND, the daring and accomplished Equestrienne, in her superb and graceful Act, introducing her favorite steed, "Gipsy Queen."

Mr. WILLIAM DETTON, whose great Equestrian Feats on his Flying Bare-backed Steed, have gained for him the classic title of "Winged Mercury." As a Batton Leaper Mr. Detton has no equal, and in his Grand Leap for Life from the spring-board, defies competition.

Mr. OLIVER BELL, in his great speciality of throwing a Somersault through a Hoop, whose inner circumference is encircled with sharp pointed daggers. Mr. Bell's marvellous and intrepid feats beggar description.

THE MILSON BROTHERS, (the champion gymnasts), the most accomplished Acrobats and Athletes in the profession, will at each exhibition present a varied olio of Gymnastic, Acrobatic and muscular achievements. In their peculiar specialties the Milson Brothers acknowledge no equals, and their matchless performances are the most thrilling and exciting that can be witnessed in any exhibition.

MISS ANNIE WORLAND, the most accomplished and graceful artist in the profession, will introduce at each exhibition some of her principal acts of artistic gymnastics. In the most difficult Poses, Pirouettes, Leaping Banners, and other objects, she is equally equalled.

MR. P. H. SEAMON, our American Clown, Jester, and Comic Vocalist, whose grace, dash, and spirit have won for him the title of "The Spirit of the Ring." Mr. Seamon, for his originality, wit, and humor, has been termed the Burton of the Ring.

MR. HORACE F. NICHOLS, the very efficient, affable and courteous Master of the Circle, will lead his efforts towards perfecting and insuring the success of the entertainment.

MASTER HENRY, the Juvenile Prodigy, in his wonderful exploit of the Horizontal Bar.

LA FONTAINE BROTHERS, (Henry and Alfred) these wonderful Gymnasts and Acrobats have been engaged at an enormous salary for the present season, in order that the patrons of the Imperial Circus may have an opportunity of witnessing their agility and skill.

LA PETITE ANNIE, in her daring and difficult feat on the Grand Tightrope, or Single Wire.

MR. WM. DETTON AND WILLIE MILSON will appear in their wonderful Double Somersault Act, each turning twice in the air before alighting. In addition to the above, will be found the music of Messrs. Bart, Carpenter, Hendricks, Lorraine, and a host of others.

TWO EXHIBITIONS DAILY.

gerous of despotisms. But enough in a general way. Let us now turn to facts and figures.

In the first place, United Canada adheres to the present Executive head of the Tarant State, for the time being, because that head is looked up to with universal admiration throughout the Dominion. They are timid, and will not be shaken off. But this new Dominion has now one Parliament, elected every five years, and constantly subject to the popular voice. Secondly, the Act of Confederation sets forth that all "bills for appropriating any part of the public revenue, or for imposing any tax or import, shall originate in the Canadian House of Commons." Thirdly, Lieut. Governors are to be appointed for each of the Provinces, and the salaries of such Lieut. Governors are to be named "by the Governor General in Council"—i.e., by consent of the Canadian Privy Council—for a term of five years, and the salaries of such Lieut. Governors "shall be fixed by the Parliament of Canada." Thus, with all the political powers of a State, and holding fast only to the nominal head of the mother country, this Northern Dominion in America takes its place among the powers of the earth.

In material resources and enterprise it is far ahead of the "Thirteen Colonies" when severed from the parent stem. The latter had not a railway or canal in the entire North American existence; while our New Dominion can boast of the longest railway in the world; and, in all, of nearly twenty-five hundred miles in working order, (with more rapidly progressing,) costing, combined more than $138,000,000; of a first-class ocean steamship company as well as a greater inland tonnage, than any nation in the world, excepting only the United States, and ranking already the fourth maritime power on the face of the earth. When to these facts are also added the numerous canals, and improved navigable rivers to be found within their Dominions, may not the Canadians feel justly proud of their star in the world?

In fact, if the people of this rising nation to the north of us, but rightly comprehend their position, and but appreciate the power and prestige that the wise laws and safe forms of government will insure to them in time—if they but wisely, calmly, and temperately administer their affairs—they may safely look forward to annexation in another direction from that now popularly spoken of; and to the time when they may, extended and strengthened, greatly influence, if not actually control, the destinies of this progressive, and now rapidly developing continent.—N. Y. Advertiser.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY, JULY 25.

Mr. Wallbridge's Tactics.

Judging from the report of the Stirling meeting, and what we have heard of Mr. T. C. Wallbridge's movements since the election canvass commenced, he must present a sorry picture to the enlightened electors of North Hastings. He pitches into the Globe and George Brown, and would make you believe that he has been an anti-Brownite ever since he entered public life. He says he will support the Government, but unfortunately Hon. Alex. Campbell is the Jonah in the Cabinet, and he will labor might and main to throw him overboard. He gets off some very vague and uncertain ideas about Confederation, and becomes perfectly bewildered in attempting to define his views upon public matters. But it is when he touches upon the lost Railway—the point which affects him most tenderly—that he becomes perfectly wild. He sneers and scoffs at professors of religion, abuses in the most shameful manner such men as W. W. Dean, Hon. B. Flint, and A. F. Wood, and pronounces the certificate of Thomas Holden, respecting a memorable interview well known to our readers, false. He does not attempt to enter upon any defence of his conduct in burking Mr. Flint's Bill, unless we admit his senseless cry of "taxation" is a defence. But when he prates about taxation, he knows he is uttering the veriest nonsense, and that neither Mr. Bowell nor Mr. Flint have advocated Municipal taxation to build the Road, but on the contrary have strenuously opposed it. But his course is so hopeless that he must of necessity resort to some desperate stratagem to bolster it up. If fair play won't help him, he must try other means, and he fancies that his old game of deception, and blackening other men's characters will aid him. He will find it won't answer, however, and that that sort of warfare will not clear his skirts of the serious charge which every commercial man, and every farmer in the country, brings against him—the charge of deliberately burking Mr. Flint's Railway Bill, by which the interests of every farmer and business man in North Hastings have suffered to a most grievous extent.

The Bail Rolls.

At the meeting at Trenton, an account of which was given in yesterday's paper, Dr. Holden was compelled to acknowledge himself a supporter of the present government. A correspondent informs us that in answer to a question asked him by D. R. Murphy, Esq., Dr. Holden replied substantially as follows:

"I intend to support the present government until they introduce measures distasteful to me, when I shall feel at liberty to oppose them, and I consider it would be factious to oppose them before their measures are submitted."

Dr. Holden knows that he would not have the ghost of a chance of being elected on the anti-union opposition ticket of the Globe, and he is obliged to avail himself of a Liberal on this point. How does Dr. Hope, the inveterate anti-unionist, like the position of his pet candidate, when before the canvass commenced he said that he would vote against Hon. Lewis Wallbridge if he announced himself in favor of the government? Dr. Hope will, however, eat the leak and say it is palatable.

Provincial Exhibition.

The Provincial Exhibition for 1867 will be held in Kingston commencing on the 23rd of September and lasting till the 27th. The prize list in the agricultural department exhibits no marked change from that of last year; but a prominent feature, though not a new one, adopted some two or three years ago, is that, which permits the competition of exhibitors from all parts of the world. The amount of money offered for prizes remains at about the same figure. Some unimportant alterations have been made in the details of a few minor classes of the agricultural productions; but the only one of any prominence is that regarding the Prince of Wales' prize of $50, which is this year given to the best pen of Cots-wold sheep, consisting of one ram and five ewes, not over two shears. A change in the rule regarding the shearing of sheep has also been adopted—the Committee of the Association appointed to revise the prize list having adopted a resolution requiring sheep on exhibition to be shorn on or after the 25th April, instead of the 1st, as previously. In the poultry classes some alterations from last year are observed—two or three classes having been dropped and others inserted.

The Fruit Grower's Association have offered some suggestions to the Board this year, which have been also embodied in the prize list. Competition can now receive one premium in each section, instead of in each variety of fruit-show, as formerly.

The entries will require to be made at the following times:

Horses, cattle, sheep, swine and poultry must be entered on or before Saturday, August 17th, five weeks preceding the show.

Grain, field roots and other farm products, agricultural implements, machinery and manufactures generally, must be entered previous to or on Saturday, August 31st, three weeks preceding the show.

Horticultural products, ladies' work, the fine arts, &c., may be entered up to Saturday, September 4th, one clear week preceding the show.

Cholera Prevented.

This great scourge has made its appearance on this Continent, and in some places it is raging with great virulence. The Cholera Congress which recently assembled in Germany, drafted nine capital recommendations, which may be briefly stated as follows:—First, the disease should be energetically fought with disinfectants; second, the necessity of compulsory disinfection under the direction of the sanitary authorities; third, the promptest disinfection of localities previously visited by the disease; fourth, thorough disinfection before cholera becomes epidemic; fifth, a combination of copperas and carbolic acid is the best disinfectant; sixth, the boiling in a solution of zinc vitriol of all infected clothing; seventh, the disinfection of sewers and drains by a combination of carbolic or coal-tar preparation; eighth, the instant vacation of any particularly infected house or spot; ninth, the boiling of drinking water and the careful exclusion of all cholera excremental matter from water in the neighborhood of dwellings. These rules, well taken, and honestly followed, will give as energetic and efficient battle to the scourge as we may hope to offer. They are worth preserving.

FROM MADOC.

MADOC, July 23, 1867.
Gold lands are going up. Dr. Otway has given his opinion of this country freely to every one who has asked it, and it being very favorable, has given the farmers an improved opinion of the value of their lands over what it was a short time since. Speculators are grumbling at Dr. Otway, they say such a course is only impeding the development of the country, &c. Now if any one has a right to be benefited by this gold speculation, it strikes me that the farmers have an equal claim, if not a superior one to the speculator who comes in merely to make a strike and then leave. However, there is some difference in the men who are speculating. Pierce, Parker, & Co., have opened an office for a length of time and will buy as well as sell. They intend to move their families here if prospects are promising. I dare say there are others like them, but the mass of the speculation who have fled their appearance, have no money and only expect to make anything by a system of "kiting," that is intended to deceive the parties of whom they buy as well as those to whom they sell.

Mr. Wyckoff has been assaying several lots of quartz rock from different places, with marked success. Moore Mine yields nearly 300 per ton of gold and silver—silver predominating. El Dorado Mine $124 per ton of gold and silver—gold predominating. Borland and Wilson mine in the neighborhood of $90 per ton—quartz taken ten feet from the surface. Mr. Wyckoff has stated that he has not yet assayed any quartz in which gold or silver, or gold and silver were not found in paying quantities. He is very busy. A piece of quartz three inches in diameter was exhibited here on Friday by a young man who is to work in the shaft on the Turnbull lot, that contained gold in it plain to be seen by the naked eye. Messrs. Franck and Gillespie visited the lot, 37 in 4th concession, on Saturday, and from the Guelmols mine, which a survey has shown to be on their lot; they took several shows from the sand in the crevices of the rock. They also brought down some of the sand from the shaft, which they had assayed by the Wyckoff process with the most satisfactory result. This vicinity is quite excited again, and this time I think with the best prospect that their expectations will be realized.

The Richardson mine has been visited to-day by a number of persons—residents and strangers. The most extraordinary stories are told with reference to the richness of the rock taken out. Whatever the difference in the stories are, they all agree in pronouncing the mine rich beyond their expectations. Mr. Hardin is very gentlemanly and considerate, and takes a good deal of trouble to gratify the very natural curiosity of the visitors. Any one going there now will require only a few minutes to be satisfied that it is not a "large swindle." Miners are radiant with the anticipated prospects.

VISIT TO MARMORA IRON ORE BEDS.

MARMORA, July 23, 1867.

Left Marmora Village on horseback and rode through a wild and desolate region for five miles before arriving at the iron mountain, which is in fact in the Township of Belmont and the County of Peterboro. There is not a farm or a clearing on the whole road until we arrive at Boyd's, a farm about four miles from Marmora village. Flat rock and limestone make the character of the scenery. The vegetation does not speak much in favor of the land, and fire has been at work over the whole region, leaving numerous lifeless and blackened stumps behind it, and an after growth of dwarfish stunted trees or bushes, dis-pleasing to the eye and unprofitable altogether. On arriving at Boyd's a change for the better becomes immediately evident, the land improves and the wilderness begins to smile. On arriving at the Ore Beds a new village comes into view. About 14 or 15 new frame buildings are in sight, comprising boarding houses, stores, blacksmith's shop, tavern, &c. A railroad also, with locomotives coughing and screaming, with loaded cars behind them and empty ones before them. Upwards of 100 men are at work, drilling and blasting, breaking the ore with sledges, and wheeling it in barrows on to the cars, for transportation to Cobourg, and thence to Pennsylvania. The quality of the ore varies from 40 per cent up to 90 per cent iron, but the farther and the deeper the miners go the better the quality. The men have taken out the whole side of the hill, leaving the mass of it for future operations, or for the labor of years to come.

Next morning went down to the railroad and took a view of the engine "Crinkum Crankum," constructed by Messrs. Hinckley and Davy, of Boston, in the year 1832, and one of the oldest locomotives on this continent. After waiting some time, and witnessing a series of preliminary performances, in the way of running and backing, shunting, whistling, coughing and screaming, for an hour or two, we made a start, with about 10 trucks, each containing about 5 tons, and soon arrived at the Narrows, about 9 miles from the Ore beds. The trucks (which here are dignified with the name of "cars") run over the Trent river and discharge their contents into scows, which are towed by steamboats to the railway junction at Rice Lake.

Returning from the Narrows, the "Crinkum Crankum" coughed herself so hoarse that she could cough no longer. The "jigman," or connecting rod, broke, the cylinder "busted," and the passengers were informed that they would have to walk (about 3 miles) to the Ore beds. In the immediate aftermath came a heavy thunderstorm, so that our retreat was made under considerable difficulties altogether. The celebrated old engine, the "Crinkum Crankum," was towed away from the scene of action, like one of Nelson's ships after the battle of Trafalgar, by another engine of more modern appearance, called the "Pioneer"—a more trustworthy and appropriate name, certainly.

The railroad was in a wonderful state of good order and completeness, considering that the track was a tangled wilderness of swamp and brushwood up to the close of last winter. However, there was more shaking, rolling and jolting than is usually felt. Several traveling men were also somewhat dangerous to travel without holding on to something or other.

The ore bed villages are called "Blairtown." Money is being made and circulated there, and there is quite an air of business activity about the place. Many large and flourishing cities had no better beginning. Railroads impart a wonderful activity to everything else, so that we may hope for a career of improvement or of progression for the future.

SKILLFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.—On Tuesday last, the 23rd inst., Dr. Potts performed one of those delicate surgical operations which, in comparison to any other operation apart from the eye, requires greater delicacy of touch, a clear head, and a thorough knowledge of anatomy. The patient, Llewellyn Jones, a youth 16 years of age, living at the Hon. Billa Flint's, had Pterygia—a morbid growth on both eyes—which had been growing for several years, and had a tendency to become double. Dr. Potts was consulted, and after a careful examination advised the removal of the morbid growth by surgical operation. Jones consented, and on Tuesday evening at 4 o'clock, assisted by Dr. Dorland, the operation was successfully performed to the satisfaction of Dr. Jones and his friends, who are astonished at the result.—Com.

POLICE COURT.

TRESPASS.

Two young lads named Shultz, having formed an idea that the fruits and flowers of Mr. Woods' garden, on the Kingston Road, were like "the daughters of the children of men—tempting to look upon," entered the enclosed premises and feasted right merrily. Some of the apples, however, were rendered bitter to the taste by the unlooked for presence of the inebriated guardian of the Hesperidian fruit, who summarily ejected the boys from their terrestrial paradise, and compelled their attendance before the Rhadamantus of Belleville. The matter was, however, "settled" between the Teutonic father and the Saxon Cerberus.

DISORDERLY.

A son of the "Rhine land," named Wriggle, heard one of his "littile piggies" indulging in an extra ecum, and supposing that a lady lodger had unmercifully provoked him, he made use of the most unparliamentary language towards her that, however, it might have been received in "the plains," was not fitted for the polished circles of Front Street. He was fined $1 and costs; but his counsel, appealed to the Quarter Sessions, where it will meet the fate of all other appeals from the Police Court, namely, "judgment confirmed."

WAGES.

Chisholm & Smith, for breach of contract as a servant, and Vermilyea & Anderson, for the same, came up for hearing. In the first case order for discharge was made, the second case was adjourned, and a third case of Mulholland & Norman, was dismissed.

Grand Mammoth Show!

David Guerlain, Proprietor: Geo. W. DeHaven, Manager; J. B. Oliver, Treasurer; Oliver Bell, Equestrian Director; H. F. Nichols, Master of Circle; C. McChamber.

A GRAND FREE EXHIBITION.

THE FAIRY ACROBATICIST. MISS ANNIE WORLAND!

Before the opening of the doors of the Circus, Miss ANNIE will perform the most beautiful and perilous feat of walking from the ground to the top of the enormous pavilion on a SINGLE WIRE. This is one of the most difficult feats ever attempted by any person in the profession. This beautiful scene will be witnessed by music from Capt. J. Gillespie's Metropolitan Opera Band, composed of first-class Musicians, of whom each is an A No. 1 in his respective line.

A Grand and Attractive Combination of Merit, Novelty, Excellence, Amusement and Instruction, & a stupendous congregation of the most entertaining and attractive features ever offered to the public, combined, assure and gratify that any traveling Exhibition in America. The public will remember that for the entire season, only a single admission is charged.

The Company has been selected with the most scrupulous care from the very elite of the Profession of Equestrians and Gymnasts, and contains the names of the most exalted of the many champions to athletic distinction.

Among the hosts of Artists connected with this Colossal Enterprise, the following names are prominent: Mr. L. H. IVERS, the great Scotch Rider, gymnast and Leaper, late of Paris, is unequalled in his daring and astonishing leaps, and the general novelty of his performance.

MR. W. DEHAVEN, the most thorough, practical, efficient and humane Horse-Tamer on the Continent. Mr. DeHaven will at each exhibition introduce his celebrated Trained and Trick Horse PILOT. Mr. DeHaven challenges the world to produce a better trained and Trick Horse than the one above named.

MADAME WORLAND, the daring and accomplished Equestrienne, in her superb and graceful Act, introducing her favorite steed, "Gipsy Queen."

MR. WILLIAM DUTTON, whose Great Equestrian Feats on his Flying Bare-backed Stead, have gained for him the classic title of "Winged Mercury." As a Battou Leaper Mr. Dutton has no equal, and in his Grand Leap for Life from the spring-board, defies competition.

MR. OLIVER BELL, in his great specialty of throwing a Souverain through a hoop, whose linear circumference is encircled with sharp pointed daggers. Mr. Bell's marvellous and inflexible feats beggar description.

THE MILSON BROTHERS, the champion gymnasts, the most accomplished Acrobats and Athletes in the profession, will at each exhibition present a varied olio of gymnastic, Acrobatic and muscular achievements. In their regular specialties the Milson Brothers acknowledge no equals, and their matchless performances are the most thrilling and exciting that can be witnessed in any exhibition.

MISS ANNIE WORLAND, the most accomplished and graceful artist in the profession, will introduce at each exhibition some of her principal acts of artistic equestrianism. In the most difficult Pas, Poses, Pirouettes, Leaping, Banners, and other objects, she is equally proficient.

MR. P. H. SEAMON, our American Clown, Jester, and Comic Vocalist, whose grace, dash, and spirit have won for him the title of the "Spirit of the Ring." Mr. Seamon, for his originality, wit, and humor, has been termed the Baron of the Ring.

MR. HORACE E. NICHOLS, the very efficient, agile and courteous Master of the Circle, will lend his efforts towards perfecting and inspiring the success of the entertainment.

MASTER HENRY, the Juvenile Prodigy, in his wonderful exploit on the Horizontal Bar.

LA FONTAINE BROTHERS, (Henry and Alfred) these wonderful Gymnasts and Acrobats have been engaged at an enormous salary for the present season, in order that the patrons of the Imperial Circus may have an opportunity of witnessing their ability and skill.

LA PETITE ANNIE, in her daring and difficult feat on the Orde Perdue, or Black Wire.

MR. WM. DUTTON and WILLIE MILSON will appear in their wonderful Double Souverain Act, each turning twice in the air before alighting. In addition to the above, will be found the names of Messrs. Barr, Carpenter, Hendricks, Lorraine, and a host of others.

REPLY.

GENTLEMEN: The very respectable Requisition which you have presented me with, I have much pleasure in accepting, and would state that if I am returned as your representative, I shall do my utmost to promote the welfare, not only of your Riding, but of the Province of Ontario generally.

My residence among you for over 35 years, and my experience in public life, enables me to state that I believe I know the wants of the constituency.

My interests being closely identified with agriculture, manufactures and commerce, it shall ever be my pleasure and duty to aid in the development of these interests within the County of Hastings.

The present Coalition Government having laid the foundation of our new Dominion, is entitled to every support in its efforts to raise the superstructure, and demands from every true friend of his country a fair and impartial trial.

Due economy must be observed, and I shall carefully watch that the public monies are expended with every care commensurate with the actual requirements of the Province.

The civil and religious rights of all classes of the community, which have already been secured to the people of Canada, it shall be my aim to guard and preserve.

My sentiments of loyalty and attachment to the mother country are well known, and I shall ever feel it to be my duty to sustain British connection.

Yours respectfully,

HENRY CORBY.

To the Electors of the Eastern Division of the County of Hastings.

GENTLEMEN—Having been repeatedly requested by a large number of the electors in your Division to allow myself to become a candidate for the Commons of Canada at the ensuing election, I have consented to comply with their wishes.

To most of you I am personally known, but will take the first opportunity of seeing as many of the electors as my time will permit.

My acts during the time I have been in Parliament are before you, and from them you will be enabled to judge of the future.

In the formation of the Union of the Provinces, I believed that it would have been more in accordance with the principles of our Government to have first submitted the proposition to the people for their approval, and so voted, but the motion for such reference having been defeated, I voted for the union act, and shall steadily use my exertions to carry it into effect, in order that my great Dominion may take that position in the world to which its extent and population entitle it.

Under the new order of things about to be established, new responsibilities will arise which I shall endeavor to discharge with the least expenditure consistent with efficiency, keeping steadily in view the great future before us, and shall only rest satisfied when the Dominion of Canada extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

In the adjustment of the tariff I shall endeavor to remove the burthen as far as possible from the producer, especially the Agricultural portion, flatter myself that my long business intercourse with them will enable me to arrive at such a conclusion as will be conducive to their interests.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

ROBERT READ.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE WEST RIDING OF THE COUNTY OF HASTINGS.

GENTLEMEN: When a Candidate seeks Parliamentary honors at the hands of his constituents, it is due to them, and customary, that he should state his political views. At the present crisis of our political history, when, as it were, we are entering upon a new and untried national state of existence, this duty becomes imperative.

As most of you are aware, I have always been on the Liberal side of politics, urging reform where reform was a certainty, and to be necessary, and conserving that which experience had proved to be wise and beneficial. Believing that the truth generally lies between extremes, I have taken for my guidance the maxima and doctrines of those politicians and statesmen who were governed by broad and enlightened views of their country's interests, and who equally avoided revolutionary doctrines on the one side and reactionary tendencies on the other.

With those principles for my guidance, I have no hesitation in stating that the present Government, charged with the consummation of the great scheme of Confederation, should receive a fair trial and generous treatment from the hands of all liberal-minded and right-thinking individuals. To condemn them without giving them time and opportunity to initiate and develop a policy would be factious and unstatesmanlike, would throw the country into turmoil and confusion without an adequate object or reasonable motive, and endanger the stability of the young Dominion, whose youthful career will be watched with anxious solicitude by all those who are inspired by patriotic feelings.

If the Coalition of 1864 was justifiable to design the scheme of Confederation, that of 1867 is not less so, as none should be so well qualified to put the machine in good working order as those by whose genius it was contrived and through whose energies it was successfully completed.

While saying this, however, I do not wish it to be understood, if I have the honor of being elected, that I will give to the Government a blind support—a position into which many are driven by the extreme discipline of party Government. I shall hold myself equally free to oppose them, should their policy and administration, in my judgment, not be in accordance with the true interests and prosperity of Canada.

As no human contrivance has been devised, the working of the Imperial statute legalizing the Union of the Provinces may disclose certain defects, which it will be the duty of your representatives to correct. These shall receive my earnest consideration.

As the expenses of the Government will necessarily be increased under the new system, it will require the most rigid economy consistent with the public interests at stake, to keep the expenditure within the proper limits.

The construction of a canal connecting the waters of Lake Ontario with the head waters of the Bay of Quinte would, in my opinion, not only be of vast local benefit commercially, but in a military point of view it would be of the greatest consequence; and as public lands were granted by Government many years ago for the completion of that important enterprise, I shall deem it my duty to see that the monies arising from the sale thereof be properly applied.

The Agricultural and manufacturing interests, which lie at the base of every country's greatness and prosperity, shall receive at my hands the most careful consideration which their importance demands.

I am, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

JAMES BROWN.

David Guardian, Proprietor, Geo. W. DeHaven, Manager; J. B. Oliver, Treasurer, Oliver Bell, Equestrian Director; H. F. Nichols, Master of Ceremonies; C. McComber, General Agent.

A GRAND FREE EXHIBITION. THE FAIRY ASCENSIONIST, Miss ANNIE WORLAND!

Before the opening of the doors of the Circus, Miss ANNIE will perform the difficult and perilous feat of walking from the ground to the top of the enormous pavilion on a SINGLE WIRE. This is one of the most difficult feats ever attempted by any person in the profession. This beautiful scene will be enlivened by music from Capt. J. Ollerenshaw's Metropolitan Opera Band, composed of first-class Musicians, of whom each is an A. No. 1 in his respective line.

A Grand and Attractive Combination of Merit, Novelty, Excellence, Amusement and Instruction. A stupendous congregation of the most entertaining and attractive features ever offered to the public, combining most interesting, amusing and gratifying, any travelling exhibition in America. The public will remember that for the entire season, only a single admission is charged.

The Company has been selected with the most scrupulous care from the very elite of the Profession of Equestrians and Gymnasts, and contains the names of the most exalted of the many claimants to athletic distinction.

Among the hosts of Artists connected with this Colossal Enterprise, the following names are prominent: Mr. L. RIVERS, the great Sicilian Rider, Gymnast and Leaper; (late of Paris), is unequalled in his daring and astounding leaps, and the general novelty of his performance.

Geo. W. DeHaven, the most thorough, practical, efficient and humane Horse-Tamer on the Continent. Mr. DeHaven will at each exhibition introduce his celebrated Trained and Trick Horse PILOT. Mr. DeHaven challenges the world to produce a better trained and Trick Horse than the one above named.

MADAME WORLAND, the daring and accomplished Equestrienne, in her superb and graceful Acts, introducing her favorite, "Happy Queen."

Mr. WILLIAM DUTTON, whose Great Equestrian Feats on his Flying Bare-backed Steed, have gained for him the classic title of "Winged Man." A former Leaper Mr. Dutton has no equal, and in his Grand Leap for life from the spring-board, defies competition.

Mr. OLIVER BELL, in his great specialty of throwing a Somersault through a hoop, whose inner circumference is encircled with sharp pointed daggers. Mr. Bell's unerring and untripped hand boggles description.

THE SAILSON BROTHERS, the champion gymnasts, the most accomplished Acrobats and Athletes in the profession, will at each exhibition present a varied olio of Gymnastic, Acrobatic and muscular achievements. In their peculiar specialties the SAILSON Brothers acknowledge no equals, and their matchless performances are the most thrilling and exciting that can be witnessed in any exhibition.

MISS ANNIE WORLAND, the most accomplished and graceful artist in the profession, will introduce at each exhibition some of her principal acts of artistic equestrianism. In the most difficult Pauses, Equestrian, Leaping Banners, and other objects, she is equally collected.

MR. P. H. SEAMON, our American Clown, Jester, and Comic Vocalist, whose grace, dash, and spirit have won for him the title of the "King of the Ring." Mr. Seamon, for his originality, wit, and humor, has been termed the "Bartley of the Ring." Mr. Seamon, for his originality, wit, and humor, has been termed the "Bartley of the Ring." Mr. Seamon, for his originality, wit, and humor, has been termed the "Bartley of the Ring."

MR. HORACE F. NICHOLS, the very witty, affable and courteous Master of the Circus, will lead his efforts towards perfecting and insuring the success of an entertainment.

MASTER HENRY, the Juvenile Prodigy, in his wonderful exploit on the Horizontal Bar.

LA FONTAINE BROTHERS, (the SAILSONS), these wonderful Gymnasts and Acrobats have been engaged at an enormous salary for the present season, in order that the patrons of the Imperial Circus may have an opportunity of witnessing their agility and skill.

LADY WHITE ANNE, in her daring and difficult feats on the Circle Perforated, or Back Wire.

MR. WM. DUTTON and WILLIE WILSON will appear in their wonderful Double Somersault Act, each turning twice in the air before alighting. In addition to the above, will be found the names of Messrs. Bart, Carpenter, Hendricks, Lorraine, and a host of others.

TWO EXHIBITIONS DAILY,
AFTERNOON AND EVENING.

Good seats for the accommodation of all.
Doors open at one and seven o'clock. Performance to commence half an hour later.

ADMISSION:

American Invoices—Discounts.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT, CUSTOMS,
QUEBEC, 6th March, 1893.

IT is directed by the Hon. The Finance Minister, that hereafter Weekly Notices be published and furnished to Collectors of Customs, as to the rate of discount to be allowed on American Invoices, which is to be in accordance with the price of gold as represented by Exchange at a rate equal thereto. Such notices to appear every Saturday in the Canada Gazette.

R. S. M. BOUTCHETTE,
FINANCE DEPARTMENT, CUSTOMS,
OTTAWA, June 8, 1897.

IN accordance with the above Order, Notice is hereby given that the authorized discount is declared to be this day 25 per cent, which percentage of deduction is to be continued until next Weekly Notice, and to apply to all purchases made in the United States during that week.

THOMAS WORTHINGTON,
3D11-1f Assistant Commissioner of Customs.

QUEBEC INSURANCE COMPANY

CAPITAL, $10,000,000.
FIRE AND LIFE.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE principles on which this Company is founded contain all the elements required to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and afford every facility to intending assurers.

One of the advantages secured by those who insure their lives with this Company is that the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement to Ten per Cent of the Net Life Income. This most important restriction shows that the interests of participating policy holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion of premiums expended for Management

Must Largely Influence Profits and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1898, and all those who wish to participate in the profits should insure at once.

Dr. CANIFF, Medical Officer, 4D-6m.

A Summer Evening.

West at our cottage doorway,
Hushed and hilly and lowland,
Looking out over the woodland,
And up at the evening sky.

The air was rich with fragrance
From countless wild wood flowers,
And cooled by gentle dew drops,
That fell in airy showers.

I thought of the many creatures
In the forest all around—
Of the squirrels in the tree tops,
And the deer couched on the ground.

The quail and turkey, timid
The rabbit, sleek and tame,
Even the snakes and foxes
Were every one quite tame.

Each with his wife and babies,
(The ones whom I loved best),
Were quietly enjoying
That hour of peace and rest.

Against the luminous darkness
A star flashed out above,
And the insect world all round us
Began their songs of love.

The fireflies flitting swiftly
In myriads flitted and shone,
Each, with passion longed,
Seeking our own loved one.

With their lambs on the hill-top lying,
We saw the gentle sheep,
Thinking over their evening prayers
Before they went to sleep.

The horses grazed in the meadow,
Bleating soft and slow,
Wherever one saw the other
Felt that he must go.

Then came from the mighty forest,
Very sweet and silver clear,
The voice of a wood-thrush singing,
To his wife and children dear.

I said: "'Tis our Garden of Eden,
And we seem on the earth alone,
Now so far away are we hidden,
From the strife that is going on.

Ah, why must we wake to-morrow
To trouble and care and pain?
Let us soar up to yonder planet
And never return again!"

A Whale Story.
Those of our young readers who have read "Moby Dick" will find a confirmation of that sailor's yarn in the following adventure, told by Capt. Malsey, of the whaling bark Oceana, in a private note published in the New Bedford Mercury.

About three hundred miles north-west from St. Nicholas we saw whales close to the ship, lowered the boats as soon as possible, and soon the second boat struck a large whale. In a few minutes the third struck and got stove. The whale then went to the second mate and knocked the bottom out of his boat. The third boat struck a large whale, and his crew to the ship. Then sent him off to bring the second mate and his crew to the ship as quick as possible, as I saw the whale was taking ground. In the meantime the whale was at work on the starboard boat, and soon made a bad boat of her. After getting all hands on board, the first and second mates, being anxious to try again, went off, but did not get a chance to kill him. In fact, they had as much as they could do to keep clear of him; and seeing that he was a dangerous customer, I called the boats on board.

Not liking the idea of being done by a whale, I concluded to go at him with the ship; got all ready and made for him. Getting close, he turned and gave us a look, and then shot on her port bow with his jaw, his head coming in contact with the cutter, knocking it off, and tearing off considerable copper and shanking. The shock he gave the ship was heavy, taking some of the men off their feet, and giving them considerable of a fright. Had the whale struck the ship fair, he would have gone through her as easily as a cat would wet paper. About the time he struck I gave him a bomb, but it did not kill him, so I sent it at him again. This time he did not seem to take the taste of the ship, and so got out of the way as fast as he could. As he passed I gave him another bomb and two lances, but these failed to kill him. Again I tried him, but he kept clear of us.

It being late, I sent a boat off to make the wreck of the starboard boat secure to the line, to act as a drag, and went after the waist boat, now five miles to the leeward. After getting her on board, (it being dark) I worked to the windward all night, and the next morning saw him again with the wreck of the boat still fast to him. At 9:30 a.m. we lowered our bowsprit, and as easily as a cat would wet paper, about the time he struck I gave him a bomb, but it did not kill him, so I sent it at him again. This time he did not seem to take the taste of the ship, and so got out of the way as fast as he could. As he passed I gave him another bomb and two lances, but these failed to kill him. Again I tried him, but he kept clear of us.

In a small shop window in the Faubourg St. Germain, Paris, the advertisement of a patent inkstand in four languages. It is supposed to be the two other varieties of the French advertisement, as good as the English one which says: "People wishing to sell out at very good conditions, this patent right, which would offer much profit to those who will try to value it."

West Indies.

The Spanish steamer Montezuma arrived at Havana on the 12th of July, with news from Jamaica to the 11th inst., and later advice from many of the other British West India Islands.

JAMAICA.

The yellow fever had disappeared from Kingston and the weather, though exceedingly warm, was agreeable.

Wilson, the defrauder of the Trelawny Savings Bank, has been discovered and apprehended.

The ship Salamanca, of two hundred and fifty-two coals out of four hundred and thirty shipped at Calcutta, arrived in one hundred and twenty-one days. Many of the coals spoke English.

There being no available tonnage in port at Kingston, orders were sent to St. Thomas. Owing to the want of shipping very little business had been done during the week. The rates of freight were £3 for sugar to London, and £1 for, for instance.

The coffee plantations in the higher mountains were suffering from the windy state of the weather and excess of rain.

Labour was abundant. All public works were suspended, many of the government employees had not yet received their salaries. The public chest was empty. The prospects for July were still worrisome. There was general discontent prevailing, and a few of the inhabitants were longing for American annexation, in consequence of the bad management of the government and the heavy taxes which the people are burdened. The government had paid out some £10,000 within a week, taking up debentures and paying immigration claims, being determined to work upon the country in any manner involving the colony in any further debt. A "dead lock" had ensued, at least so far as the salaries were concerned.

In Kingston there was no improvement in mercantile matters. Some further involvements had turned up, and the creditors in some cases, not being satisfied with the accounts, had attachments issued, thereby placing everything in the hands of the official assignees for the benefit of all.

The Kingston Bank did very little. Provisions depressed, being in excess.

In Kingston the Consulates of Belgium, France and Norway isolated their flags at half mast when the news arrived about the execution of Maximilian. A great many of the public edifices had done the same.

The present system of tax collection in Jamaica cost £80,000 per annum. The new system was to cost £10,000.

Instead of the old system of tax gathering, the collector was in future to wait upon the negro at his residence, instead of the negro waiting upon the collector at his office.

ST. THOMAS.

It was generally believed that the United States would succeed in negotiating a transfer of the island as a coaling station for their ships.

TRINIDAD.

The dates are to June 29th. Several fires had broken out on the estates, and from the frequency of them it was feared that they were the work of incendiaries.

The crown lands were to be sold to small settlers at twenty shillings per acre for plantation land and forty for village land. In one district there were three thousand squatters, and the government had decided upon dislodging them.

The weather was too dry for the season, the crop over, and rain was wanted for cultivation, which had suffered from drought; tonnage ample for immediate wants, but tonnage dull, without prospect of any amelioration; the sugar crop considerable short.

ANTIGUA.

The dates from St. Johns are to the 27th June. The legislature was in session.

The prospects for next year's crops were very good. The rains had been continuous from the 19th of May to the 22nd of June.

BRITISH GUIANA.

The news dates from Georgetown are to the 26th of June.

The Legislature met on the 18th and closed on the 21st, after approving the different import bills. Shipped—Sugar 2,459 bbls; Cotton, 11 packs.

ST. KITTS.

The fall of rain in the island in May and June had been great, and in fact, it was greater than had been experienced for more than twenty years.

BARBADOS.

The United States steamer Montezuma (iron clad monitor), and the United States steamer Argus, were expected to call at Barbados about July 1.

Tonnage in fair supply. Some charters were made at £1 6s. 3d.

The dates from Bridgetown are to June 26. On the 18th there was a great windfall, by which mails were stopped, windows forced open, and cottages overturned.

The rainy season has set in, and the fall was greater than had been known for ten years.

The other day, at Toledo, Ohio, a cattle dealer received pay for a steer which had been sold to a butcher, and, rolling the steer into a small vat put there to be luted, as he thought, after he had luted the tobacco, but, with all his mastication, could expectorate none of the savory juices, and finally took the quid out of his mouth to look at it, when he found it affected me seriously; and she went unconsciously. Her visitors had heard no report, and it afterward appeared that no gun had been fired at that time on the place. News came, however, that her brother, residing a hundred miles away, was at that very hour fatally shot by the accidental discharge of his fowling piece while hunting a grove near his house.

European Items.

Moses Cohen, a colored man 103 years old, and worth $15,000, died the other day in Carolina county, Md.

Banner is erecting a magnificent marble building on William Street, New York, costing $25,000. It is for a publishing house.

Gen. Sherman's opinion of Walrusets is said to be: "Give 'em seven millions to take it back, and I'd be glad to get off so cheap."

In Milwaukee, with twenty-five scholars; now there are three hundred larger beer slops!

A private letter from Memphis puts the deaths in that city by cholera and kindred diseases at twenty-five each day. The telegraph says the disease is subsiding.

The New Orleans Republican reports eggs at six bits (60 cents) a dozen; but thinks the hens can afford to lay them at four bits a dozen as soon as city money is at par.

Prentiss says that Brownlow has always been kidding his Tennessee opponents "for hell." As they wouldn't do it he has accomplished his purpose by making a bell of the State they live in.

The wheat harvest is progressing finely in Western New York. All the way up into Alabama and Georgia good weather has accompanied the harvesting of the immense wheat crop.

The Union (N. Y.) Herald reports a silver party from London, from which the average yield of silver is estimated at $400 to a ton of ore—but those "rich veins" stories are getting played out.

The rye grass in Connecticut are said to be four feet long, and the heads of rye are six and seven inches long; and the reapers say they never thrived in any other rye before.

Every few miles in the Marquis of Donegal, is built, is owned by the Marquis of Donegal. Every citizen has to pay tribute to him. His income from ground rent is from one to two millions of dollars per annum.

The believers in the approaching millennium are now at Warehouse Point, Conn., anxiously waiting to go up. The understanding is that unless the present attempt is successful, there will not be another opportunity for two thousand years.

A suit has been entered against parties at Setauket, L. I., for violating the law by making hay on Sunday. One of the cases is aggravated by the fact that a mowing machine was driven with its almost intolerable noise during the church window during service.

Miss Buchanan, once rallying her cousin, an officer, on his courage, said: "Now, Mr. Harris do you really mean to tell me you can walk up to a cannon's mouth without any fear?" "Yes," was the prompt reply, "or a Buchanan's either," And he did.

Joseph Walker was under examination on Thursday last week, in Cheektown, N. Y., on a charge of murdering his wife and making away with her body. Joe was proved to be a pretty bad fellow, and the case looked dubious for him, until the missing wife came in court and testified that she wasn't dead at all.

There was once a very illiterate gentleman—One Peter Paterson—appointed as justice of the peace. The first day his clerk handed him a deposition to describe. How can I do without it?" was his query. "Nothing but sign your initials," was the reply. "My initials—what are they?" "Why, two P's," replied the clerk. "I don't know," said the magistrate, and he seized a pen, and, with desperation in his face wrote "Two p's!"

Mr. James J. Speelman, the American Baptist, has just received a letter from Frederick Douglass, in which he announces the arrival at Rochester of his lost brother, Perry, and family. The letter concludes as follows:—"The meeting of my brother after nearly forty years' separation, is an event altogether too affecting for words to describe. How unutterably accursed is slavery, and how unspakably joyful are the results of its overthrow! The search now being made of the happy countenance which I beheld only once before, after years of separation and sorrow, furnish a subject of the deepest pathos."

The letter concludes as follows:—"The meeting of my brother after nearly forty years' separation, is an event altogether too affecting for words to describe. How unutterably accursed is slavery, and how unspakably joyful are the results of its overthrow! The search now being made of the happy countenance which I beheld only once before, after years of separation and sorrow, furnish a subject of the deepest pathos."

Mr. James J. Speelman, the American Baptist, has just received a letter from Frederick Douglass, in which he announces the arrival at Rochester of his lost brother, Perry, and family. ## FROM TORONTO.

(By Special Telegram to the Daily Intelligencer.)

TORONTO, July 29th.

The steamer Algonia on her return from Fort William, struck on a sunken reef about forty miles above Sault Ste. Marie. The U. S. Revenue Cutter, Gen. A. Dix, went to her assistance, but was unable to get near enough to get her off. A tug was sent by the commander of the Dix, but up to today she had failed to get her off. A passenger who arrived at Sault Ste. Marie, said when he left they had been on the rocks two nights and nearly two days before the Dix arrived. Passengers all well and in good spirits.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE WEST RIDING OF THE COUNTY OF HASTINGS.

GENTLEMEN: When a Candidate seeks Parliamentary honors at the hands of his constituents, it is due to them, and customary, that he should state his political views. At the present crisis of our political history, when, as it were, we are entering upon a new and untried national state of existence, this duty becomes imperative.

As most of you are aware, I have always been on the Liberal side of politics, urging reform where reform was ascertained to be necessary, and conserving that which experience had proved to be wise and beneficial. Believing that the truth generally lies between extremes, I have taken for my guidance the maxims and doctrines of those politicians and statesmen who were governed by broad and enlightened views of their country's interests, and who equally avoided the extremes of the one side and reactionary tendencies on the other.

With those principles for my guidance, I have no hesitation in stating that the present Government, charged with the consummation of the great scheme of Confederation, should receive a fair trial and generous treatment from the hands of all liberal-minded and right-thinking individuals. To condemn them without giving them time and opportunity to initiate and develop a policy would be factions and unstatesmanlike, would throw the country into turmoil and confusion without an adequate object or reasonable motive, and endanger the stability of the young Dominion, whose youthful career will be watched with anxious solicitude by all those who are inspired by patriotic feelings.

If the Coalition of 1864 was justifiable to design the scheme of Confederation, that of 1867 is not less so, as none should be so well qualified to put the machine in good working order as those by whose genius it was contrived and through whose energies it was successfully constructed.

While saying this, however, I do not wish it to be understood, if I have the honor of being elected, that I will give to the Government a blind support—a position into which many are driven by the extreme discipline of party government. I shall hold myself equally free to oppose them should their policy and administration, in my judgment, not be in accordance with the true interests and prosperity of Canada.

As no human contrivance can be considered perfect, the working of the Imperial statute legalizing the Union of the Provinces may disclose certain defects, which it will be the duty of your representatives to correct. These shall receive my earnest consideration.

As the expenses of the Government will necessarily be increased under the new system, it will require the most rigid economy consistent with the public interests at stake, to keep the expenditure within the proper limits.

The construction of a canal connecting the waters of Lake Ontario with the head waters of the Bay of Quinte would, in my opinion, not only be of vast local benefit commercially, but also a military point of view it would be of the greatest importance; and as public lands were granted by Government many years ago for the completion of that important enterprise, I shall deem it my duty to see that the monies arising from the sale thereof be properly applied.

The Agricultural and manufacturing interests, which lie at the base of every country's greatness and prosperity, shall receive at my hands that consideration which their importance demands.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
JAMES BROWN.

Belleville, 10th July, 1866. 1068-4f

To the Electors of the Eastern Division of the County of Hastings.

GENTLEMEN—Having been repeatedly requested by a large number of the electors in your Division to allow myself to become a candidate for the Commons of Canada at a coming election, I have consented to comply with their wishes.

To most of you I am personally known, but will take the first opportunity of seeing as many of the electors as my time will permit. My sets during the time I have been in Parliament are before you, and from them you will be enabled to judge of the future.

In the formation of the Union of the Provinces, I believed that it would have been more in accordance with the principles of our Government to have first submitted the proposition to the people for their approval, and so voted, defeated, I voted for the Union Act, and shall in order that this great Dominion may take that position in the world to which its extent and population entitle it.

Under the new order of things about to be established, new responsibilities will arise which I shall endeavor to discharge with the least expenditure consistent with efficiency, keeping steadily in view the great future before us, and shall only rest when my labors for the Dominion of Canada extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

In the adjustment of the tariff I shall endeavor to remove the burthens as much as possible from the producer, especially the Agricultural portion, favoring any measure that may be of mutual benefit to the farmer and the consumer.

I have the honor to be
Your obedient servant,
ROBERT READ.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE principles on which this Company is founded contain all the elements required to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and afford every facility to intending assured.

One of the advantages secured by those who insure their lives with this Company is that the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement to Ten per Cent of the Net Life Income. This most important restriction shows that the interests of participating policy holders are closely and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion of premiums expended for Management must largely influence Profits and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1868, and all those who wish to participate in the profits should insure at once.

Gold News.

The following letter from the Hon. Bill. Flint will be read with gratification by all interested in the development of the mineral wealth of the back country. These recent assays have established the fact, beyond any doubt that gold and silver have been found in paying quantities in a large number of places in the back Townships outside of the Richardson mine, and that the Hastings Gold District promises to be one of the richest in the world.

Mr. Enyon, I took over to Madoc on Friday last three different specimens of rock to get assayed by Mr. Wyckoff.

The result, as reported to me by Mr. Wyckoff, is as follows:

10 lbs. assayed. This is from lot No. 1, 4th con. Elzevir, called the Mountain Mine. Yield: 24 grains gold, value per ton.....$22.00 5 1/2 silver.....1.46

Total per ton.....$23.46

This has been looked on by most of those who have seen it as a very poor sight, as the quartz veins lie between grey granite.

5 lbs. assayed from lot 3, 4th con. Elzevir, known as the Axe Factory mine. Yield: Gold, 2 grains, value per ton.....$18 Silver, 18.....1.45

Total per ton.....$19.63

The Harrison mine: Assayed 5 lbs. of rock. Yield: Gold.....$20.00 Silver.....14.75

Total per ton.....$34.75

The result is quite satisfactory, and shows that all the rock will pay well to work.

The Axe Factory mine. Every particle of the earthy substance washed gives a fair show of gold, and will pay well to wash out. I am now satisfied that not only gold, but silver, will be found in paying quantities, and that we have within the bounds of 600 acres millions of tons of ore that will yield silver, if not gold. Our prospects are good, and our mineral region will produce an abundant harvest. Time and patience will bring the mineral to light in such quantities as to astonish the world.

Yours truly,
BILL FLINT.

Belleville, 20th July, 1867.

Messrs. Waller and Ostrom, of Frankford, brought into the office to-day a fine nugget of gold and a piece of silver, the result of an assay made by Mr. Wyckoff on the 25th inst. The certificate of Mr. Wyckoff showed that ten pounds of ore was used, and that it produced at the rate of $24 of gold to the ton, and $4.43 of silver, making $28.43 to the ton. This ore came from lot No. 11, in the 7th concession Madoc, about two miles and a half south-east of the Richardson mine, where a shaft has been sunk to the depth of forty feet. The gentlemen above-named also showed two pieces of quartz, in which the gold was distinctly visible, which were obtained from the same shaft. Gold was found in this mine when at the depth of twenty feet, and now the owners think they have got a 'good thing,' which they evidently have if the rock yields $28 to the ton.

—The Rossin House, Toronto, was re-opened on Monday.
—People suffering from rheumatism will find Perry Davis' Pain Killer their best friend.

EXCURSION TO OTTAWA.—The Excursion party to Ottawa left by the Express this afternoon at four o'clock. The steamer had about 350 persons on board, and it is supposed that it will pick up an equal number at the different ports between this and Kingston. The Express is a good sea boat, has excellent accommodations, and from the arrangements that have been made to welcome the excursionists at Ottawa, we have no doubt they will have a jolly time throughout.

KILLED.—One of the laborers connected with DeHaven's Circus, while sleeping on top of one of the cars, rolled off near Trenton, and was killed. He was not missed until the train reached Trenton, and on parties going back, the body was found lying near the side of the track, and from the fact of the grass being torn up for some distance around the body, it is evident he had lived for some time after being thrown off.

THE MARMORA IRON MINES.—We learn that ten vessels freighted with iron ore from the Marmora mines leave Cobourg to-day, for ports on the south of Lake Ontario. The ore will be smelted on its arrival at Pittsburgh. We also hear that it is intended by the Grand Trunk to build smelting works at Cobourg for the purpose of supplying the rolling mills in this city with iron for rails.—Globe, July 30.

That looks like business. Ten vessels in one day freighted with ore leaving Cobourg must be a pleasant sight to the inhabitants of that old-fogy town. And with the prospect of extensive smelting works being erected, the large addition to the commerce of the town, the great increase in the consumption of produce, the employment of additional labor and capital, no wonder the business men are jubilant, no wonder their increases, rents go up and taxes go down. What the County of Hastings has lost by Mr. T. C. Wallbridge's burking Mr. Flint's Bill, we are just beginning to realize.

MADOC GOLD MINES.—We learn that another Gold Mine has been found on lot 17, in the township of Madoc, which bids fair to rival the celebrated Richardson Mines. Two shafts have been opened exposing a vein of quartz and dolerites from four to six feet in width, which on being analysed by Wyckoff in process was found to contain gold. The precious metal was found in every place full of the sand taken from the crushing of the rocks, and little doubt is felt that when the shafts have been sunk a few feet this mine will prove as rich and as valuable as any mine yet discovered, as the vein runs through a large portion of the lot. The property is owned by Messrs. B. Hutchins and J. C. Franck of this city.—Montreal Daily News.

This mine of which our former townsman, J. C. Franck, Esq., is the fortunate possessor, is the Gonsul mine referred to in our Madoc Correspondent's letter of the 29th inst. The assay by Mr. Wyckoff of the rock in this mine, showed that it was exceedingly rich.—We congratulate Mr. Franck on his good luck.

Riot at St. Hyacinthe.

The Montreal Gazette of yesterday contains a lengthy account of a disgraceful riot which occurred at St. Hyacinthe on Saturday. An excursion party of some 26 cars left Montreal on Saturday morning, and arrived at St. Hyacinthe about half-past ten. The party was accompanied by a number of rowdies from Griffintown, who originated the row. An eye-witness says: "I happened to be in the village near the railway station when the row began. It was commenced by about forty or fifty rowdies who accompanied the excursion from Montreal, and who paid their passage on the train. They attacked several French Canadians in the shed, and when they took refuge in the adjacent houses attacked them, also smashing and wrecking them to pieces. Action's Hotel was one of these, and was all but torn down. While the wrecking was going on, the townspeople came up, and a hand-to-hand fight occurred, in which the St. Hyacinthe people were driven down the street. At this juncture the militia rang, and the volunteers came out of their houses on either side of the street, ready armed and dressed. They formed across the street, and a number of special constables formed up in rear of them. The volunteers were in scarlet, and I suppose belonged to the light infantry. There must then have been 200 or 300 constables and townspeople with the volunteers. The Riot Act was then, I believe, read, and almost immediately afterwards I saw the volunteers, who were about 20 in number, fire a round of blank cartridge and charge with fixed bayonets up the street on the rowdies. These broke and ran, but rallied near the station, and suddenly made a rush and got behind the row. When another hand-to-hand fight occurred between them, the constables and the townspeople. While it was progressing, the volunteers formed up in line once more, and then came to the charge with their fixed bayonets which the rowdies again refused to face, and fled from, making tracks for the cars. 'We forgot to say,' continued our informant, 'that while the hand-to-hand fight was raging in the streets, a priest came up and endeavored to pacify the townspeople, but they would not listen to him, and unceremoniously shoved him aside. A number of respectable townspeople who also attempted to interfere, were just as, if not more roughly treated. I never saw such a hard battle. The rowdies stood up to it like men and fought like devils. I must say too—it is only fair to state that the Canadians fought just as desperately and never flinched. But, however, as soon as the Irishmen ran for the cars, the volunteers and crowd charged after them—the volunteers with fixed bayonets, and the crowd with sticks and stones. The cars, which they immediately assailed. As the row was standing peacefully by one of them, when one of the volunteers drove his bayonet right through his extended hand into the side of the car. A volley of musket fire was then directed at the train at this time by the volunteers.—They were then quite close up to it. One woman, the wife of a Grand Trunk man, working at St. Laurier, was shot through the left breast. They then moved this time with ball. I saw a hole from a ball some time afterwards through one of the panels of a car in the train, and was told that a revolver bullet had been picked up in another car. Some of the persons on the train were hurt by sticks and stones, and I really believe that if Mr. Deane had not ordered it to start, that a good many lives would have been lost, as the people in the cars were beginning to be exasperated at the pelting they were subjected to by the crowd from the town, and were getting out to face it. I have not the slightest doubt that had they done so they would soon have cleared the whole town. The townspeople seem to have thought that a disturbance would occur during the course of the day, and that the reason I think why the volunteers came out of the houses ready dressed and armed. It was said that the habitants who came to market during the day were requested to remain, and that special constables were sworn in at an early hour. This will account for the large number of persons who so speedily formed up in rear of the volunteers when they were called out. One of the St. Hyacinthe volunteers got his head broken before he was ordered out. I saw him in the ranks with his head bandaged up when the company charged up the street, and the bandage was covered with blood. The volunteers behaved properly when the row was going on in the streets, but they had no right to fire on the cars the way they did. A good many persons were left behind, and were set upon, but were protected by the volunteers, who put them on board the express train when it came along at night."

A VISIT TO THE RICHARDSON MINE.

For the Daily Intelligencer.

SIR,—Having had at length an opportunity of paying my long-extended and long-delayed visit to this now famous mine, and believing that your readers and the public generally will be gratified by having a plain and unvarnished statement of what I saw laid before them, I shall proceed to relate my observations and impressions respecting the mine.

I left Belleville on Thursday last by the 2 p.m. stage, and arrived at Madoc a little before 7 o'clock. After supper I took the stage for Eldorado, where I arrived a little after 9 p.m., and found Mr. Hardin (who is at present superintending the operation of getting the mine opened up and put in working order) at the American House, resting from the fatigues of the day, and was kindly welcomed by him to the infant city.

Early next morning we went up to the mine, which occupies the summit of a hill, or ridge, that rises to an elevation of from eighty to a hundred feet above the valley, or rather swamp, in which Lower Eldorado is situated; for, like some cities of more ancient birth, Eldorado boasts an upper and a lower town. Over the mouth of the shaft is built a house of stone and a little below, on the south slope of the hill, stands the log-shanty of Messrs. Powell and Snider, the original discoverers of the mine.—Around the whole runs a solid fence of cordwood piled some six feet high, and access is given by a gate on the side next the village.

The shaft is entered by a hole some 8 ft. by 4 ft. cut in the floor of the mine house, a little to the west of the centre, over which is erected a stout windlass with two handles, and from which depend two tubs that are lowered and raised alternately. After giving a glance to the heap of material already drawn from the mine, I placed my foot in one of the buckets, and soon stood beside Mr. Hardin, who had preceded me to the bottom of the shallow excavation of 18 ft., which has developed such a mass of substantial wealth; and it did not take a long examination to remove from my mind any lingering doubt, not of the richness, for that I never doubted after the first specimens which were shown me, but of the extent of the auriferous deposit.

I had formed an idea, from the accounts I received from a few persons who had visited the mine previous to the dispute as to its ownership, that the gold-bearing rock, or dolomite, as it is most commonly called, formed a vein of about two feet thick. I found it, however, to measure over six feet in thickness, and to be studded more or less closely with fragments of gold from the roof to the floor. This vein, it was ascertained, was carried out in good faith, from 40 to 42 degrees, and beneath it extends the crevice which has yielded such an extraordinary rich mineral. Into this opening Mr. Hardin thrust an iron bar upwards of four feet in length, and brought upon him the just indignation of a large number of those who warmly supported him in the election.

I understand his cry is "Taxation!" that you would have been taxed to build the Road if he had not killed "my bill." Now Mr. Wallbridge knows whenever he speaks of "Taxation" to the "people," that he speaks falsehood and nothing else, and I was present and heard me refuse to pledge the municipality to Mr. Reekie. He knows well no such thing was contemplated by me, and I assure you I never advocated "Taxation" to build the Road.

heel left on the south side of the shaft, to make a level floor for his tubs to rest upon, believing, as the others did, that the best of the rock had been reached.

The first blast, however, which was put in on Friday morning, disclosed the important secret that the tale tale floor was not a bed-rock, but merely an interpolated or intermediary layer of about two feet thick, and that beneath it exists another stratum of dolomite. I brought a piece of this underlying dolomite home with me, and by crushing and washing obtained a show both of spangles and of flour gold. From this I think there is reason to infer that there is a second mine under the floor of the first one.

A second blast, which was put in the north-west corner of the shaft, disclosed another opening in the crevice, and which Mr. Hardin could thrust the iron bar before mentioned to its full length in a nearly vertical direction, showing that the crevice matter extends further than was anticipated.

Several times during the day I washed the dirt which adhered to a few of the smaller fragments of stone sent up in the tubs, and in every instance obtained a fine show both of scale and flour gold, some of the spangles being of the size of the scales of an ordinary perch, or from one to four grains weight. Mr. Hardin also got a splendid show from the sweepings of the floor where some of the stones had been thrown down.

Altogether, the result of my inspection convinces me that the Richardson mine far exceeds my highest expectations, and in my opinion gives reason to hope that its extent may prove in some measure commensurate with its richness.

Not only the mine itself, but the hill upon which it is situated, appears to abound in the precious metal. Observing an abandoned mine, about fifteen yards from the present mine, I requested Mr. Wm. Davis, harness-maker, of this town, to descend into the same, and scrape out a portion of loose matter from a small crevice, which I observed under a projecting stone, where a dolomite fragment had not mingled with it. He obligingly did so, and got out as much as filled a small lobster can about two-thirds full—about three-fourths of a pint of dirt. I washed this in the presence of Mr. Davis, Mr. Hugh Stevenson, and Mr. Wm. Davis, and got out some both of scale and flour gold. The depth from which it was taken was about four feet from the surface.

I paid a flying visit to the mines on the Moore lot, the Eldorado, the Courtenay, the Bonland & Wilcox, and the original Moore mine, now the property of Mr. O'Brien. I am inclined to think that the two last named present the best appearance.

I also had the pleasure of a short conversation with Dr. Otway, who is fitting up a laboratory at Upper Eldorado, and who gives it as his deliberate opinion that there does not exist under the sun a country so rich and so varied in its mineral developments as this district of Canada.

I have only to state further, that I brought with me from the mine a few fragments of the characteristic black mineral, which is known, whether rightly or not, as lignite, and submitted it to assay. The total weight was thirty grains (30), from which I obtained one grain and seven tenths (1 and 7/10ths) of gold, or at the rate of 1,669 Troy ounces, value $13.89 to the ton of 2,000 lbs, reckoning the gold at $20 per ounce.

In conclusion, I have to say that in writing the foregoing lines, I have endeavored to shake off all the excitement and tendency to exaggeration which the contemplation of so much wealth is calculated to produce. With this view, I have mainly confined myself to stating facts; leaving it to my readers to draw those inferences, in which should I indulge, I should fear that my letter would resemble more the chapter of the Arabian Nights' Entertainments, than what it really is, namely, a plain statement of Canadian facts.

I am, Sir,
Yours very truly,
JAMES BELL, Practical Mineralogist and Assayer.

TO THE ELECTORS OF NORTH HASTINGS.

GENTLEMEN,—Mackenzie Bowell, Esq., and T. C. Wallbridge, Esq., having entered the field as candidates for the Commons of Canada, it devolves upon you to decide which of the two shall be elected.

Allow me to state that I shall give my vote and influence to Mr. Bowell, and trust that we may so far agree in reference to the choice of candidates as to unite in successfully returning Mr. Bowell by a large majority.

At the last election I supported Mr. Wallbridge against Mr. Bowell. I then thought, from Mr. Bowell's position and influence together with the large amount of property held by the family, that his election would work for the good of the County. But I was mistaken, and now desire to remedy the error by leaving Mr. Wallbridge at home to reflect on his past conduct.

Had Mr. Wallbridge discharged his duty faithfully in reference to our Railway Bill, had that matter been carried out in good faith, Mr. Wallbridge would not have had an opponent in the coming election. His betrayal of a measure, fraught with such interests to our two Counties, has brought upon him the just indignation of a large number of those who warmly supported him in the election.

I understand his cry is "Taxation!" that you would have been taxed to build the Road if he had not killed "my bill." Now Mr. Wallbridge knows whenever he speaks of "Taxation" to the "people," that he speaks falsehood and nothing else, and I was present and heard me refuse to pledge the municipality to Mr. Reekie. He knows well no such thing was contemplated by me, and I assure you I never advocated "Taxation" to build the Road.

Mr. Wallbridge killed my Bill in 1865 in order to please his brothers, and to enable them to lay up mineral lands, or for the purpose of enabling the Cobourg people to get their Road, (as they have already done), to the great and lasting injury of our County. His cry has been that the people of Cobourg could not build the Road, they were so much in debt that they could never advance one dollar towards it.

Had Mr. Wallbridge carried my Bill through Parliament, we would not have lost our chance of a Railroad, nor the Marmora ore beds, nor the 500,000 acres of valuable mineral lands, the sale of which would have built our Road. Instead of the iron horse rolling out its cars loaded with valuable iron ore to Cobourg, those ore would have to pass through our County and be shipped at Belleville. The supplies to carry on the work would be drawn from our own County instead of from Cobourg. We would have drawn the trade of the rear of Northumberland and Peterborough, instead of losing our own to enrich outsiders. Marmora Village would have been the head of the operations, instead of Belmont, where the works are going on, and where a new village is springing up, to the injury of Marmora. All these losses may justly be laid to Mr. Wallbridge. And shall we now give him support and again place him in the position to do us, if possible, still farther injury? I trust the verdict at the polls will be against him.

Mr. Wallbridge has constantly set before you that Cobourg could not build the Road, but it has done so, and consequently he has failed to fall back on the cry of "Taxation." How is it with Cobourg? The people, by their energy, have got the Road built by foreign capital, and now they see a chance of a less onerous taxation, and from reports, have actually done so for 1867. Now, being a capital has built their Road and is used in bringing out the ore to Cobourg, what was there to prevent foreign capital, with a grant of 500,000 acres of land, from building our Road, and that free of one dollar's cost to any elector in the County? The answer is, Nothing to hinder.

I am informed Mr. Wallbridge endeavors to ridicule my "piety," that he tries to connect my name with "vandalism, rascality, robbery, and corruption," in order to carry his point. That it is a great pity that he also endeavors to lecture on "Total Abstinence." Is it possible that you, gentlemen Electors, can support a man's representative who is so foolishly ignorant of the people's piety, to hold them up to derision, who goes so far as to announce himself a "free thinker." What is a free thinker? Can you, Total Abstinence supporters, encourage the man, who by his life and actions shows he is foreign to the cause of humanity, which you in common with myself advocate, and cannot others who do not see as we do in reference to the Temperance cause, to say that their interests are not safe in the hands of such a man.

By my Reform friends, those that have stood nobly by me for a long series of years, I would say, when have you found me untruthful? The answers you have been in a great measure, instrumental of placing upon me, because you believed in my desire of doing all the good I possibly could for my adopted country. Were you so unfortunates as to fall into their power? I trust therefore that you will still find that I am your best friend in advising you not to support Mr. Wallbridge, but to give your earnest and warm support to Mr. Bowell.

I am, yours, &c.,
BILL FLINT.

Belleville, July 30th, 1867.

Telegraphic News.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

PARIS, July 29.—The Moniteur this morning declares that the rumors of war which now prevail on the continent are without foundation.—It says that the existing relations of France with all the European powers are eminently peaceful. It denies that the formation of new military camps is contemplated, and says the reserves of artillery and cavalry horses are to be sold to the farmers in the departments.

LONDON, July 29, noon.—The slanders of the repeated denials put forth in the Moniteur of the war reports now current in Europe, is doubted here. The London Times, in its city edition, this morning, is of the opinion that the alarm created by these warlike rumors will have the effect to check trade generally until next spring.

VIENNA, July 29.—It is denied that the Hungarian national military organization, known as the Honveds, or National Guards, is to be re-established. Though several members of the Honveds of 1848 have been seen here in Hungary, with the object of effecting a re-organization, no action has yet been taken by either the Austrian or Hungarian Governments, to that end.

LIVERPOOL, July 29.—The steamships "Alpen" and "Etna," from New York on the 17th inst., has arrived.

QUEENSTOWN, July 29.—The steamship "City of Paris," from New York, July 29, touched here to-day, and proceeded on her voyage to Liverpool.

GLASGOW, July 29.—The steamer "Britannia," from New York on the 18th, has arrived.

LONDON, July 29, noon.—Consols 94; Bonds 72 1/2; A. C. 76 1/2.

LIVERPOOL, July 30.—Cotton quiet and unchanged. Breadstuffs dull. Corn 55 1/2.

LONDON, July 30, noon.—The steamship "Hibernian," from Quebec, has arrived.

—The butes, says Josh Billings, are a luxury, inasmuch as they leave a feller a forgetful of his other miseries.

of Lords should have escaped the notice of our novelists, and accordingly we hear that Mr. Cyrus Redding has made it the basis of an interesting novel under the appropriate title of "A Wife and Not a Wife."

A meeting of leading citizens was held in Shebrooke a few days ago for the purpose of deliberating on the advisability of establishing a cotton factory. Colonel Pomroy presided. Mr. Heneker stated that Col. A. G. Brady, of Connecticut, had offered $40,000 for a cotton mill, provided the inhabitants raise $80,000 more. Resolutions to that effect were adopted, and a site subsequently selected on the Magog. Should the scheme go into operation, the mill will contain 75 looms and 3,000 spindles.

Horatio Graham, Lakeport, Pa., owned a quantity of land there and conceived the idea of sinking an oil well, which he did, but found no oil. He determined to conquer fate, so one dark night he smuggled over from Canada several barrels of crude oil, and emptying the contents into the dry well, gave out next morning that he had realized his hopes, for he had "struck oil." The report spread like wildfire, and the adjacent land sold at enormous prices, but no oil flowed. The trick was discovered and Graham arrested.

Experiments have been made at Paris with a view to transmit letters from one post-office to another by means of subterranean pipes, the parcels being propelled by atmospheric pressure. Several offices are now on the point of being connected by the new system, and it is said that the whole of the post-offices in Paris will eventually receive their letters by this process.

Two French journalists have had the courage to refuse a challenge. One of the sons of Granier de Cassagnac wished to fight M. Duchene, a contributor to the Courier Francaise, because he contended that the family name should be written thus: Granier (de Cassagnac). M. Duchene would not fight on such a point. M. Anatole Duruy, son of the Minister of Public Instruction, conceiving he had grounds of quarrel with M. Weiss, challenged him at a personal interview, and when the professor refused to meet any more, refused to fight him, Duruy struck him a blow.

In England a mounted man recently overtook a clergyman and shot at him, and afterward fired at and wounded two others. The English papers say that "it is probably the mad freak of a gentleman of high position."

Mississippi papers say that a terrible disease, similar to the cholera has broken out among the freedmen on the plantations along the Yazoo River. This disease has every appearance of cholera, though confined itself to the freedmen. On one plantation eleven died during a few days; on another four, and on another place five died during one week, and numbers are sick. The disease it is thought, was brought on by the negroes eating large quantities of catfish half-cooked and seasoned.

An Omaha paper speaks of Olympia Brown as "a weather beaten, crossgrained, sour, snappish, fanatical, crabbed, skinny, smoked looking old beldane from Vermont has been making speeches in Kansas lately in favour of female suffrage."

A little girl, the daughter of Mrs. Roach, of Albany who had been missing for two years, was discovered at a Gipsy encampment located at Tivoli Hollow. The child is somewhat changed in appearance, but still the identity could not be mutilated.

Twelve years ago twelve gentlemen met at a dinner party given by an Alabama planter. Before ten years were passed ten were dead. General T. F. Meagher, the eleventh, was lately drowned at Fort Benton, and Girard Hewitt, of St. Paul, Minn., is now the only survivor.

A patent has been granted in England to a certain Mr. Ziegler, to manufacture the vital fluid, he calls it. To make it, he takes a bladder full of liquid ammonia, and places this in a vessel containing molasses. At the neck of the bladder is a silk cord attached, and another such cord hangs in the molasses. When the end of these silk cords are joined the current of the vital fluid is established.

The Ottawa as a Pleasure Route.

Mr. Massey Tracy Walworth, in a letter to the Home Journal, thus describes the scenery of the Ottawa River:

"The trip up the Ottawa from Montreal to the falls, at the new seat of government, a distance of one hundred and twenty miles, is worthy the attention of those tourists who have exhausted the northern scenery of the States. The river is alternately wild, serene, solemn, and beautiful, spreading into broad lakes, dotted with islands, rushing between grassy peninsulas and again serenely moving amid the forests, whose dark shadows fall into its mirror. Mountain peaks, rocky bluffs guard it, and silver rapids ripple its surface. It is a charm by day, and a silver wonder by moonlight. As the glories of the sunset fade away from its western bank, the clear, sweet music of the whippoorwill rings out from the bordering shrubbery, and on the dark background of its forests glimmer the insect lights of the wilderness. The firefly here swings golden and green along the shore, clearer, brighter, and more continuous than in the haunts of men. It is a noble stream, seven hundred miles in length, and navigable above the falls of Ottawa one hundred and twenty miles, with the exception of some half dozen rapids which have to be passed in car or stage. It will ever be remembered as the haunt of the beautiful, serene, and the grand."

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, JULY 31.

FROM OTTAWA.

(By Special Telegraph to the Daily Intelligencer.)

THE EXCURSION TO OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, July 31.

The excursionists from Belleville, about 400 in number, arrived here at 11 a.m. They were met at the depot by the mayor and a committee of the St. Andrew's Society of Ottawa, by whom they were welcomed to the city. They then proceeded to their respective hotels, and at noon re-assembled at the Parliament square and were escorted by the committee through the Parliament buildings. At 2 p.m. the party were conveyed in carriages to view the Chaudiere Falls and Suspension Bridge, with the lumbering establishments on Victoria Island and the celebrated timber slides. On their return, the excursionists will embark on the steamer "Alexander," and be carried a short distance down the river to view the Rideau Falls, the residence of the Governor General, the Gatineau River, and other points of interest.

Mr. H. G. VERNER has been trying some interesting assays of the blue brick clay at Madoc Village, and is said to have obtained some satisfactory results.

QUINCE GOLD DISTRICT.—The sum of $60,000 has been realized by the Crown Lands Department by the sale of lands in the Hastings Gold Region since gold was discovered.

THE ELECTIONS.—A Cabinet Council is to be held in Ottawa on Friday, and it is very likely the writs will be issued on Saturday, the 3rd of August. The elections will probably take place between the 19th and 30th of August.

THE "NORTH AMERICAN."—This vessel, which was cut off by the Austrian, and was being towed to Quebec, had to be run into Gaspe harbor, on account of a heavy gale, where she was beached. It is said there will be no trouble in bringing her to Quebec.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE.—Blackwood for July contains the following papers:—Brownlow, part VII.; The American Desk and the Financial Prospects of the Union; The Eastern Trip of two Ophiophobists; A New Life of Napoleon I.; The Royal Academy and other Exhibitions; Cornelius O'Dowd; Practices and Phryges; The Progress of the Question (Reform); The Death of Sir Archibald Alison. Republished by Leonard Scott & Co., New York, at 25¢ a year.

TROUBLE IN TENNESSEE.—The State election in Tennessee takes place to-morrow, and serious trouble is apprehended. Already several riots have taken place in that State, which have been attended with loss of life; and so apprehensive are the authorities of trouble that the United States troops in Kentucky have been distributed throughout Tennessee in such places where trouble was expected. If "Brownlow," the Governor of the State, was replaced by a decent man, there would be no trouble there. His fanaticism has produced the irrepressible conflict now going on in that State, and if he does not plunge the State into a general war, it will not be his fault.

MILITARY FUNERAL.—Private F. Harrigan, No. 7 Company 3rd Batt., G. T. R. B., was buried this afternoon at the Roman Catholic Cemetery. The two Companies of Grand Trunk Volunteers at the Station turned out in full force, and marched first to the Church and then to the burial ground, where the usual military ceremony was gone through, three volleys being fired in the air. Deceased was a young man very much respected, and had been in the Volunteer service since the formation of the Grand Trunk Brigade. He had his right leg broken about ten days ago, whilst coupling cars, and the immediate cause of his death, we believe, was mortification. He leaves a sorrowing mother and father, of whom he was the main support, to mourn his loss.

TRAMWAY ACCIDENT.—A telegram from Bowmansville, dated yesterday, says:—"Mr. John Smart, son of, of Port Darlington, an old resident, widely known and universally esteemed, was, with his grand-daughter Agnes, daughter of Mr. George Smart, of Lindsay, killed on the Grand Trunk Railway to-day. They had just left the family residence in a covered carriage, when crossing the track a little north of the house the carriage was struck by a locomotive on a freight train going west. Mr. Smart was dragged, with portions of his carriage, about thirty yards, and was badly mangled. The train passed over Miss Smart, mutilating her in a frightful manner, while the carriage with its contents were destroyed. The horse was unhurt."

—The steamship Delfin sailed from Quebec for England, on Monday, with the 7th Royal Fusiliers.

The East Riding.

J. J. FARLEY, Esq., of Thurlow, announces himself a candidate for the House of Commons for the East Riding of Hastings, in opposition to the Hon. Robert Read. The opponents of Mr. Read have been trying for some time to get Mr. Farley to come out, but we did not suppose he would allow himself to become their victim. Of course it is done to annoy Mr. Read, for neither Mr. Farley nor any of his injudicious friends have the least idea that he or any other person has the ghost of a chance to defeat Mr. Read for the Commons.

The New-Fledged Coalitionists.

Mr. T. D. Farley's organ in this town says he is prepared to give a fair trial to the Ontario Government, and therefore claims for him the support of coalitionists. Without any disrespect to the editor of that journal, we are not disposed to accept his statement. If Mr. Farley has changed his views on this question since he accepted the nomination at the hands of the anti-coalition Convention, let us hear from himself, and let us have the reasons why he has so quickly turned this political scrum. We have very little faith in sudden conversions any way, still less are we disposed to place confidence in conversions which do not give some evidence of their genuineness. It is not enough for one of Mr. Farley's supporters to say, because he has been a "life long political friend of the Premier's," that therefore he will support him. Dr. Hope, another supporter, and with a life-long political friend of the Premier, and to whom Mr. Farley is indebted for his nomination, is bitterly opposed to the Coalition, and goes the whole Brownie figure. And as it was at a caucus at Dr. Hope's own house where the "Liberal" candidates for the West Riding were prepared, we have every reason to doubt that Mr. Farley is disposed even to give a fair trial to Sandfield Macdonald's Government. We have every reason to believe, however, that he is in Parliament he would obey the behests of his political god-father, and help George Brown to "kick the traitors out," as that gentleman expressively terms the effort to defeat the Ontario Ministry. Conversions for expediency sake must be looked upon with great distrust, and until Mr. Farley gives some ground for the faith that he professes is in him, he cannot find fault if his professions are regarded with suspicion. Men would rather trust those who come out flat-footed, as Mr. Graham did in the start, and proclaim himself a Coalitionist, than the man who had not the courage to say anything about the question in his address, and who beats about the bush until he finds it polite to declare himself in favor of one side or the other. Let him stick to his anti-coalition views and his anti-Coalition party, and he will be entitled at least to the credit of being consistent.

The Maritime Provinces.

From our exchanges from the Maritime Provinces received this morning, we glean some facts of interest.

The manner in which the Government of Prince Edward is managed is causing great dissatisfaction. The Islander pronounces the Executive Council, which is composed of professedly Liberals, as an "extraordinary association," and says: "A more unpopular Government than the present never existed in the colony. It is not satisfactory to any party, and the sooner it falls to pieces the better for the Island."

The Orangemen of Prince Edward had a grand demonstration at Charlottetown on the 12th of July. The numbers present are set down at over 2,000, and they came from all the counties in the Island. Such a display was never before witnessed in that Province. A local paper reporting the proceedings, says: "Several Roman Catholics were present at the Tea, and seemed to enjoy themselves like the rest."

The St. John's (New Brunswick) News says: "There have been quite a number of strangers in our city the present week from almost all quarters, but especially from Ontario. Yesterday Mr. Brown, one of the leading merchants of the west, doing business in Hamilton, and a number of other mercantile gentlemen who have been making the round trip by the way of the Gulf, were in our midst. They expressed themselves highly pleased with the condition of our country and the character of its people."

The destruction of fish in the rivers by nets is causing considerable discussion. The St. John's News says that in the salmon rivers this season the salmon were unable to enter them, in consequence of nets set, overlapping each other at the very mouth of them. It says: "Miles of nets are drifted down as far as Point Lepreau and the Wolves, and that salmon have been taken at the rate of over 1,000 per day; this fully accounts for the serious falling off in our harbor fishery, and calls loudly for some preventive measure." The same paper speaks of the wholesale destruction of trout by the means of nets. In a stream in Albert County, one of the finest in the Province, one net took out 600 of the largest trout. "Such drains upon their stock of fish," the paper says, "no stream can stand," and it calls loudly for legislative interference.

A Nova Scotia paper says that Messrs. Snow & Co., of Boston, have arranged with the Provincial Government to run a steamer once a week during the remainder of the season between Yarmouth and Halifax, touching at the principal ports between those places.

A St. John paper contains the following piece of information: "One of our largest manufacturers informs us that he can sell better boots at fifteen cents a pair less than the Montrealers, and have a first-rate profit; and he proposes sending a traveller to Montreal to take orders to supply the Canadian market. No doubt others will follow."

The Hudson's Bay Company.

INTERESTING PARTICULARS.

Below we give some extracts from a letter written by a resident in the Saskatchewan district:—

"Fort Edmonton is considerable of a place, under the superintendence of Mr. William J. Christie, a chief-factor of the Hudson's Bay Company. It is the largest port in the district. A large business is carried on there in the fur trade. There is also a large farm, with hundreds of cattle, horses and pigs. Edmonton furnishes some 20 new barges every spring to do the inland navigation business of the company. These carry away in May the fur returns of the winter in this region. At the same time most of the able-bodied men leave, and the Fort is left entirely defenceless; the only parties left behind the gentlemen in charge, a few boat-builders, ploughmen and cowherd."

"Rocky Mountain Fort is superintended by Mr. Richard Hardisty, a chief-trader of the Company. He is at present busy building up a new fort where Mr. Bain's post was burned down by the Blackfoot Indians a few years ago. But what is the use, unless better protection is afforded than at present or than the time when the old fort was mercilessly burnt down?"

"Carlton Fort is superintended by chief-trader Arthur Pruden. It is the depot in September for all the goods to be used in the Saskatchewan region during the coming winter. Considering this, it is really very poorly fortified or protected. I believe 30 or 40 Indians, well armed, could seize this fort with its valuable contents for September. Last June (1866) one of the Company's clerks, Mr. Donald McDonald, got shot there by the Blackfeet, and though he is likely to recover, he has never been able to do anything since. The Company's employees are, in fact, entirely at the mercy of the Indians at present."

"Fort Pitt was partly robbed by Blackfeet last year, and the hunters living in the vicinity were robbed of seven horses, a number of carts, and other things."

"Now, is it not too bad to be thus at the mercy of savages? The Company has to pay every scamp among them to keep quiet, and when mischief has been done, the Company pays them to do it no more. Enough is spent in this city to maintain forty or fifty soldiers at each fort—a force quite sufficient to maintain peace and overawe the Indians at present. The Creeks complain loudly that their lands are being settled upon without being paid for, and apply their complaints even to the missionaries. This will yet cause trouble, and the sooner some kind of treaty is made the better. But who is to make it?"

"Prince Albert Colony is the Saskatchewan River. Settlement is only beginning, but all that is needed to make it a great place is to get in people of the right stamp; farmers, merchants, and chief-factors, etc. Mr. Christie has done away with the use of spirits in this district in carrying on the Company's business, and deserves credit for it; but some private traders continue to bring it in, and work mischief. Some of the Company's officers threaten that if private traders don't cease this, they will use liquor, in which case we here would have a bad time of it. All would suffer—those who sell the liquor as well as buyers and innocent on-lookers like your humble servant. With the entire exclusion of the liquor traffic, the planting of schools and churches, and the influx of immigration, this noble Saskatchewan country, so richly endowed by nature, would soon attain a most important position."

—Mr. Jackson has declined to become a candidate for re-election in South Grey.

—On Saturday night a freight train of forty-six cars on the Buffalo Lake Shore Railway took fire about three miles from Brockton. Twenty four cars and five hundred barrels of oil were burned. Four hundred feet of railway track was completely destroyed. Heavy rains and even car wheels were melted and bent in every shape.

—The Roman Catholic Vicar General Gleason, administrator of the Diocese of Buffalo, refused to perform the funeral services over the remains of the Fenian Lynch, who died on Saturday from the effect of wounds received at the battle of Ridgeway. The body was carried into the cathedral by six sergeants in Fenian uniform, but upon the refusal of the Vicar General to perform the service was carried out again, followed by a large part of the congregation. Read Centre O'Day made prayers at the grave. There was considerable excitement among the Fenians and Catholics.

—The Russian Count goes into mourning for our weeks for Maximilian.

—The troop ship Sirocco has reached Quebec from Malta, with the 3rd Brigade Royal Artillery on board, to relieve the 10th Brigade.

—The colored population of Toronto are taking steps to duly honor the 1st of August, the anniversary of the emancipation of the West Indian slaves by the British Government.

—One of the new mechanical toys in Paris is a boat with a rower. The rower exactly imitates a real man, and works a pair of sculls with great energy.

—Mr. McGee challenged Mr. Devlin, the other day, to meet him in a public hall and discuss the public questions of the day. Mr. Devlin accepted, but afterwards backed down.

—Zion Church (Dr. Wilkes), in Montreal, was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning last. It was a fine building, and including fixtures, was probably worth $40,000. It was insured for $19,000.

—The annual loss by the wear of coin is estimated at one-tenth of one per cent, and the consumption by the arts and loss by fire and shipwreck at $3,000,000 a year.

—The Atlantic Cable Company now proposes to send messages from New York to foreign countries in the language of those countries.

—The operators to be employed are to be good linguists.

—At a christening, while the minister was giving the certificate, he happened to say, "Let me see, this is the 30th." "The thirtieth!" exclaimed the indignant mother; "indeed it is only the eleventh!"

American Invoices—Discounts.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT, CUSTOMS,

QUEBEC, 6th March, 1883.

IT is directed by the Hon. The Finance Minister, that hereafter Weekly Notices be published and furnished to Collectors of Customs, as to the rate of discount to be allowed on American Invoices, which is to be in accordance with the price of gold as represented by Exchange, at a rate equal thereto.

Such notices to appear every Saturday in the Canada Gazette.

R. S. M. BOUCHETTE.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT, CUSTOMS,

OTTAWA, June 8, 1887.

IN accordance with the above Order, Notice is hereby given that the authorized discount is declared to be this day 23 per cent, which percentage of deduction is to be continued until next Weekly Notice, and to apply to all purchases made in the United States during that week.

THE principles on which this Company is founded contain all the elements required to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and afford every facility to intending assureds.—

One of the advantages secured by those who

insure their lives with this Company is that

the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement to Ten per Cent. of the Net Life Income.

This most important restriction shows that the interests of participating policy holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion of premiums expended for Management

Must Largely Influence Profits and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1888, and all those who wish to participate in

LANDS.

The following are the Regulations—

DEPARTMENT OF CROWN LANDS.

Ottawa, 12th July, 1886.

REGULATIONS for the sale of Mineral Lands, approved by His Excellency the Governor General in Council.

INFERIOR METALS.

1. That each regular mining tract in unsurveyed territory shall consist of blocks of two hundred or four hundred acres, and that the dimensions of each regular mining tract of four hundred acres be forty chains in front by one hundred chains in depth, and smaller tracts, except on lakes and rivers, in the same proportion. The following are the outlines to be North and South, and East and West, and conformably to the unsurveyed territories of Upper

Canada and parallel to the outlines of the Township surveying.

2. That mining tracts bordering upon lakes and rivers shall have frontages upon such waters and shall be subject to all claims to the public rights in navigable or fishable waters; and that mining tracts, so situated shall have a mean depth of one hundred chains back from such river or lake (exclusive of rock allowance of

one chain in width, which shall be reserved along the

margin of such river or lake in conformity with the

3. That mining tracts in unsurveyed territory shall be surveyed by a Provincial Land Surveyor, and conveyed with some known point in previous surveys (so that the tract may be laid down on any of the maps of the territory) at the cost of the applicants, who shall be required to furnish with their applications to the surveyor

the names of the applicants, and the names of the Department, and pay the price of one dollar per acre to the Department of Crown Lands at the time of making application.

4. That in surveyed townships, the present indications of mineral value shall be used in the above conditions, and not less than one dollar per acre in any township, and

the same price as the other lands in the township when

it is more than one dollar per acre.

5. That mining lands in surveyed townships be sold by the local authority for cash, but all lands in unsurveyed

territory shall be sold by the Department.

6. The above regulations do not apply to mines of gold and silver.

GOLD AND SILVER.

7. That in selling the lands in the gold mining division the Department is to terminate as far as possible between purchasers for actual mining purposes, and those for mining or speculative purposes; selling to the former for the present price and large (paid) to be increase to $25 an acre, under the order of his August

1886, when actually worked (or gold), and to sell, after for one dollar an acre, cash.

8. That in all Letters Patent for lands, the clause reserving all mines of gold and silver be conformable to the above regulations.

10. All previous regulations inconsistent with the above are repealed.
